AIR FORCE DEPARTMENTCENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.

7th December 1971.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the British Empire Medal for Gallantry (Military Division) to the undermentioned:

P4177768 Sergeant Thomas Benjamin DOLMAN, Royal Air Force Regiment.

Sergeant Dolman, a fireman, has served at Royal Air Force Laarbruch since 3rd July 1968 and has been employed on crash/fire duties since his arrival.

On Friday, 28th May 1971, he was not on duty, but was nevertheless assisting in the Fire Section preparations for the Station Open Day on Saturday, 29th May 1971. A Dornier light aircraft of the Royal Air Force Laarbruch Flying Club was rehearsing a demonstration flying exercise for the Open Day and Sergeant Dolman foresaw a possible accident developing from one of the aircraft manoeuvres. He immediately ran to the nearest light service vehicle and drove at high speed towards the possible impact area, collecting another off-duty fireman on the way. As anticipated by Sergeant Dolman, the aircraft failed to recover from the manoeuvre and crashed. Almost immediately it burst into flames. Sergeant Dolman, who was dressed in light civilian clothing, did not hesitate and, completely disregarding his own safety, attempted to rescue a crew member, beating out burning clothing with his hands. It was not until after he had done this that the fire vehicle arrived and provided foam cover. Assisted by the other off-duty fireman, he continued the rescue operation, even though his training would make him very aware of the serious risk of the aircraft's fuel tanks exploding. There is no doubt that Sergeant Dolman's prompt and brave actions would have resulted in the live rescue of the aircrew had they not been killed instantly on impact. This daring attempt at rescue showed superb courage. Sergeant Dolman placed the needs of others before his own safety in a situation inherently most dangerous. His bravery, outstanding sense of duty and splendid example were of the highest order.
