MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE FISHERIES AND FOOD

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES FOR SCOTLAND

Diseases of Animals Act 1950

Notice is hereby given in pursuance of section 85 (3) of the Diseases of Animals Act 1950, that the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food and the Secretary of State for Scotland, acting jointly, have made the following Order:

Statutory Instruments 1971 No. 2045

The Rabies (Importation of Mammals) Order, 1971 (made 15th December 1971)

For purposes connected with the prevention of the introduction of rabies into Great Britain this Order, which came into operation on 10th January 1972, extends the application of the Diseases of Animals Act 1950, to the ten orders of mammals (excluding man and domestic dogs and cats) prescribed in Part I and Part II of Schedule 1. In respect of such animals, the Order imposes a general prohibition on their importation (otherwise than from Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man), and thereby in general requires any such animals which are brought to Great Britain from overseas in contravention of such prohibition to be slaughtered on landing.

However, the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food, in relation to England and Wales, and the Secretary of State, in relation to Scotland, are given power to allow such animals into the country in accordance with the terms and conditions of a licence previously granted, but, except in exceptional circumstances, they may only be landed at prescribed ports and airports from which they must be moved without delay in accordance with the terms of the licence to authorised quarantine premises.

The Order provides for the majority of the animals to which it applies to be detained and isolated in quarantine for a period of at least six months after landing, but in the case of vampire bats, their entry into the country is only permitted on the basis of their being quarantined for life.

The Order also contains detailed provisions relating to the movement of animals during quarantine, the licensing of carrying agents and of quarantine premises, the control of animals (including the additional Orders of mammals specified in Part III of Schedule 1) which have come into contact with imported animals, the action to be taken in relation to illegally landed animals or animals found straying in ports and airports, and other ancillary matters.

The Order replaces the Exotic Animals (Importation) Order 1969, which is accordingly revoked, together with certain provisions of the Importation of Dogs and Cats (Amendment) (No. 2) and (No. 3) Orders 1970, relating to the importation of canine and feline animals other than domestic dogs and cats. In addition, the Order provides that the Importation of Dogs and Cats (Amendment) Order 1969, and the Importation of Dogs and Cats (Amendment) (No. 1) Order 1970, shall cease to have effect in relation to animals to which it applies.

Finally, the Rabies Order of 1938 is amended so that its provisions will now apply to all of the animals covered by the present Order, whilst an amendment to the Importation of Dogs and Cats Order of 1928 restricts its application to domestic dogs and cats.

The Order applies to Great Britain.

Copies of the above-mentioned Order may be obtained from Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 49 High Holborn, London W.C.1. Price 13p, by post 15½p.

G. Gleadall.
