The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice that they have made an Order under sections 1, 3 (6) and 13 of the Import Duties Act 1958 as amended viz.: The Import Duties (Temporary Reductions and Exemptions) (No. 5) Order 1974.

This Order provides for exemption from or reductions in import duty in the case of goods specified in the Schedule to the Order from 20th April 1974 until 31st December 1974 or any earlier date appearing in the Schedule.

There is exemption from import duties in the case of all goods in the Schedule if the goods satisfy the requisite conditions to benefit from the eventual abolition of customs duties in trade between member States of the European Communities.

In the case of other goods, where a rate of duty is specified in column 3 of the Schedule, duty is reduced to that rate, instead of any higher rate which would otherwise apply, and where "free" appears in column 3 in relation to the goods, they are exempt from duty.

In the case of goods originating in Egypt or Cyprus greater reductions in duty are available in a number of cases than those referred to above. These are shown respectively in columns 4 and 5 of the Schedule.

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE

FAIR TRADING ACT 1973

Invitation to submit representations to the Consumer Protection Advisory Committee

The Director General of Fair Trading has referred to the Consumer Protection Advisory Committee for consideration the question whether the consumer trade practices described below:

- (i) adversely affect the economic interests of consumers in the United Kingdom, and
- (ii) if so, whether they do so because or partly because they have (or are likely to have) one or more of the effects specified in section 17 of the Fair Trading Act 1973.

The consumer trade practices covered by the Director's reference are:

- (i) the display of notices in shops and the provision to consumers of written communications which purport to exclude or restrict those basic rights which the consumer has against the supplier and which have been made inalienable by the Supply of Goods (Implied Terms) Act, 1973; and
- (ii) the use of wording in documents which explains the terms on which goods are or are sought to be supplied but which fails to make clear to the consumer the existence of his basic rights against the supplier which have been made inalienable by the Supply of Goods (Implied Terms) Act, 1973.

The reference, under Part II of the Fair Trading Act 1973, was made on 24th April 1974.

The Consumer Protection Advisory Committee are to consider the reference and to submit their conclusions in a report to the Secretary of State for Prices and Consumer Protection.

The Fair Trading Act provides that, in carrying out an investigation to which section 17 of the Act applies, the Consumer Protection Advisory Committee must take into account representations from persons or bodies who appear to the Committee to have a substantial interest in the subject-matter of the reference or who appear to them to represent substantial numbers of persons who do.

The Consumer Protection Advisory Committee hereby invite written representations from persons or bodies claiming such an interest in the reference.

A 2

Representations for consideration of the Committee must reach the Secretaries not later than Friday, 17th May 1974, at the following address:

The Secretaries, Consumer Protection Advisory Committee, Room 512, 1 Victoria Street, London, SW1H 0ET. Written representations should clearly state the interest claimed in the subject-matter of the reference.

The full text of the Director General of Fair Trading's reference is being published in the London Gazette dated 25th April 1974 and the Belfast and Edinburgh Gazettes dated 26th April 1974.

A dossier has been prepared by the Office of Fair Trading to accompany the reference. It explains how the practices are carried on and how they are claimed to affect consumers. It also sets out the Director General of Fair Trading's proposals for changing the law so as to protect consumers with respect to the practices concerned.

Copies of the dossier are on deposit at the Office of Fair Trading in London and Edinburgh, at the Ministry of Commerce in Belfast and at Regional Offices of the Department of Industry, where they may be inspected during normal business hours.

P. Shackelford,
Secretaries.

- (i) in respect of each of the three consumer trade practices described in paragraph 2 of the Schedule hereto (being practices which appear to him to have the relevant effects mentioned in paragraph 3 thereof),

(a) the question whether the practice adversely affects the economic interests of consumers in the United Kingdom; and

(b) if so, the question whether it does so by reason, or partly by reason, that it has, or is likely to have, one or more of the effects specified in section 17 (2) of the said Act; and

- (ii) proposals that it be recommended to the Secretary of State that she exercise her order-making powers under section 22 of the Act,

(a) with respect to the practice described in paragraph 2 (a) of the Schedule hereto, to make provision to the effect specified in paragraph 4 of the Schedule hereto;

(b) with respect to the practice described in paragraph 2 (b) thereof, to make provision to the effect specified in paragraph 5 thereof; and

(c) with respect to the practice described in paragraph 2 (c) thereof to make provision to the effect specified in paragraph 6 thereof.

24th April 1974.

Director General of Fair Trading.

SCHEDULE

Definitions

1. In this Schedule:

"consumer transaction" means:

(i) a sale of goods that is a consumer sale for the purposes of the Sale of Goods Act 1893;

(ii) a hire purchase agreement which is a consumer agreement for the purposes of the Supply of Goods (Implied Terms) Act 1973; or

(iii) an agreement for the redemption of trading stamps for goods.

The Practices Referred

2. The three practices referred are:

(a) seeking by the wording employed in notices on trade premises or trade vehicles, or in advertisements or catalogues, or in invoices or receipts or other documents furnished to consumers acquiring goods, to effect consumer transactions on terms that include terms void by virtue of section 55 (4) of the Sale of Goods Act 1893 or section 12 (3) of the Supply of Goods (Implied Terms) Act 1973 or terms incompatible with section 4 (1) (c) of the Trading Stamps Act 1964;

(b) furnishing to consumers entering into consumer transactions or to persons likely, as consumers, to enter into such transactions written statements relating to their rights against the shopkeeper or other person supplying them or to his obligations to them without advising them of their rights under sections 13 to 15 of the said Act of 1893, sections 9 to 11 of the said Act of 1973 or section 4 (1) (c) of the said Act of 1964 if, for example, the goods are not of merchantable quality;

- (c) furnishing or causing to be furnished to consumers entering into consumer transactions or persons likely, as consumers, to enter into such transactions written statements relating to their rights against third parties or to the obligations to them of such third parties (such as manufacturers' guarantees) without advising them of their rights under the statutory provisions mentioned in paragraph (b) above against the seller or other person supplying them with the goods.

The Effects

3. The effects mentioned in section 17 (2) of the Fair Trading Act which the practices referred appear to the Director General of Fair Trading to have are:

- (a) in the case of the practice described in paragraph 2 (a), the effects (mentioned in section 17 (2) (a) and (b)) of misleading consumers as to their rights under any relevant transaction or otherwise confusing them as to the terms of the transaction;
- (b) in the case of the practices described in paragraphs 2 (b) and (c) those effects and the following further effects (mentioned in section 17 (2) (a)), namely,
- (i) withholding from consumers adequate information as to their rights under any relevant transaction; and
- (ii) withholding from them an adequate record of their rights under any such transaction.

The Proposals

4. In respect of the practice described in paragraph 2 (a),

- (a) that it should be unlawful for a person in the course of a trade or business,

(i) to display in a shop or on other trade premises where consumer transactions are effected, or on a vehicle or on or near a stall from which such transactions are effected, a notice likely to suggest that the rights of consumers under the statutory provisions mentioned in paragraph 2 (a) are excluded or restricted in relation to consumer transactions entered into there;

(ii) to include in an advertisement intended to induce consumers to enter into consumer transactions any statement likely to suggest that those rights are excluded or restricted in relation to consumer transactions occasioned by the advertisement;

(iii) to supply a consumer pursuant to a consumer transaction goods bearing, or goods in a contained bearing, a statement likely to suggest that those rights are excluded or restricted in relation to that transaction;

(iv) to furnish to a consumer in connection with the carrying out of a consumer transaction or to a person likely, as a consumer, to enter into such a transaction a document including a statement likely to suggest that those rights are excluded in relation to that transaction or likely transaction;

- (b) that for the purposes of paragraph (a) above, the use of such phrases as "No goods exchanged" "No money refunded" or "Credit notes only for returned goods" and similar phrases should be regarded (irrespective of their legal effect) as indicating that a consumer's rights under the relevant statutory provision are excluded or restricted except where the words are so qualified as to indicate otherwise e.g. in a notice reading "We regret that goods cannot be exchanged just because customers subsequently change their minds".

5. In the case of the practice described in paragraph 2 (b),

(a) that, subject to paragraph (b) below, it should be unlawful (more than 6 months after the commencement of the Order) for a trader:

(i) to supply to a consumer, pursuant to a consumer transaction, goods bearing, or goods in a container bearing, any wording likely to be taken as setting out or describing rights available against the trader, or as setting out or describing or limiting obligations accepted by him in relation to the goods (whether legally enforceable or not), unless the goods or container also carry in close proximity to that wording a clear and conspicuous statement to the effect that those legal rights which the consumer enjoys against him if the goods are defective or unfit for any purpose or are not as described and which cannot lawfully be restricted are in no way affected by the said wording; or

(ii) otherwise to furnish to a consumer in connection with the carrying out of a consumer transaction or to a person likely, as a consumer, to enter into such a transaction with him or through his agency any document (such as a catalogue, receipt or invoice) that includes such wording but no such statement as are described in head (1) above;

- (b) that it should be a sufficient compliance with the requirement of paragraph (a) above to mark the relevant goods or container with, or to include in the relevant document, a warning such as "N.B. If the goods are faulty, your legal rights are not prejudiced by this statement".

6. In the case of the practice described in paragraph 2 (c),

(a) that, subject to paragraphs (b) and (c) below, it should be unlawful (more than 6 months after the commencement of the Order) for a person carrying on a trade or business:

(i) to cause a consumer acquiring goods from another person under a consumer transaction to be supplied with goods bearing, or goods in a container bearing, any wording likely to be taken as setting out or describing or limiting obligations accepted by him in relation to the goods (whether legally enforceable or not and including statements such as "We guarantee our goods") unless the goods or container also carry in close proximity to that wording, a clear and conspicuous statement to the effect that those legal rights which the consumer enjoys against the seller or other person supplying the goods to him if the goods are defective or unfit for any purpose or are not as described and which cannot lawfully be restricted are in no way affected by the said wording;

(ii) otherwise to furnish or cause to be furnished to a consumer acquiring goods from another person under a consumer transaction or to a person likely, as a consumer, to enter into a consumer transaction with another person, any document including such wording but no such statement as are described in head (i) above;

- (b) that it should be a sufficient compliance with the requirement of paragraph (a) above to mark the relevant goods or container with, or include in the relevant document, a warning such as "Remember: this guarantee (or this limitation) does not affect your rights against the shopkeeper or other person who supplied you if the goods are faulty";

(c) that nothing in paragraph (a) above should apply to create an offence in relation to the supply of any goods or the furnishing of any document which ceased to be in the possession of the person responsible before the commencement of the Order.

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACTS 1968 AND 1971

The Acquisition of Land (Authorisation Procedure) Act 1946

City of Cardiff (Kitchener Gardens) Appropriation Order, 1973

Open Space—Part of Kitchener Gardens, Grangetown, Cardiff

Notice is hereby given that under the provisions of section 121 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971, the Council of the City and County Borough of Cardiff have submitted this Order to the Secretary of State for Wales. If the Secretary of State confirms it, the Order will authorise the Council to appropriate for the widening and improvement of an existing highway—the land described in the Schedule hereto coloured pink on the map annexed to the said Appropriation Order. This land is open space as defined in section 290 of the Act of 1971.

These Acts require that the Order shall be subject to special parliamentary procedure insofar as it authorises the appropriation of land forming part of an open space unless the land does not exceed 250 square yards in extent and the Secretary of State for Wales certifies that he is satisfied that the giving in exchange of other land is unnecessary whether in the interests of any persons, entitled to rights of common or other rights, or in the interests of the public. The Secretary of State has been asked by the Council to issue such a certificate.

The Secretary of State is required to give formal notice of his intention to issue a certificate before he reaches a decision, to give an opportunity for objections to be made. He hereby gives such notice. Any representations or objections in relation to this proposal should be made in writing and addressed to the Secretary, Welsh Office, Cathays Park, Cardiff, CF1 3NQ, before the 17th May 1974, quoting LG234/72.

A copy of the Appropriation Order and the map annexed thereto may be seen without payment at 25A Dumfries Place, Cardiff, at all reasonable hours.

The Secretary of State may, if he considers it expedient, hold a public enquiry into the matter.
