THE DOCKS AND HARBOURS ACT 1966 (MODIFICATION) REGULATIONS 1974

The Secretary of State for Employment hereby gives notice that on 1st November 1974 he made the Docks and Harbours Act 1966 (Modification) Regulations 1974, coming into operation 1st January 1975, under powers contained in the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974.

Part II of the Docks and Harbours Act 1966 provides for the making of welfare amenity schemes for the ports specified in Schedule 1 to that Act and gives to factory inspectors powers for enforcing the requirements of the schemes.

Objections and appeals may be made to the Secretary of State before schemes are approved or amended and the procedure to be followed in connection with inquiries held into such objections and appeals is set out in the Ports Welfare Amenities (Inquiries Procedure) Regulations 1968 which give to the Chief Inspector of Factories the right to be heard and represented at those inquiries.

On the establishment, on 1st January 1975, of the Health and Safety Executive inspectors of factories will become inspectors appointed by the Executive. These Regulations make the necessary consequential modifications to provisions of the Docks and Harbours Act 1966 and of the Ports Welfare Amenities (Inquiries Procedure) Regulations 1968.

THE RADIOACTIVE SUBSTANCES ACT 1948 (MODIFICATION) REGULATIONS 1974

The Secretary of State for Employment hereby gives notice that on 1st November 1974 he made the Radioactive Substances Act 1948 (Modification) Regulations 1974 coming into operation 1st January 1975 under powers contained in the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974.

Section 5 of the Radioactive Substances Act 1948 enables regulations to be made by the appropriate Minister as respects premises or places in which radioactive substances are manufactured, produced, treated, stored or used or irradiating apparatus is used, for the purpose among others of preventing injury being caused by ionising radiations to the health of persons employed at those premises or places or other persons. Power to make regulations for that purpose is now included in the powers contained in section 15 of the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974. These Regulations therefore modify section 5 of the 1948 Act so that, in its application to Great Britain, it no longer contains the power to make regulations for that purpose, and in consequence three Orders-in-Council which make the Secretary of State for Employment the appropriate Minister for the purpose of making regulations under that section in specified cases are revoked.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

MINES AND QUARRIES ACT 1954

Draft of the Coal Mines (Precautions against Inflammable Dust) (Second Amendment) Regulations 1974

The Secretary of State for Energy, in accordance with the provisions of section 142 and Part I of the Second Schedule to the Mines and Quarries Act 1954, hereby gives notice that he proposes to make General Regulations under sections 74 (3), 141 and 143 (1) of the Mines and Quarries Act 1954. These draft regulations, which apply to coal mines, further amend the Coal Mines (Precautions against Inflammable Dust) Regulations 1956 as amended by the Coal Mines (Precautions against Inflammable Dust) (Variation) Regulations 1960. Organisations representing the owners and workmen at such mines have already been consulted about the proposals.

The existing regulations are being amended for two reasons. Firstly to allow the use of any approved type of barriers to flame. At present only stone dust barriers may be approved, but other types, for example water barriers, are being developed and it is considered necessary that the regulations should provide for their use. Regulation 10A has therefore been amended accordingly.

The amendments to regulations 3, 4(b), 6(a), 7 (2), 8 (1), (4) and (5) and 9 have been made to substitute references to amounts and sizes in metric units for those currently expressed in imperial units. In all cases the metric measurements are the most suitable and convenient equivalents of the imperial ones they replace and they do not adversely affect existing safety standards.

Copies of the draft regulations may be purchased from Her Majesty's Stationery Office at any of the addresses shown on the last page of this Gazette.

Any objection to the draft regulations by, or on behalf of, any person affected thereby must be sent to the Secretary of State for Energy, Thames House South, Millbank, London S.W.1, not later than 12th December 1974. Each such objection must be made in writing and must state:

- (a) the specific grounds of objection and
- (b) the omissions, additions or modifications asked for.

J. R. Wilson, Assistant Secretary, Department of Energy.
