CHORLEY BOROUGH COUNCIL

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT, 1971

TOWN AND COUNTRY AMENITIES ACT, 1974

Designation of Abbey Village Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that the Chorley Borough Council as District Planning Authority for the area have designated Abbey Village as a conservation area, pursuant to section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act, 1971.

The Area comprises the settlement known as Abbey Village, stretching from the Hare and Hounds in the south to the Bolton Road Bridge over the dismantled railway to the north, and covering 29 acres (12 hectares). The area concerned is indicated on Plan No. A/10/18/174.

In areas designated as conservation areas special attention is paid to the desirability of preserving or enhancing their character or appearance and local planning authorities are empowered to take effective measures to improve the environment.

The Town and Country Amenities Act of 1974 brings the demolition of most buildings in conservation areas under local authority control by applying with modifications the listed building control powers under the Town and Country Planning Act, 1971. A building in a conservation area shall not be demolished without the consent of the local planning authority. An application for consent to demolish can however be made to the Borough Council either separately or as part of a planning application and in the light of the local authorities' policy for the area listed building consent to demolish may or may not be given.

The Act also extends the control over trees in conservation areas. Any person wishing to cut down, top, lop, uproot, wilfully damage or wilfully destroy any tree in a conservation area (subject to certain exemptions) should give the Borough Council six weeks notice of his intention of so doing.

The plan is available for inspection at the Planning and Development Department, Council Offices, Gillibrand Street, Chorley, PR7 2EL, Telephone Chorley 5611.

Persons requiring further information on the above mentioned matters and on the form of notice referred to should get in touch with the Planning and Development Officer at the above address.

A. B. Webster, Chief Executive Officer.

Derwentside District Council—Satley—Designation of Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that on 6th May 1975, the Derwentside District Council, in pursuance of their powers under 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 and the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974, designated as a Conservation Area those parts of Satley described in the Schedule hereto.

Satley is a relatively isolated agricultural village of very simple linear form. The first recorded reference to a settlement here dates from the 13th century but most of the present buildings in the village date from the 18th century and later. The church, with the school and cottage at the churchyard gate, forms an attractive group of buildings around the small village green. Apart from the vicarage, the other buildings in the village are not architecturally outstanding. However, Satley derives its appeal from its simplicity, which it has managed to retain despite the ravages of the industrial revolution and the post war building boom. Even the small council estate at the southern end of the village reflects the traditional use of local materials and unpretentious detailing.

A plan showing the area designated has been placed on deposit at the offices of the Derwentside District Council, Civic Centre, Medomsley Road, Consett, Co. Durham and may be inspected there during normal office hours.

SCHEDULE

All of the buildings within the village, as well as the important tracts of woodlands and open fields surrounding the settlement which define the limits of existing development and integrate it within the surrounding countryside.

Dated 20th May 1975.

J. Quinn, Chief Executive Officer and Clerk of the District Council.

Derwentside District Council—Ebchester—Designation of Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that on 6th May 1975, the Derwentside District Council, in pursuance of their powers under 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 and the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974, designated as a Conservation Area those parts of Ebchester described in the Schedule hereto.

The village of Ebchester is established on the site of the Roman Fort, which originally covered some 3.7 acres and commanded a prominent position overlooking the Derwent Valley. Remains of the Roman occupation are still very evident today. The existing core of the settlement, which centres around St. Ebba's Church, contains several buildings dating from the early 18th century, including School House, Temperance Hotel and Demesne Farm, which are included on the current statutory list of Buildings or Architecture of Historic Interest. The tracts of woodland bordering Ebchester Burn form an important feature both on a local scale and in distance views of the settlement. Similarly the areas of open land, mainly to the east of St. Ebba's Church but also south of Ebchester Hill, help to define the limits of the existing development.

A plan showing the area designated has been placed on deposit at the offices of the Derwentside District Council, Civic Centre, Medomsley Road, Consett, Co. Durham and may be inspected there during normal office hours.

SCHEDULE

All the main buildings in the existing core of the settlement, the original Ebchester Bridge and the Roman Fort,

St. Mary's Convent and "the Hill". In addition land around the village which helps to contain the existing development and maintain its character and setting in the landscape.

Dated 20th May 1975.

Shotley Bridge—Designation of Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that on 6th May 1975, the Derwent-side District Council in pursuance of their powers under section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act, 1971, and the Town and Country Amenities Act, 1974, designated as a Conservation Area those parts of Shotley Bridge described in the Schedule hereto.

When viewed from the west the thickly wooded slopes of the Derwent Valley give Shotley Bridge a picturesque setting. The A.694 runs through the centre of the village and traffic problems are acute in the narrower parts of Front Street and at the junction with the B.6310. Although there are no buildings of individual architectural merit, except perhaps Lloyds Bank, the overall composition, with compact development in the vicinity of Front Street and the larger houses fronting Snows Green Road, Church Bank and Benfieldside Road, is pleasant in contrast and style. Sharp changes in level and the predominance of mature trees gives the area added character.

A plan showing the area designated has been placed on deposit at the offices of the Derwentside District Council, Civic Centre, Medomsley Road, Consett, Co. Durham, and may be inspected there during normal office hours.

SCHEDULE

The main buildings in the village and all the significant woodland and undeveloped land on the fringe of the existing settlement which help to maintain its character and setting in the landscape, in particular to the east where the woodland effectively softens the impact of residential development higher up the hillside.

Iveston—Designation of Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that on 6th May 1975, the Derwent-side District Council in pursuance of their powers under section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act, 1971, and the Town and Country Amenities Act, 1974, designated as a Conservation Area those parts of Iveston described in the Schedule hereto.

Iveston is prominently situated on a hill top approximately two miles east of Consett. The origins of the settlement can be traced back as far as the 12th century and there is still evidence of the building lines and long "tofts" typical of colonising settlements in the Pennines. Although Iveston has now adopted the rural characteristics of an agricultural settlement, for the last 300 years there have been active coal mining interests in the area. The qualities of the village derive from the informal disposition of buildings around the village green. The oldest buildings date from the late 18th century/early 19th century but with recent emphasis on home improvement much of the original character has been modified. A limited number of newer properties have been constructed, but several frontage sites remain undeveloped.

A plan showing the area designated has been placed on deposit at the offices of the Derwentside District Council, Civic Centre, Medomsley Road, Consett, Co. Durham, and may be inspected there during normal office hours.

C2

SCHEDULE

Because of the villages linear shape the Conservation Area boundary extends no more than normal plot depth from Iveston Lane. Excluding the New Inn, all of the buildings within the village are included, plus the village green and open frontages which help to maintain its informal character.
