TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACTS

BATH CITY COUNCIL

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT 1971

SECTION 277

Notice is hereby given that the Bath City Council on the 6th day of May 1975, pursuant to section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971, determined which further parts of their area are areas of special architectural or historic interest, the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance, and designated such areas, together with the existing Conservation Area (hereinafter referred to as "the Conservation Area") for the purposes of the said section 277.

The Conservation Area, broadly described, includes the previously designated Conservation Area extended to include the following areas:

- (a) those parts which provide the landscape setting of the city.

(b) those parts which are contiguous with the existing Conservation Area and which, because of the land form or because they have potential for enhancement, should be included.

(c) pockets of still rural landscape within the urban area which are contiguous with the Conservation Area.

(d) built-up areas which, by their potential for enhancement, could make a significant contribution to the character of the whole Conservation Area, or which would round off the boundary of the Conservation Area in a more logical way.

The effect of such designation brings the demolition of most buildings in the Conservation Area under local authority control by applying, with modifications, the listed building control powers contained within the Town and Country Planning Act 1971. Except for certain specified exemptions, a building in a Conservation Area shall not be demolished without the consent of the local planning authority. An application for consent to demolish can, however, be made to the City Council.

Also, the effect of such designation extends the control over trees in the Conservation Area. Any person wishing to top, lop, wilfully damage or wilfully destroy any tree in the Conservation Area (subject to certain exemptions) shall give the City Council six weeks notice of his intention of so doing.

The Conservation Area is more particularly delineated on the plan, which may be inspected during normal office hours at the offices of the Director of Administrative and Legal Services, Guildhall, Bath, or at the Department of Architecture and Planning, Abbey Chambers, Bath.

A. G. Meecham, Director of Administrative and Legal Services.
