Milan, April 1. N. S.

THE Regency of this State continue their utmost Application to raise their Contributions of Men and Money for the ensuing Campaign, and to satisfy the Demands of the Emperor and King of Spain, in every respect which may promote the vigorous Prosecution of the War, and enable the Troops to enter early upon Action. General Zumjungen perceiving that some of the Princes that are Feudatory to the Empire are backward in furnishing their respective Quota's, hath lately renewed his Instances to excite them to a more speedy Payment of the several Sums allotted to them, declaring at the same time, that if they neglect this Notice, he shall be obliged to force them to a Compliance by Military Execution. Recruits arrive daily in this State from Germany, who are designed for the Army in Catalonia. These Forces are to be assembled in the Neighbourhood of Final, in order to be Transported as soon as a sufficient Number of Vessels can be got ready for that Service; during which time they are to stay in this Dutchy for the Benefit of the Air, that of Final having been found very prejudicial to the Soldiers the last Year. Two Regiments of Infantry, consisting of three thousand Men, are to be sent over at the same time from this State, as a Reinforcement of the Army of his Catholick Majesty, besides six hundred Men lately levied for Recruiting the Regiment of Taff. Advices from Rome say, that the Pope omitted nothing that might induce the Court of Madrid to receive a Nuncio, and lay aside all Animosities which they may have entertained against the See of Rome; his Holiness earnestly endeavouring an entire and perfect Reconciliation between the two Courts. They write from Naples, that the Procurator Fiscal had, by Orders from his Catholick Majesty, taken Possession of all the Fiefs which lately devolved to the Crown by the Death of the Duke of Telesi, who died without Issue. These Letters add, that the Council of Naples had under Examination a Bull of the Pope's, which forbids, on Pain of Excommunication, the reading of a Book lately printed in that City, to prove that the Court of Rome hath no Right to confer the Benefices in Naples on Foreigners, and that such a Practice destroys the Privileges of the State, and is contrary to the Declaration of his Catholick Majesty. They are also employed in enquiring into some Proceedings of the Ecclesiastical Court, which are not conformable to the Constitution of the Kingdom. It is not yet known what Resolutions will be taken in those Affairs; but it is not doubted but that they will exert themselves in Vindication of their just Rights against the Incroachments and Impositions of the Court of Rome; and it is believed that Monsieur Magella, a Neapolitan Canon, will be banished for writing a Treatise in Defence of the Proceedings of the Pope on that Occasion.

Hague, April 18. N. S. Yesterday in the Evening the French Ministers expected the return of the Courier whom they lately dispatched to Versailles; and some Advices from Amwerp say he pass'd through that City yesterday Morning; but we have no Account of his Arrival at Gertruydenberg. The Duke of Marlborough and Prince Eugene proposed to reach Tournay last Night, in the Neighbourhood of which Place the Confederate Troops continue to assemble, but the whole Army will not be formed before the 21st Instant. We are advised, that the Earl of Albemarle having attacked Morraigne on Monday last, carried it Sword in Hand, and made the Garrison Prisoners of War; but that on Tuesday the Enemy having taken a Resolution to endeavour the Recovery of this Post, sent six thousand Men out of Condé, who, with Cannon, and all other Necessaries, were transported in small Vessels to that Place, and by the Advantage of the Inundation, under which the Country now lies, obliged our Garrison, consisting of sixty Men, after a vigorous Defence, to surrender at Discretion. The Earl of Albemarle was making Dispositions for a new Attack. The Enemy have demolished Lens. The States of Holland are to be reassembled on Wednesday next. On Monday last in the Evening a Convoy and several Yachts arrived at Helvoetsluys from Great Britain, and will sail back to Morrow if the Wind permit. The Duke of Argyle, the Duke of Mountague, Sir Richard Temple, and several other Officers that came over with that Convoy, have followed the Duke of Marlborough directly to the Army. The Courier who was lately sent from hence to Stockholm, with the Project of an Act of Neutrality to be observed in regard to the Provinces of the Empire by the Northern Crowns, returned some Days since with the Ratification of that Act by his Danish Majesty and the Regency of Sweden. He was delayed some Days on his Journey by a Fall from his Horse.

The same Day the Experiment, Monk's-Prize and Pearle failed out of the Harbour; the latter failed directly to Southampton River. Sir Charles Wager continues still there, on Board her Majesty's Ship the Cornwall, with the Royal Anne, Edgar, Breda, Guernsey, Berwick, Dragon, Romney, Delight, Sea-horse, Arundel, Bedford, Lark, Foy, Ruby, Warpight, Experiment, Monk's-Prize, Deptford, and Phoenix Fireship. The Torbay and Reserve are at St. Hellens, as are also five Dutch Men of War.

Deale, April 11. On the 9th Instant came in hither her Majesty's Ship the Swallow's-Prize. Yesterday Morning came down the Royal Sovereign, Dreadnought and Medway's-Prize; this last failed again in the Afternoon to cruize off of North-foreland, and the Portland and Swallow's-Prize failed at the same time to the Westward. There are in this Port her Majesty's Ships the Royal Sovereign, Swiftsure, Lancaster, Norfolk, Dreadnought and Mary-Galley; with the Marlborough and Unity bound for New-England; the Mary and Katherine and Ann-Galley for the West-Indies, and the South-River-Merchant for Virginia. Yesterday in the Afternoon came down hither her Majesty's Ship the Lyme, with the Star-Bomb and her Tender. This Morning her Majesty's Ship the Adventure came in hither from cruising.

Westminster, April 11. This Day Her Majesty's Commission of Oyer and Terminer for the Tryal of the Persons accused of the Rebellious and Seditious Riots, lately excited by Papists, Non-jurors, and other disaffected Persons (in defiance of Her Majesty's Government, and in express Disobedience to Her Royal Commands, by Her late Proclamation on that Subject) was opened in Westminster-Hall, and Bills of High-Treason were found against Daniel Damare, George Purchase and Francis Willis, and Bills of Riots against thirty other Persons.

There will be a Sale by Inst of Candle of Elephants Teeth, Sugars, and other Goods, on Thursday the 20th of this Instant April, at the African House in Leadenhall Street, for which Bonds under the Seal of the said Company will be taken in Payment.

This is to give Notice that Luke Clark, and William Clark his Brother, both middle siz'd Men, brown Complexions, and brown Wigs, went, as it appears by their Pocket-books, on the 13th of March last from London to Kingston; but, upon Examination, do not own what Business they had there, nor where they were on the 19th, 20th and 21st of the same Month, but say they on the 22d they came from London, and got to Lincoln on the 23d, and from thence to Castor, and so to Whittier Ferry, and on the 24th they came to North-cave in the East-Riding of Yorkshire, and remaining there two or three Days without any Appearance of Business, were there seized by the Constable, and for want of Sureties for their good Behaviour, by a Justice of the Peace were committed to York-Castle. There were found about them four Pistols of different Sizes charged, with more Bullets and Powder ready made up in Papers; also two old black Velvet Masks, and several Fir-Matches dip'd in Brimstone. Their Horses seem to have been bred Horses, the one being a large Sorrel Gelding, blind of the near Eye, his near fore Foot and further hinder Foot white, which they say they bought at the Greyhound at Hide Park-Corner on the 17th of March last. The other a brown Gelding, shght to be dim-sighted on both Eyes, a little white on three Feet, they say they bought him in Smithfield the same Day, and saw him buy'd in the Market Book. One of them had a Grey Riding Coat and straight Bodied Coat, both with black Buttons; the other's Riding Coat was something lighter. If these Men have committed any R. bberies, or done any other thing contrary to Law, it is desired that Notice thereof be given within a reasonable time to Mr. Mars in York, Clerk of the Peace for the East Riding of Yorkshire; or else these Men will be discharged; being as yet only committed for want of Sureties for their good Behaviour.
