TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACTS

ALLERDALE DISTRICT COUNCIL

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT 1971

TOWN AND COUNTRY AMENITIES ACT 1974

Notice of Designation of Conservation Areas

Notice is hereby given that under section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 and section 1 of the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974 the Allerdale District Council, have resolved to designate conservation areas in parts of Maryport, Workington and Allonby, and extensions to parts of the conservation areas in Cockermouth.

The Maryport Conservation Area lies to the north and west of the River Ellen but includes the Netherhall Estate and the whole of the harbour area. The northern boundary is Ingleby Terrace and Christian Street. It then runs southward on Park Terrace and Church Street until it meets the boundary of Adrian House and St. Mary's Church. The boundary runs east and southward along this line until it reaches the A596 (Trunk Road) boundary to Netherhall Estate. Thereafter the conservation area boundary follows that of the Netherhall Estate north-east and south-east until it strikes the River Ellen. The boundary then follows the river downstream until its southern and western swing below South Ward. The area boundary then diverges from the river to continue westward, north and east to encompass the harbour area. The boundary then follows the promenade northward until it crosses a line that would be made if Ingleby Terrace were extended westward to join the promenade. Within this area lie two proposed outstanding conservation areas known as Fleming Square and the Inner Harbour.

The Fleming Square Conservation Area is bounded to the north by North Street, to the east by Church Street, to the south by Kirby Street and to the west by Solway Terrace and the extension of the footpath south of Solway Terrace to meet Kirby Street. Application has been made to the Department of the Environment to declare this an Outstanding Conservation Area.

The Inner Harbour Conservation Area's western boundary starts at the western tip of Tongue Pier. It proceeds west and southwards along the edge of the North Quay, meets the north side of the foot bridge across the River Ellen and runs northwest to the tip of South Quay returning along the south edge of that Quay. When the boundary meets the rear of the buildings on a line running northward from the western end of Bridge Street, it proceeds south along the west side of these buildings until this boundary line meets the old foundry. It then runs eastward joining Irish Street along the north wall of the former Employment Exchange. It crosses to the east side of that Street then south, east and north again, encompassing the public convenience until it reaches the south building wall of 1 and 2 Bridge Street. The boundary then runs east, north and east, skirting the Bridge Street property until it strikes the western end of the southern edge of the foot bridge across the River Ellen. The boundary follows the foot bridge eastward, then turns south and almost immediately east again to exclude the new Well Lane properties but include the properties oddly numbered 1 to 13 on Senhouse Street. The boundary runs across Senhouse Street (along the east wall of number 13) along the western wall of the Hotel (directly opposite number 13) until it reaches the rear property line of 18 and 16 Senhouse Street. The boundary then turns westward along these properties then north again to run along the eastern boundary of the properties terminating, east to west, at number 5 Nelson Street (along the bottom of the small embankment). The boundary continues west along the face of number 5 and its adjoining terrace until the boundary strikes Christ Church. It runs northward along the eastern church wall to number 6 King Street. west along the north wall of number 6, until it reaches the eastern wall of a terrace of property abutting Strand Street at number 1. The boundary runs westward along the front of this terrace, across Strand Street to strike the northern boundary of number 2. The boundary runs north again until the southern boundary wall of number 21 Strand Street. It then runs west along this boundary wall until it reaches the north harbour wall, separating flat land from harbour shingle. The boundary then runs south and west, along this wall and the northern side of Tongue Pier. The boundary then terminates at the western tip of the pier.

The Workington Conservation Areas are known as Portland Square and Brow Top. The Portland Square area is bounded to the north by Ramsay Brow (A.66 Trunk Road), to the east by the eastern curtilage boundary of properties fronting Park End Road, to the south by the rear curtilage boundaries to properties from 16 to 2 Cross Hill and 70 to 34 Guard Street, moving northward along Bank Road to rejoin Guard Street. The boundary then continues west until Guard Street meets Washington Street (A.596 Trunk Road). Washington Street then forms the western boundary to rejoin the northern boundary of Ramsay Brow. The Brow Top conservation area is bounded to the east by Speedwell Lane, to the south by Finkle Street, to the west by a line running northward as a continuation of Vulcans Lane running between the Trinity Methodist Church and the Trades Hall Social Club, to rejoin the western tip of the northern boundary, Brow Top.

The Allonby Conservation Area (Northern) has a western boundary along the Mean High Water Line. It is met at its northern point by an imaginary western extension of the road from Moss Side and Allonby School. This northern boundary proceeds eastwards to the eastern boundary of Allonby School. It then runs south along the dividing boundary of the Springfield Caravan Park. The boundary continues south then eastward, south of Dickenson Place, then south again to a point it strikes the "T" junction formed by the road to Westnewton from Allonby and the track running southward and eastward to Crookhurst. The boundary from this "T" junction follows the Crookhurst track until it reaches Allonby Beck. It then follows the flow of the Beck until it reaches a point at which it crosses the imaginary eastern extension of South View. The boundary thereafter follows South View westward until it strikes the western boundary of the conservation area on the Mean High Water Line.

The Allonby Conservation Area (Southern). The eastern boundary of the area starts from the confluence of Allonby Beck and Cuddy Cross. The boundary then runs southerly along this beck to a point where the eastern tip of the first field boundary, south of the confluence joins it. The boundary then moves west along this southern field boundary until it reaches the eastern building perimeter of the West End Farm buildings. The boundary follows the eastern building curtilages of the farm southward, and skirts the southern end of the West End Cottages. When the boundary strikes Main Street, at the southerly tip of the Cottages it turns westward, across Main Street along the southern wall of the Toll Gate to strike the western boundary of the conservation area on the Mean High Water Line. The western boundary then follows the Mean High Water Line to a point where it joins the southern boundary of the Northern Conservation Area. This latter boundary also forms the northern boundary of this area.

The Cockermouth Conservation Area Extensions are known as the Derwent extension, the St. Helens Street extension, the Windmill Lane extension, the Oakwood extension and the Crown Street extension.

The Derwent Extension runs from the western confluence of the cricket ground boundary with the River Derwent and follows that boundary northward past Salmon Leap and crosses the lower Papcastle Road to the west of Riverside Cottages. The boundary follows the western and northern boundary of The Gill until it strikes the road, Goat Brow. The boundary then runs north on the east side of the road until the northern boundary of The Lodge and Little Hames. The boundary then runs east skirting the north of Hames Hall Farm, includes the sheepfold and continues eastward following the line of Oaks until it reaches the northerly point of Michael Browns. The boundary turns south down the east side of Michael Browns until it strikes the marsh when the boundary turns east again skirts the northern tip of the island in the River Derwent and swings south down the eastern boundary of Horseclose Wood until it strikes Isel Road, west of North Cottage. The boundary then follows the west side of Isel Road, round past the east side of Castle Cottages and on to Castlegate Drive. Here it joins with the existing boundary of the outstanding conservation area. The boundary then proceeds north and westward to follow the northern boundary of the existing Goat conservation area (skirting the northerly boundary of the Memorial Gardens etc.) until it rejoins the point of origin to this extension.

The St. Helens Street Extension starts where the rear boundary of number 2 Castlegate Drive strikes the eastern boundary of the outstanding conservation area. It runs east along the rear curtilage boundary from number 2 to 14 Castlegate Drive and then turns south until it meets a footpath. The boundary follows this path south-eastward to where it strikes St. Helens Street. The boundary circles the St. Helens Tanyard, strikes the Bitter Beck and follows the stream westward to the south-easterly tip of the Casa Nostra property boundary. The extension boundary follows this property north and east until it rejoins the Bitter Beck. It then continues along the Beck, rejoins the outstanding conservation area boundary and follows it back to the south-westerly curtilage boundary of number 2 Castlegate Drive.

The Windmill Lane Extension starts at Fell Croft and runs east along the south side of Windmill Lane until number 4. It turns south past, but excluding the electricity sub-station until it strikes the western boundary of the Allotment Gardens, continuing south to the railway embankment. The boundary turns west along the bottom of the embankment until it strikes the line of Lorton Road. The boundary is then deflected north-westward until it reaches the south-east corner of the existing outstanding conservation area boundary. The western boundary to this extension then follows the outstanding conservation area's eastern boundary back to Fell Croft.

The Oakhurst Wood Extension starts at the north-western corner of Simonscale Wood where the boundary meets Lamplugh Road and abuts Cocker Browns. The extension boundary follows the northern Simonscale Wood boundary eastward and south-east until it strikes the boundary of Double Mills. The boundary follows the existing conservation area boundary south-west to cross the River Cocker and south-east again, joining the footpath that runs along the eastern bank of the river. The extension boundary follows the path southward across open land until it reaches the River Cocker again. Here, the boundary turns sharply due west back across the river and follows the southern boundary to Oakhurst Wood westward until it strikes the Lamplugh Road immediately south of Oakhurst Lodge. The extension boundary then runs north again along this road until it reaches its point of origin south of Cocker Browns.

The Crown Street Extension lies between Derwent Street, New Street and fronts on to Crown Street (A.66 Trunk Road). The southerly boundary runs from the southerly wall of number 6 New Street, due east, extending through until it strikes Derwent Street.
