DURHAM COUNTY COUNCIL

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT 1971 SECTION 277

Castle Eden—Designation of Conservation Area

Notice is hereby given that on 4th August 1976, the Durham County Council in pursuance of their powers under section 277 of the Town and Country Planning Act, 1971 designated as a Conservation Area those parts of Castle Eden described in the Schedule hereto.

Castle Eden is a dispersed village set in a luxurious parkland and farmland setting to the south of the heavily wooded Castle Eden Dene Nature Reserve. Although there is some industrial development, namely the Brewery, the village has remained essentially as a rural, agricultural and residential settlement. The northern part of the Conservation Area is comprised mainly of the original Castle Eden estate as laid out by the Burdon family in the late 18th century. It includes the Castle, a Grade II listed building, and its superbly landscaped park, which is now used as a golf course, as well as the various farms, cottages, lodges and gates that were all essential to the running of such an estate. Among the buildings are several of architectural merit but the overall quality of Castle Eden is gained from its landscape setting which contributes fundamentally to the environment of the various building groups. This is particularly true of the southern part of the Conservation Area which is composed of groups of buildings along the old route of Road A.19. Although there are no buildings here of particular architectural merit, the landscape setting forms an essential part of the whole Castle Eden area.

A plan showing the area designated has been placed on deposit at the offices of the Easington District Council, Seaside Lane, Easington and at County Hall, Durham (Room 1/24) and may be inspected there during normal office hours.

SCHEDULE

The Brewery, Factory, Castle, Church and old village areas of Castle Eden, together with their parkland setting bounded on the north by Castle Eden Dene and including to the south both sides of Road B.1281 and the former road A.19 including the Foundry, the row of houses south of Bankside, and Hulam Lodge.

Dated 4th August 1976.
