

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday June 28. to Tuesday July 1. 1712.

St. James's, June 27.

THIS Day the following Address from the City and Liberty of Westminster, sign'd by many Thousand Hands, was presented to Her Majesty by Thomas Medycott and Thomas Cross, Esquires, their Representatives in Parliament, accompanied by the Burgesses and Assistants, and many other Inhabitants of the said City and Liberty, being introduced by his Grace John Duke of Buckingham, Lord President of Her Majesty's most Honourable Privy-Council, Lord-Lieutenant of the County of Middlesex, and Custos Rotularum of the said County and City of Westminster.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Steward, High-Bailiff, High Burgesses, Burgesses and Assistants, and other Inhabitants of Your Majesty's ancient City and Liberty of Westminster.

May it please Your Majesty,

TO permit Your most Dutiful and Loyal Subject to approach You, with Hearts full of Joy and Gratitude, for that particular Concern which Your Majesty has been pleased to Express for the true Interest of Your own People, and for Communicating to Your Parliament those advantageous Terms upon which a General Peace may be made.

Your Majesty has done every thing that could be expected from a Wise and Gracious Prince, for the Improving our Trade, and for Securing our Laws and Religion, during Your own Reign; and that these Blessings may be perpetuated to all future Ages, You have made yet further Provisions for assuring the Protestant Succession in the House of Hanover: So that we can no longer apprehend the least Danger from the Efforts of any, who may pretend to disturb that happy Settlement which hath so firm an Establishment in the Laws of the Land, in the Affections of Your People, and (which is its greatest Security) in the Heart of Your Majesty.

As we have all imaginable Reason to be satisfied with these Instances of Your Majesty's Care, and of the Fidelity of Your Ministers, so we hope speedily to enjoy the happy Effects of both in a lasting Peace; notwithstanding all the unreasonable Opposition that has been made to it, by some Abroad, encouraged by a Faction here at Home.

We Your Majesty's most Obedient Subjects of this City have felt more than our Share of the unequal Burthen of the War; but Your Majesty has happily interposed for our Relief, which makes us willing to forget all we have hitherto paid and suffered in a Prospect of a Glorious and (we are sure) very Necessary Peace.

The Enlargement of Trade, and the several Important Places yielded to Your Majesty by this Treaty, give us reasonable Hopes of some Amends for all our Losses, and Promise such an Affluence of Wealth as may bear a proportion to the vast Effusion of Treasure, which has been the natural Consequence of a War so extensive in all its Parts.

For the Completion of all our Wishes, we have nothing further to Pray for but length of Days, to Your Majesty; so shall we joyfully reap the Fruits of a long-wish'd for Peace, and see that great Blessing doubled to these Nations, by the Continuance of Your Majesty's prosperous and gentle Reign over us.

The following Address from the Borough of Maldon, was presented to Her Majesty by William Fytche, Esq; one of the Bailiffs, John Comyns Serjeant at Law, Recorder, and one of their Representatives, and Thomas Bramston, Esq; the other Representative in Parliament, accompanied with Sir Robert Abdy, Baronet, and other Freemen of that Corporation, being introduced by the most Honourable Robert, Earl of Oxford, and Earl Mortimer, Lord High Treasurer of Great Britain.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Steward, Bailiffs, Recorder, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, and Commonalty of Your Antient Borough of Maldon in the County of Sussex.

Madam,

THE great Things You are doing for all Europe, by endeavouring to procure for them the greatest of Blessings, That of Peace, and the particular Care You therein take of Your own Kingdoms, by providing an additional Security for the Succession in the House of Hanover, and by obtaining for them vast Advantages in point of Trade.

The Wisdom, Courage and Steadiness; with which Your Affairs are managed, the Resolution, Constancy and Fidelity of those who have the Honour to be employed under You, by which the greatest Difficulties are surmounted, though opposed with the utmost Industry and Art, must needs fill the Hearts of all Your faithful Subjects, with the firmest Duty, Loyalty and Affection, and all others, to whom You are a common Benefactor and Protector, with a just Sense of Gratitude.

We assure Your Majesty, none more heartily rejoice in what may tend to Your Glory, and the good and Honour of our Country, or more sincerely hope You will speedily finish, what by Your wise Counsels You have so happily began.

The following Address from the Borough of St. Albans, was presented to Her Majesty by John Gape, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Most Honourable the Lord High Treasurer.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Principal Burgesses and Inhabitants of Your Majesty's Ancient Borough of St. Albans.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE beg leave to lay before Your Majesty our Loyal and Joyful Acknowledgements of Your Glorious Endeavours, for obtaining a General Peace, and Your gracious Condescension in communicating to Your People, the Terms upon which it may be made.

That effectual Care which Your Majesty has taken of establishing a real Balance of Power in Europe, and of advancing the Happiness and Liberty of Your own People, will, we trust, for ever extinguish the hopes of the distressed, whose Interest alone, makes them delight in War