

The London Gazette.

Puonished by Authority.

From Monday, October 3. to Thursday October 6. 1670.

Madrid. Sept. 17.

UPon the late arrival of a Courier Extraordina y with the News of the sudden invasion of Lorrain by the French, the Ministers of State were called together, and have had since several conferences.

The Duke d' Albuquerque arrived from his Vice-Royalty of Sicily, was the 13th instant at the Court to attend their Majesties, who graciously received him to his great satisfaction; yesterday he was admitted and took his seat in the Council of State.

The Marquis de Castel Rodrigo on Saturday last began to sit in the new former Council for Flanders and Burgundy, from which he wastill that day hindered by his indisposition of body.

The Countess of Montgrey having taken her leave of the Court, intends to morrow to set forwards on her way for Flanders, accompanied by the Marquis de Liches her Brother-in-law, who intends to conduct her to the frontiers of this kingdom.

The Constable of Castille is arrived at Burgos, and intends to go from thence to his Estate at Bel-lengua for the confirmation of his health.

Genoua, Sept. 20. On Monday last arrived here Three of the Popes Gallies with Monseignor Mareschotti designed Nuncio from the Pope to the Court of Spain, he was met some miles out at sea by Segnior Gio. Antonio Raggi with Two Felucas, who in the name of the Cardinal his Uncle invited him to a Lodging prepared for his reception, where he was entertained with much honour, and on Wednesday put again to sea in pursuance of his voyage.

On Wednesday came into this Port Segnior Hippolito Centurione with Three Gallies on his return from Maltta, having been cruising also upon the Islands of Cyfica, Sardinia, and Sicily, in search after the Corsairs of Tunis, but met with no adventure, only lying before Messina, and sending several of his men on shoar, one of them happened to be killed within the Town, for which he required Justice might be executed on the murtherer, which not being done, he seized on several of the Inhabitants of that City, and put them to the Oar in his Gally, which perswaded the Messineses to do him justice, and to hang up the offender within sight of his Gallies.

In his passage to this place he met a Gally belonging to this Republick, and commanded him to salute, which the Gally refused, till being threatened with false fire, he was forced to it, and to strike his Flag, which is ill resented here; he intends in few days to embark with his wife, and to depart hence for Marseilles.

Here is lately passed by in view of this Port one of the Great Dukes Gallies from Legorn, with Two Envoyes from the said Great Duke to his most Christian Majesty, and the Duke of Orleans, to condole with them upon the death of Madam the Duchess of Orleans, and to return the Compliments made by the French Envoyes to the Great Duke upon his succession on the death of the late Great Duke his Father.

From Turin they write, that all the differences being fully composed and ended between those of Piedmont and Montferat, all the forces on each part are withdrawn, only Two Troops of the Piedmont Horse being continued at Montferat, till the Treaty be signed and ratified interchangeably by the Dukes of Savoie and Mantoua, which Treaty is said to be very advantagious to the former, and somewhat of the same nature with the Treaty of 1662. It has been also agreed, that those persons of either side who were the actors and promoters of the late troubles, shall be committed to prison, and receive such farther punishment as they shall be found to have deserved.

The Duke of Savoie has a designe to enlarge the City of Turin, to establish there an Academy, and to encourage the Manufactures of Silk, Wool, and other Commodities, and has employed several Ingeniers for the raising of a Regular Fortification about that City.

The Duke d' Ossuna, Governor of Milan, has received Letters from Madrid, which advise him not to begin any innovations in that State, to the dissatisfaction of the neighbouring Princes and States: he has also Orders for the Re-arming of Twelve Troops of Horse out of the Thirty six within his Government, but in this the Duke intends to proceed with great caution and consideration, so as not to disoblige his Officers.

Legorn, Sept. 2. The 17th instant arrived here Sir John Harman, having under his Convoy the Smirna Factor, the Legorn Merchant, the Summer-Island Merchant, and the Golden Floece, with whom he intends in few days to proceed to Messina. Yesterday arrived Captain Darcey in the Dartmouth, with a Fireship, and Two Merchant ships which they took under their Convoy at Marseilles laden for Bristol; they left a great Pink laden with Deal-boards (which had been retaken from the Turks) running on shoar off the Port of Marseilles, but the men saved themselves on shoar.

Some days since Segnior Hippolito Centurione with Three Gallies entred this Port, wearing the French Flag, upon which account he pressed to be first saluted, but this being refused, he put out with his Gallies much dissatisfy'd, leaving behind him many of his men who were gotten on shoar, who are since embarked upon one of the Great Dukes Gallies bound for Marseilles.

The African Pink arriving in Eight days from Tunis informs us, that those Corsairs are fitting out to sea; Two of them are already abroad, and several others in readines to follow them; that none of the French ships are upon those coasts, but Six of their men of war are daily expected to lie before that Port.

Brussels, Octob. 11. We have had here by an Express, the news of the surrender of Chastel, upon the Moselle in Lorrain, to the French, after a defence of Two or Three days only, it having been thought convenient rather to make good conditions for the preserving of the Town and Garrison than to hazard