COINAGE ACT 1971
and
TRIAL OF THE PYX ORDER 1975
(as amended)

TRIAL OF THE PYX 1993

VERDICT

of the Jury

Dated 7th May 1993

We, the undersigned, were duly sworn on 11th February 1993 before the Queen's Remembrancer at Goldsmith's Hall in the City of London to assay gold, silver Maundy, silver, nickel brass and cupro-nickel coins of Her Majesty, which were produced to us by officers of the Royal Mint. Accounts of the Deputy Master of the Royal Mint were produced to us and showed that the coins were made by the Royal Mint in accordance with the Coinage Act 1971 and various Proclamations and were ready for issue between 1st January 1992 and 31st December 1992 inclusive.

2. In this verdict any reference to the permitted variation from standard weight, fineness, composition or diameter is to the variation from the standard weight, fineness, composition or diameter which is allowed by the Act and the Proclamations.
3. We ascertained the number of coins in each packet produced to us and that it corresponded with the number which the officers of the Royal Mint represented the packet to contain.

4. Gold Coins

- (a) We took out one coin from each of the single packets of coins of one hundred pounds, fifty pounds, twenty-five pounds, ten pounds, five pounds and two pounds and fifty pence and sovereigns and half-sovereigns.

- (b) We weighed in bulk the coins taken out and ascertained that they were on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation being point nought nine eight (-0.098) of a gram below standard weight.

- (c) After that weighing, we melted the weighed coins of one hundred pounds, fifty pounds, twenty-five pounds and ten pounds into an ingot and assayed it, comparing it with the standard trial plate of gold produced to us by an officer of the Department of Trade and Industry, and we found that the metal of the ingot was within the permitted variation from standard fineness, the variation being point seven nought (+0.70) of a part per thousand above standard fineness.

- (d) Then we melted the weighed coins of five pounds and two pounds and fifty pence and the sovereigns and half-sovereigns into an ingot and assayed it, comparing it with the standard trial plate of gold, and we found that the metal of the ingot was within the permitted variation from standard fineness, the variation being one point four nought (+1.40) parts per thousand above standard fineness.

- (e) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets and ascertained that they were on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation being point one one (-0.11) of a gram below standard weight.

- (f) We then took out of the residue four coins of each of the denominations of one hundred pounds, fifty pounds, twenty-five pounds, ten pounds, five pounds and two pounds, a sovereign, a half-sovereign and fifty pence and weighed and assayed them separately.

- (i) We found that each of the coins so weighed was within the permitted variation from standard weight, the least to the greatest of the only variations being, in milligrams, as follows:

for the coins of one hundred pounds:	nine (+9) and twenty-three (+23) above and twenty-four (-24) and twenty-eight (-28) below standard weight;

for the coins of fifty pounds:	one (-1) below and two (+2), three (+3) and

	twenty-one (+21) above standard weight;		above standard fineness;
for the coins of twenty-five pounds:	one (+1), two (+2), five (+5) and six (+6) above standard weight;	for the coins of ten pounds:	point four nine (+0.49), point six four (+0.64), point six nine (0.69) and point seven seven (+0.77) above standard fineness;
for the coins of ten pounds:	one (+1), two (+2) and five (+5) above standard weight;	for the coins of five pounds:	point three six (+0.36), point six one (+0.61), point seven two (+0.72) and point eight one (+0.81) above standard fineness;
for the coins of five pounds:	three (-3) below, three (+3) above and sixteen (-16) and thirty-six (-36) below standard weight;	for the coins of two pounds:	point seven nine (+0.79), point seven nine (+0.79), point eight nine (+0.89) and point nine four (+0.94) above standard fineness;
for the coins of two pounds:	six (+6), six (+6) and seven (+7) above and eight (-8) below standard weight;	for the sovereigns:	point nine four (+0.94), point nine four (+0.94), one point one nought (+1.10) and one point one one (+1.11) above standard fineness;
for the sovereigns:	four (-4) below, four (+4) above and six (-6) and six (-6) below standard weight;	for the half-sovereigns:	point one nine (+0.19), point five four (+0.54), point six four (+0.64) and point eight nine (+0.89) above standard fineness; and for the half-sovereigns:	one (-1) below, two (+2) above, three (-3) below and four (+4) above standard weight; and	for the coins of fifty pence:	point seven four (+0.74), point eight two (+0.82), point nine four (+0.94) and point nine four (+0.94) above standard fineness.
for the coins of fifty pence:	three (+3) and twelve (+12) above, twenty-seven (-27) below and thirty-two (+32) above standard weight.
	(ii) Finally, we found that each of the coins so assayed was within the permitted variation from standard fineness, the least to the greatest of the only variations being, in parts per thousand, as follows:
for the coins of one hundred pounds:	point three four (+0.34), point four four (+0.44), point five three (+0.53) and point eight eight (+0.88) above standard fineness;
for the coins of fifty pounds:	point five four (+0.54), point five five (+0.55), point eight nought (+0.80) and point eight nine (+0.89) above standard fineness;
for the coins of twenty-five pounds:	point six nine (+0.69), point seven nine (+0.79), point eight nought (+0.80) and point nine four (+0.94)
		5. Silver Maundy coins
		(a) We took out all the coins from the packet of silver Maundy coins, weighed them in bulk and ascertained that they were on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation being point nought two four (+0.024) of a gram above standard weight.
		(b) We then assayed all the silver Maundy coins, comparing them with the standard trial plate of silver produced to us by an officer of the Department of Trade and Industry, and we found that the metal of the coins was on the whole within the permitted variation from standard fineness, the variation being two point nought four (+2.04) part per thousand above standard fineness.
		6. Silver coins other than Maundy coins
		(a) We ascertained that all the coins of each denomination, being coins of one pound, fifty pence, fifty pence pied forte, ten pence, ten pence pied forte and ten pence old size, weighed not more than one kilogram.
		(b) We also ascertained that all the coins contained in the packets weighed more than five hundred grams.
		(c) We took out all the coins of each denomination and weighed them in bulk and found that they were on the whole within the permitted variations from standard weights, the only variations being, in grams, as follow:
		for the coins of fifty pence:	point two eight (+0.28) above standard weight;
		for the coins of fifty pence pied forte:	point two one (-0.21) below standard weight;
		for the coins of ten pence:	point nought four (+0.04) above standard weight;
		for the coins of ten pence pied forte:	point one five (+0.15) above standard weight; and for coins of ten pence old size:	point one one (-0.11) below standard weight.
		(d) Finally, we assayed all the coins, comparing them with the standard trial plate of silver, and found that the metal of the coins was on the whole within the permitted variation from standard fineness, the variation being one point eight two (+1.82) parts per thousand above standard fineness.

7. Nickel brass coins

- (a) We ascertained that the coins of the denomination of one pound contained in the packets weighed more than one kilogram.
- (b) We took from each packet sufficient coins and grouped them into one lot, weighing not less than nine hundred and eighty grams nor more than one kilogram, and weighed it in bulk and ascertained that the coins in the lot were on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation being point five eight (+0.58) of a gram above standard weight.
- (c) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets and found that they were on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation being five point seven (-5.7) grams below standard weight.
- (d) We then assayed coins not weighing less in all than five hundred grams, comparing them with the standard trial plates of copper, nickel and zinc produced to us by an officer of the Department of Trade and Industry, and we ascertained that the metal of the coins was on the whole within the permitted variation from standard composition, the variations being minus point five four (-0.54) per centum of copper, plus point four nought (+0.40) per centum of nickel and minus point nought three (-0.03) per centum of zinc.
- (e) Finally, we measured the diameters of twenty coins and found that the average diameter of them did not vary from standard diameter.

8. Cupro-nickel coins

- (a) We ascertained that of the coins contained in the packets, those of each of the denominations of fifty pence, twenty pence, ten pence and five pence weighed more and those of the denomination of ten pence old size weighed not more than one kilogram.
- (b) From each packet of coins of fifty pence, twenty pence, ten pence and five pence we took out sufficient coins and grouped them into eleven lots so that each lot comprised coins of the same denomination and weighed not less than nine hundred and eighty grams nor more than one kilogram.
- (c) We then weighed each lot in bulk and found that it was on the whole within the permitted variation from standard weight, the variation or the least to the greatest of the variations, as the case may be, being, in grams, as follows:

for one lot of coins of fifty pence:	point five three (+0.53) above standard weight;
for one lot of coins of twenty pence:	one point nought two (+1.02) above standard weight;

- (f) We then assayed coins, not weighing less in all than five hundred grams, comparing them with the standard trial plates of copper and nickel, and we ascertained that the metal of the coins was on the whole within the permitted variations from standard compositions, the variations being as follows:

for the coins of twenty pence:	minus point two eight (-0.28) per centum of copper and plus point two seven (+0.27) per centum of nickel;

If a mild iron deficiency is present when Pregaday administration is started, this will be corrected by increased absorption of iron. The daily folate requirement rises steeply during the final trimester of pregnancy, and evidence of material depletion may be found. To ensure normal tissue folate levels in the mother after delivery a daily supplement of about 300 mcg is required during the second and third trimester of pregnancy. This does not obscure the blood picture of Addisonian pernicious anaemia. Pregaday is indicated during the second and third trimester of pregnancy for prophylaxis against iron deficiency and megaloblastic anaemia of pregnancy. TONBRIDGE AND MALLING BOROUGH COUNCIL

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1990

New and Amended Conservation Areas in Tonbridge and in Malling Rural Area

Notice is hereby given in pursuance of section 70 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 that the Tonbridge and Malling Borough Council has altered existing Conservation Areas and designated additional Areas as listed below.

Alterations have been made to the following existing Conservation Areas:

Addington, Fairlawne (Plaxtol), Fairseat, Ightham, Ightham Mote, Offham, Platt, Plaxtol, Tonbridge, Trottscliffe, West Peckham, Wrotham.

New Conservation Areas have been designated at:

Aldon (Offham), Budds Green (Shipbourne), Bullen Corner (East Peckham), Butts Hill (Wrotham), Claygate Cross (Plaxtol), Hildenborough, Little Mill (East Peckham), Offham Church, Old Soar and Allens (Plaxtol), Oldbury, Oxen Hoath/Hamptons, Quarry Hill (Tonbridge), Roughway (Plaxtol), Roydon (East Peckham), Snoll Hatch (East Peckham), (Stansted), Wrotham Water (Wrotham), Yotes Court (Mereworth).

Conservation Area designation provides certain additional controls over development. The key implications are:

- (i) control over demolition of most buildings;
- (ii) it is an offence to carry out works to trees without giving prior notification to the Borough Council;
- (iii) more restricted permitted development rights;
- (iv) the character or appearance of the area should be preserved or enhanced, and such considerations will be important in the determination of planning proposals.

Further information on the Conservation Area designations can be obtained from the Borough Council's Planning Services on 0732 844522 ext. 3421. Advice on individual development proposals within the Areas is available on ext. 3416.

Maps of the altered and new Conservation Areas may be inspected at the Council Offices at The Air Station, West Malling and at Tonbridge Castle during normal office hours.
