AN humble Address of the Right Honourable the Lord Blay, Lord Lieutenant of the County of Monaghan, the High Sheriff, Deputy-Governours, Custos-Rotulorum, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the said County; having been transmitted from Ireland to the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, was, in his Lordship's Absence presented to his Majesty by the Right Honourable James Stanhope, Esq; one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Stockholm May 21. O. S. The Hereditary Prince of Hesse-Cassel has put off his Journey to view the Avenues along this Coast, till the 25th of this Month; Count Ferfen one of the Senators having engaged his Highness to be present at the Marriage of his Son, which is to be Solemnized at Court on the 24th with the Countess Wachtmeister, who is one of the Queen Grandmother's Maid of Honour, and a considerable Fortune. We have not yet had any Account of Admiral Lillie since he put to Sea: 'Tis reported that he is ordered to Carlscrona, to joyn what Ships can be fitted out there. The King having lately sent an Order hither for advancing the Price of the current Copper-Plates from 6 to 9 Dollars, 'twas thought the Senate would have represented the ill Consequences thereof to his Majesty, and have received his further Pleasure thereupon. But his Majesty having so often expressly enjoyned them never to presume any more to suspend the Execution of what he thinks fit to direct, it was Yesterday resolved finally that his Majesty's said Order shall be published in all the Churches of this City to Morrow; and a printed Proclamation to the same Purpose, is sent to Day to all the Provinces: But the Minting of the small Copper-Pieces, which the King has also commanded shall be made to pass for whole and half Rixdollars, is, however suspended till further Order. The Attorney-General has not yet begun the intended Prosecution against the Senators.

Stralsund, June 7. O. S. The King of Sweden continues to take all manner of Precautions in order to put his Place into a good Posture of Defence, and the Works without the Town advance apace. Admiral Henck is said to be gone to make certain Dispositions for the Defence of the Isle of Rugen, where a Block-house is building to guard the Entrance into this Port called the new Deep, where 4 or 5 Frigates ride at Anchor on the same Design. In the Night between the 4th and 5th Instant, 50 Prussian Horse having passed the Pene attacked 30 Swedish Dragoons who had their Post near Demin; these expecting nothing less than such a Visit at that time of Night, had placed themselves about a Fire, when they received a Volley of Shot from the Prussians; which sudden Alarm both surprizing the Men and frigiting their Horses (who broke loose and un'a way) left the Swedes no other Means of saving themselves than by Flight; however, some few remained wounded on the Spot, and 3 or 4 were carried off Prisoners. His Swedish Majesty went from hence Yesterday immediately after Dinner, and is not yet returned, which makes it conjectured that he has taken a Turn to Demin, and that he may have formed some Design to revenge himself on the Prussians.

Copenhagen, June 18. The British Fleet under the Command of Sir John Norris, together with the Dutch Squadron, and all the Merchant Ships under their joint Convoy, having passed the Grounds of Copenhagen with a good Wind, came to Anchor in the Kiogerbocht, where on the 14th a Council was held on board the British Admiral's Ship the Cumberland, to concert measures for proceeding further up into the Baltick, and for conveying the Trade into their several Ports. The 17th at five in the Morning the Wind being fair, the two Fleets set sail together, and in continuing to blow a fresh Gale, 'tis thought they are got far up into this Sea.

Hambourg, June 25. The King of Prussia has made a Detachment from his Army of 12 Squadrons and two Batta-
