The Trent and Mersey Canal traverses South Derbyshire from west to east, roughly following the valley of the River Trent. For most of its length the Conservation Area boundary follows and includes the towpath hedge to the south and the canal bank to the north. It starts at the River Dove in the west and ends at the River Trent in the east. It broadens out in eight locations to include (west to east) High Bridge House at Egginton, part of Willington village and Dale Farms, Potlocks Farm, the Canal Turn Public House, part of Stenson village, Arleston House, Swarkestone Junction and Weston Grange.

- (2) With limited exceptions, it is an offence to cut down, top, lop, uproot, wilfully damage or wilfully destroy any tree in the Conservation Area except with the consent of the Local Planning Authority;
- (3) The Authority comes under a duty to formulate and publish proposals for the preservation and enhancement of the area and to pay special attention to the desirability of preserving or enhancing it in the exercise of its powers;
- (4) Planning applications for development which would, in the opinion of the Local Planning Authority, affect the character or appearance of the Conservation Area must be given publicity and representations received in consequence taken into account in determining the application;
- (5) Permitted development rights are more restricted than in other areas.

The designation became effective on 19th May 1994 and further information will be provided on application.
