ASSOCIATED GAS SUPPLIES LIMITED TARIFF CUSTOMER SCHEME

Recitals

- (A) Pursuant to sub-paragraph 19(4) of Schedule 5 to the Gas Act 1995 ("the Act") Associated Gas Supplies Limited ("AGAS") is required to make a scheme (the "Scheme") for determining the terms and conditions which are by virtue of sub-paragraph 19(2) of Schedule 5 to the Act to be incorporated into the contracts which are deemed to be made by AGAS with customers who, immediately before the appointed day were being supplied with gas through pipes by AGAS as tariff customers.
- (B) This document constitutes the Scheme mentioned in Recital A above which Scheme shall take effect on the appointed day.

1. Interpretation

In this Scheme:

- 1.1 "appointed day" shall mean the day appointed by the Secretary of State under section 18(2) of the Act.
- 1.2 "tariff customer" shall have the meaning given to it in section 14(5) of the Gas Act 1986.

2 The Scheme

2.1 AGAS hereby determines that all tariff customers being supplied immediately before the appointed day shall be supplied by virtue of this Scheme on the terms and conditions set out in the Schedule attached hereto, comprising House Holder Conditions, General Conditions and the AGAS Schedule of Charges.

Signed for and on behalf of the Associated Gas Supplies Limited by its duly authorised representative, P. G. Adams.

SCHEDULE

House Holders Conditions

1. The Price of Gas

- (a) If we expect you to consume less than 2,500 therms of gas per year, you will be regarded as a Domestic Customer. Your gas bill is calculated by estimating how much gas you will consume and multiplying it by the price per kilowatt hour of energy and then adding this to the Standing Charge, in accordance with the Schedule of Charges attached. We then divide that figure into 4 equal quarterly instalments or 12 equal monthly instalments according to your chosen payment method. Every time a meter read is taken AGAS will make an adjustment to your next bill to reflect the difference between the estimated and actual consumption.
- (b) VAT will be charged at the legally applicable rate on all supplies. If you owe us any money, even if the debt relates to a previous address and you have not paid the debt within 28 days of a written demand, we reserve the right to prevent you switching to a new supplier until you have paid it and any costs associated with recovering it. If the 28 days have not elapsed we may assign this amount to your next supplier who may require you to pay it together with any costs associated with recovering it.

2. Duration

- (a) This Agreement shall, subject to termination for breach of condition, continue until terminated by you on 28 days notice except where you cease to own or occupy the premises when it shall be terminated on the date you move out provided that you have given at least 48 hours notice. If you do not give the required amount of notice and you move out of your premises, this Agreement will terminate and you will cease to be liable to AGAS for all gas consumed on the earliest that any of the following occur (i) the 28th day after you have given notice, or (ii) the meter is next read, or (iii) gas is supplied to the premises pursuant to a request from another customer.
- (b) AGAS has the right to terminate this Agreement on not less than 30 days notice (subject to any consents required under its licence). You will then be offered a new Agreement on no less favourable terms to other Domestic Customers in similar circumstances.

3. Payment Details

Payment methods and frequencies shall be in accordance with the attached Schedule of Charges.

4. Gas Escapes

British Gas TransCo provide the emergency service for gas escapes. In the event of an escape of Natural Gas their telephone number can be found in the Telephone Book under GAS.

5. Supply

AGAS agrees to supply and the Customer agrees to buy the total requirement of Natural Gas delivered by pipeline to the address shown on the front of this Agreement according to the AGAS General Conditions which are available upon request, of which these House Holder Conditions form a part. Default in payment or damage to meters could lead to disconnection of your gas supply and AGAS may charge you for the costs of recovering outstanding payments or any costs arising because of the damage.

6. Deposits

AGAS reserves the right to charge a reasonable deposit. Unless it is reasonable for AGAS to retain it, the deposit together with interest will be paid to you within 2 months of the date of which this Agreement terminates providing the Customer has met all demands made (within 28 days of such demands having been made) for gas supplied in any period of 12 months.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

These General Conditions shall apply to all Customers except where expressly stated otherwise herein.

1. Provision of the Supply

(a) AGAS shall provide the supply to the supply point at each Customer's premises with effect from the appointed day on and subject to the terms of this Agreement, such supply being in accordance with regulations from time to time made pursuant to section 16(1) of the Gas Act 1986 with regard to gas quality. The gas is transported to the Customer's premises through pipelines owned and operated by ADL.

(b) AGAS shall not be liable to the Customer if supply is restricted or discontinued for so long as any direction to that effect is given under section 2(1)(b) of the Energy Act 1976 or where the Agreement terminates due to another supplier being given a direction under Standard Condition 5 of its licence in relation to the Customer's premises.

2. Safe Use of Gas and Equipment

(a) The Customer undertakes at all times to use the gas in a safe manner and so as not to interfere with the supply of gas upstream of the supply point.

(b) The Customer shall be responsible for all pipes and apparatus downstream of the supply point.

(c) AGAS shall wherever possible provide the Customer with reasonable prior notice of any necessary maintenance, repair or replacement of any facilities and shall use reasonable endeavours to carry out or procure the carrying out of such works at minimal inconvenience to the Customer.

3. Ownership

The following provisions shall apply:—

(a) Title to and risk in the gas supplied shall pass to the Customer at the supply point.

(b) The meter and any other equipment, pipes or apparatus of AGAS or ADL or British Gas TransCo are not and shall not become the property of the Customer.

(c) Customers shall only consume gas which has first passed through a meter. If the meter shows signs of having been interfered with by someone other than a person lawfully authorised to do so AGAS shall have the right to recover from the Customer the monetary value of any gas which it reasonably calculates to have been consumed since the interference in addition to any legal or administrative costs in so doing.

4. Liability

(a) AGAS shall indemnify the Customer against personal injury to or the death of any person or loss of or damage to any property real or personal to the extent that such injury, death, loss or damage arises in the course of or by reason of the supply and provided always and only to the extent that the same is due to negligence on the part of AGAS, subject to sub-conditions (b) and (c) below.

(b) The obligation of AGAS to indemnify the Customer under sub-condition (a) above shall be subject to an aggregate limit of £10,000,000 in any continuous period of 12 months in which the Customer takes a supply of gas under this Agreement save in the case of death or personal injury where this limit shall not apply.

(c) Notwithstanding anything expressed or implied in this Agreement, AGAS shall not be liable to the Customer for any loss of profits, contracts, production or revenue or for increased cost of working or business interruption howsoever caused.

(d) Provided always that none of the foregoing provisions of this Condition shall operate to exclude or restrict AGAS' liability for death or personal injury resulting from negligence.

(e) AGAS shall pay to the Customer (less any amount owing to AGAS pursuant to this Agreement) any amount paid directly or indirectly to it by ADL or British Gas TransCo for failure to convey gas to the Customer's premises.

5. Force Majeure

(a) If in or as a consequence of any circumstance or event which is beyond the reasonable control of either party it is not reasonably practicable for that party to perform any of its obligations (including without limitation where the performance by AGAS would be in breach of any law or licence condition or any transportation arrangement it has with ADL or British Gas TransCo) in accordance with this Agreement, such obligations (other than any obligations to make any payments under this Agreement) shall be suspended to the extent that and for so long as it is so impracticable. Whenever possible each party shall give to the other prior written notice of such suspension.

(b) AGAS is not obliged to supply or continue to supply (i) when the Customer has been legally disconnected, (ii) in circumstances beyond our control, (iii) where to do so would risk danger to the public, (iv) where the DGGS has directed that it shall not do so, (v) if the Customer has refused to give any deposit having been requested to do so, (vi) where the licence has been revoked or restricted, (vii) where it is required not to do so under the Energy Act 1976, (viii) when reasonably necessary to enable ADL to carry out its obligations under statute, (ix) where the Customer's meter or meter reading arrangements are not acceptable to AGAS in accordance with Standard Condition 8 of its licence, (x) for the duration of any request that ADL or British Gas TransCo may make to AGAS to not supply, (xi) for the duration of any maintenance ADL or British Gas TransCo may undertake.

6. Termination

(a) Subject to Clause 6(b) and 11 below, this Agreement will terminate where a direction has been given to another supplier pursuant to Standard Condition 5 of its licence in relation to the Customer's Premises.

(b) Where one party is a Domestic Customer, termination shall be according to either sub-paragraph (a) above or the provisions of Clause 2 of the House Holder Conditions which form part of this Agreement.

(c) Any termination of this Agreement shall be without prejudice to any rights or remedies of either party which arise prior to or as a result of termination.

7. Copyright and Confidentiality

(a) Copyright in this Agreement and in all documents produced by or on behalf of AGAS in connection with this Agreement shall remain with AGAS.

(b) Neither party shall, without the prior written consent of the other, disclose to any third party or otherwise make use of any confidential information which has come into its possession or which may in the course of this Agreement come into its possession relating to the other party, this Agreement or otherwise, nor shall it disclose to any third party anything contained in this Agreement. This restriction shall continue to apply unless and until such information comes properly into the public domain through no fault of either party.

(c) The obligations contained in this Condition shall continue notwithstanding any termination of this Agreement.

8. Waiver

No indulgence shown by either party to the other shall prevent that party subsequently insisting upon its rights and remedies under this Agreement.

9. Notices

Any notice given pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and may be served by personal delivery, prepaid recorded delivery or registered post to the addressee at its registered office for the time being and shall be deemed to have been received.

(a) in the case of personal delivery, at the time of delivery;

(b) in the case of recorded delivery or registered post, forty eight hours from the time of posting.

10 Interpretation

- (a) Without limiting the circumstances in which a new contract for the supply of gas may arise under the House Holder Conditions or General Conditions no variation shall be effective unless contained in a written document which is dated and refers to this Agreement and its date, identifies the Condition or Conditions which are to be varied and has been signed by an authorised representative of AGAS and countersigned by the Customer.
- (b) The headings in this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not affect the interpretation of any of its provisions.
- (c) This Agreement shall be construed by and governed in all respects in accordance with the laws of England and any disputes or differences shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Courts.

11 Variation of this Agreement

- (a) AGAS may (subject to any consents required under its licence) vary this Agreement.
- (b) Where the Customer is a party to a written agreement AGAS will notify the Customer within 10 days of any variation which is significantly disadvantageous to the Customer whereupon the Customer may, on 21 days notice, terminate this Agreement within 14 days of receiving notification from AGAS. If the Customer so terminates, the variation will be ineffective in the interim.

Part IVPrice Schedules as at the Appointed Day*APPENDIX*Relating to Paragraph 15*PART I*General Provisions relating to The Scheme*1 COMMENCEMENT, SCOPE AND APPLICATION*1.1 This Scheme:

- (a) operates on and from the Appointed Day;
- (b) is made under paragraph 19 of Schedule 5 to the Gas Act 1995; and
- (c) applies to customers of British Gas Trading Limited (referred to herein as "BGTL") who, immediately before the Appointed Day, were being supplied with gas through pipes by British Gas plc as Tariff Customers.

1.2 Without limiting the circumstances in which a new contract for the supply of gas may arise under the general law or the Gas Code, no collateral or other agreement shall have the effect of modifying the Terms and Conditions unless it is:

- (a) in writing, signed by or on behalf of BGTL (or, if entered into prior to the Appointed Day, British Gas plc); or
- (b) expressly referred to in, or contemplated by, these Terms and Conditions.

1.3 No provision of these Terms and Conditions affects or will affect the statutory rights of a customer who uses gas supplied by BGTL otherwise than in the course of a business.

1.4 Without limiting the generality of Paragraph 1.3, BGTL has no intention of excluding or restricting its liability to any person where such liability is, by virtue of the provisions of any statute, unable to be so excluded or restricted, including without limitation liability:

- (a) for death or personal injury resulting from the negligent acts or omissions of BGTL, its servants or agents;
- (b) under Part 1 of the Consumer Protection Act 1987; or
- (c) to the extent that a customer uses gas supplied by BGTL for purposes other than in the course of a business, for breach of any obligation or warranty implied by Sections 13, 14 or 15 of the Sale of Goods Act 1979, and these Terms and Conditions (including, without limitation, the provisions of Paragraph 10) are to be construed and interpreted accordingly.

2 DEEMED CONTRACT

2.1 Each customer shall be deemed to have contracted with BGTL, as from the Appointed Day, for a supply of gas in accordance with these Terms and Conditions.

2.2 Each Deemed Contract will continue to apply in respect of the supply of gas to a customer at particular premises (the "Supply Premises"), without prejudice to any of these Terms and Conditions expressed to have effect thereafter, until whichever of the following first occurs, namely:

- (a) subject to Paragraph 4.7, a new contract for a supply of gas to the Supply Premises comes into effect;
- (b) the Supply Premises are lawfully disconnected or the supply is lawfully cut off;
- (c) the Deemed Contract is validly terminated by BGTL or the customer in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 4 or Paragraph 9;

- (d) a direction given to another gas supplier, in pursuance of Standard Condition 5 of that supplier's licence, comes into effect in relation to the Supply Premises; or
- (e) BGTL ceases to be licensed to supply gas to the Supply Premises.

2.3 Without prejudice to The Transfer Scheme, the following transitional provisions apply in relation to gas charges and security deposits:

- (a) a gas bill issued by BGTL on or after the Appointed Day may cover not only charges for gas supplied on and after that date under a Deemed Contract but also charges for gas supplied prior to that date under the statutory provisions then in force;
- (b) where a gas bill was issued before the Appointed Day and full payment was not received by British Gas plc before that day, payment of the unpaid amount shall be recoverable by BGTL;
- (c) BGTL shall be entitled, in respect of any customer, to retain for its own benefit any payment, whether by cheque or otherwise, made to British Gas plc on or after the Appointed Day of any sum due to BGTL in respect of charges for gas supplied or any security deposit; and
- (d) a security deposit provided to British Gas plc in respect of the supply of gas (but not for the provision and laying of pipes) prior to the Appointed Day shall thereafter be held by BGTL on the basis set out in these Terms and Conditions.

2.4 Subject to any consent of the Director that may be required under the provisions of the Licence and the giving of such notice to customers as is required (if at all) by Paragraph 2.5, BGTL may vary:

- (a) these Terms and Conditions; or
- (b) the provisions of any one or more Deemed Contracts, by a document referring expressly to this Paragraph and signed by a duly authorised employee of BGTL.

2.5 Notwithstanding any other provision of these Terms and Conditions, and save as the Director otherwise consents, where the provisions of a Deemed Contract (including the Schedule of Charges) with a domestic customer are varied at the discretion of BGTL to the significant disadvantage of such customer:

- (a) BGTL shall take reasonable steps to give to that customer, no later than 10 days after the variation comes into effect, a notice:
- (i) giving details of the variation in question; and
- (ii) giving details of the customer's right to terminate the Deemed Contract;
- (b) the customer may, within 14 days of receiving the notice, give 21 days' notice terminating the Deemed Contract; and
- (c) if the customer does terminate the Deemed Contract, the variation shall not be effective for the interim period,

PROVIDED THAT the provisions of (a)(ii), (b) and (c) above shall not apply to variations as aforesaid to the Deemed Contracts of a customer at Supply Premises which, at such time, were in a Reserved Area in circumstances where the customer is on the lowest price contract terms applicable to that customer's circumstances and method of payment before the variation in question has taken effect and will continue to be on such terms after the variation in question has taken effect, and for this purpose "Reserved Area" means any part of Great Britain in respect of which the restriction on domestic supply licences (as that term is defined by section 6(8) of the Gas Act 1995) authorising the supply of gas to any premises contained in section 6(2) of the Gas Act 1995 has not ceased to apply either:

- (a) in accordance with the terms of section 6(2) of the Gas Act 1995; or
- (b) by virtue of an order made under section 6(6) of the Gas Act 1995, provided that in deciding whether or not any part of Great Britain falls within the Reserved Area no account will be taken of sections 6(3), (4) or (5) of the Gas Act 1995.

2.6 BGTL may, at any time after another gas supplier is licensed to provide a supply of gas to Supply Premises in a particular geographic area or market, terminate the Deemed Contracts with its customers of any class within that area or belonging to that market, provided that it gives at least 30 days' notice to all the relevant customers specifying:

- (a) the date upon which the Deemed Contracts with the relevant customers will terminate; and
- (b) that after such termination:
- (i) each relevant customer may continue to obtain a supply of gas from BGTL under a new contract on terms no less favourable than those being offered to customers in similar cases or classes of case; or

(ii) in the absence of a new contract being agreed between the customer and BGTL or another gas supplier, any continued supply of gas will be in pursuance of a contract deemed to arise under paragraph 8 of the Gas Code.

PART II

Provisions relating to all Deemed Contract supplies of gas

4 SUPPLY ARRANGEMENTS

4.1 Ownership of the gas supplied, and risk in it, passes to the customer at the outlet of the meter.

4.2 Without prejudice to the provisions of the Gas Code relating to meter inaccuracies, BGTL shall not be responsible for, nor for any consequences of, a defect in, or relating to, a meter or other gas fitting not owned or provided by it.

4.3 Where a customer intends to cease, or ceases, to own or occupy any Supply Premises, such customer may, subject to giving at least 48 hours' prior notice thereof to BGTL (or such lesser period as BGTL may accept in the circumstances), terminate the Deemed Contract with effect from the time such customer ceases to either own or occupy the Supply Premises.

4.4 Where a customer who has ceased to own or occupy particular Supply Premises fails to give the notice required under Paragraph 4.3, then the Deemed Contract with that customer shall terminate and such customer shall cease to be liable to pay for any supply of gas to the Supply Premises after whichever of the following first occurs, namely:

- (a) the 28th day after the customer gives notice to BGTL that such customer has ceased either to own or occupy the Supply Premises;
- (b) the time at which the register of the meter is next read after the customer has ceased either to own or occupy the Supply Premises, either by BGTL or by a gas supplier who is, or is about to become, a Relevant Supplier;
- (c) the meter index reading is estimated by BGTL after the customer has ceased to either own or occupy the Supply Premises; or
- (d) the time from which gas is supplied to the Supply Premises, by BGTL or another gas supplier, in pursuance of a request made by a person other than the customer.

PROVIDED THAT the customer shall not be liable to pay any charges for gas supplied which are paid by the customer's successor or another person, owning or in occupation of the Supply Premises.

4.5 Where a customer ceases to require a supply of gas at the Supply Premises (otherwise than in the circumstances mentioned in Paragraph 4.3), such customer may, subject to giving at least 28 days' prior notice thereof to BGTL or such lesser period as BGTL agrees in the particular case, terminate the Deemed Contract with effect from the time when the Supply Premises are disconnected or the supply of gas thereto is cut off in consequence of the customer ceasing to require such a supply.

4.6 Where a customer enters into a new contract for a supply of gas at the Supply Premises from another gas supplier, the Deemed Contract with that customer will, subject to Paragraph 4.7, automatically terminate at the time that the contract with the other gas supplier for the supply of gas to the former Supply Premises comes into effect.

4.7 Where either:

- (a) BGTL is notified by the Relevant Transporter either that BGTL has ceased, or from a specified date will cease, to be the Relevant Shipper to particular Supply Premises (when in fact the relevant customer still requires a supply of gas from BGTL); or
- (b) the Relevant Transporter fails to notify BGTL that BGTL has ceased to be the Relevant Shipper to particular Supply Premises (when in fact the relevant customer has entered into a contract for the supply of gas from another supplier, whether or not licensed under section 7(A)(1) of the Gas Act 1986), the relevant Deemed Contracts shall in each case continue or be deemed to continue in full force and effect, notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph 4.6, and the receipt of the notification referred to in (a) above shall be deemed to constitute circumstances beyond the control of BGTL for the purposes of Paragraph 9.3(b).

5 CALCULATION, CHARGES AND PAYMENT METHODS

5.1 The gas supplied by BGTL will be charged for according to the number of kilowatt hours supplied, which number shall be calculated in the same manner as the number of kilowatt hours conveyed to the premises falls to be calculated in pursuance of section 12(1) of the Gas Act 1986, PROVIDED THAT, in relation to gas supplied during the period of up to 10 months beginning with the Appointed Day, or such longer period as the Director may accept:

- (a) no adjustment will be made in respect of a temperature and pressure conversion factor within the meaning of the regulations under section 12 of the Gas Act 1986; and
- (b) without prejudice to (a), the calorific value of the gas will be determined on a weekly basis from daily calorific values,

AND PROVIDED FURTHER THAT, on such an adjustment as is referred to in (a) coming to be made, a consequential reduction in charges for gas supplied will be made.

5.2 The gas charges, whether applicable generally or to any case or class of cases or to any geographic area, will be determined in accordance with the Schedule of Charges then in force.

5.3 Gas charges may include:

- (a) a standing charge in addition to the charge for the actual gas supplied, and
- (b) a rent or other charge in respect of any gas meter or associated gas fittings provided, or arranged to be provided, by BGTL to the premises of the customer.

5.4 BGTL may vary the Schedule of Charges from time to time in the manner contemplated by Paragraph 2.4 (and, if applicable, in compliance with the requirement to give notice to domestic customers under Paragraph 2.5) and upon doing so it will:

- (a) publish details of any variation to the Schedule of Charges which is likely to affect its domestic customers, together with the date on or from which the variation is to take effect, in such a manner as in its reasonable opinion will secure adequate publicity for the variation to those domestic customers; and
- (b) notify those non-domestic customers of any variation in the Schedule of Charges which affects them.

5.5 A customer must pay for gas supplied by one of the methods set out in the Schedule of Charges applicable to such customer, and at the applicable rate.

5.6 Subject to the terms of any arrangement which provides for the payment thereof by instalments (or otherwise), whether in effect at the Appointed Day or entered into thereafter between BGTL and any customer, a bill is due for payment as soon as it is issued.

5.7 Where a prepayment meter is installed:

- (a) BGTL may issue an account statement to notify any amount by which the amount prepaid is less than the gas charges owing to BGTL; or
- (b) at its discretion and with the customer's permission, BGTL may reset the calibration of the meter to collect the amount of the underpayment.

5.8 All charges payable hereunder are subject to any United Kingdom tax, duty or impost on gas (including but not limited to value added tax) or on the processing sale or supply of gas whether such tax, duty or impost is:

- (a) payable by BGTL in respect of gas supplied hereunder; or
- (b) payable by anyone else and reimbursable by BGTL.

5.9 If any charge to a customer includes a fraction of 1p, such fraction:

- (a) if it is 0.5p or less, is to be disregarded; and
- (b) if it is more than 0.5p, is deemed to be 1p.

5.10 All fractions of 1p are disregarded to the extent that they relate to Value Added Tax.

5.11 BGTL may at its discretion either estimate the meter index reading (an "estimated reading") or be prepared to accept a customer's own reading (a "customer reading") for charging purposes, but reserves the right to require at any time its own reading or that of an authorised meter reader. Where an estimated reading differs from the actual meter index and a bill is issued on the basis of that estimated reading (an "estimated bill"), then a customer shall have the right to return promptly a customer reading and BGTL may at its discretion:

- (a) replace the estimated bill with a bill based on the customer reading;
- (b) adjust the balance outstanding to reflect the difference between the estimated reading and the customer reading; or
- (c) at its discretion, arrange for its own meter reading to be taken and issue a bill based on that reading.

5.12 Subject to the provisions of the Gas Code relating to meter inaccuracies, in the event of the meter index not recording the volume of gas that has been used by the customer, BGTL may make such assessments as can be shown to be reasonable having regard to the actual usage of gas before and (if appropriate) after the period of estimated use.

6 SECURITY

6.1 BGTL may at any time require reasonable security from a customer for the payment of gas charges. Such security may be in the form of a deposit (a "security deposit").

6.2 BGTL will not require a security deposit from a domestic customer:

- (a) who takes, or is prepared to take, a supply of gas through a prepayment meter, unless it is reasonable to do so as a result of the conduct of that customer; or
- (b) which would exceed:
 - (i) the charges payable in respect of the highest aggregate consumption of gas by the customer reasonably expected to occur in any period of six months during the 12 months following the date on which the security deposit is requested; or
 - (ii) such other amount as may be specified in the conditions of the Licence from time to time.

6.3 Where BGTL holds a security deposit from a domestic customer for more than one month, it will bear simple interest at the rate which is from time to time 1 per cent. less than the base rate of Barclays Bank Plc (or such other base rate as may be designated by the Director). BGTL will pay the accrued interest to the customer when the security deposit is returned to the customer. If the security deposit is required to be set off against unpaid gas charges, the interest will also be set off in so far as the security deposit does not satisfy the debt owing to BGTL.

6.4 Except where it is reasonable as a result of the conduct of the domestic customer for a security deposit to be retained, BGTL will repay a security deposit obtained from such a customer, within two months of the expiry of any period of 12 months during which either:

- (a) all demands made in writing for payments due in respect of gas charges have been complied with by the customer within 28 days after the making of the demand; or
- (b) no demands of the type referred to in (a) have been made by reason of the customer complying with other obligations under a Deemed Contract relating to the making of payments for gas charges.

6.5 Subject only to Paragraph 6.6, BGTL shall otherwise repay a security deposit to a customer net of any due and unpaid gas charges:

- (a) within a reasonable period of BGTL ceasing to supply gas to that customer; or
- (b) in the case of a non-domestic customer, when it is satisfied that there is no longer any reasonable need to retain it.

6.6 If BGTL:

- (a) with the agreement of another gas supplier (the "transferee"), assigns to that other supplier its rights and liabilities under the Deemed Contracts with particular customers (the "transferred customers"); and
- (b) ceases to supply gas to the transferred customers by reason of the assignment,

BGTL may elect that Paragraph 6.5 will not have effect in relation to any or all security deposits held by it from such customers, in which case BGTL may pass such security deposits to the transferee, together with the interest thereon calculated as provided in Paragraph 6.4.

7. METERS

7.1 The customer shall at all times exercise reasonable care to keep free from damage any meter installed on the Supply Premises. The customer shall reimburse BGTL any costs incurred by it as the meter provider or which it has to pay to a public gas transporter or meter provider in respect of replacing or repairing a meter which is damaged as a result of any act or omission on the part of the customer.

7.2 A customer may make arrangements for:

- (a) a supply of gas to be taken at the Supply Premises through a meter that belongs to that customer or is lent or hired to that customer otherwise than by BGTL or by the Relevant Transporter; or
- (b) the meter to be read by a person other than someone arranged by BGTL,

PROVIDED THAT, where the meter arrangements are such as are described in Paragraphs (a) or (b), BGTL may (subject to Standard Condition 8(2)) elect not to continue to supply gas to that customer except on terms that the meter or the arrangements in question are acceptable to BGTL.

7.3 Without limiting the generality of Paragraph 7.2, where:

- (a) BGTL requires the supply of gas to be taken through a prepayment meter and either:
 - (i) the meter is not one of that type; or
 - (ii) it is a meter of that type, but the calibration or arrangements for dealing with prepayments are, or become, unacceptable to BGTL; or
- (b) the meter does not offer the facilities requisite for the purposes of the Deemed Contract or having regard to the Terms and Conditions,

BGTL may refuse to accept such meter and either elect not to continue to supply gas or require, as a condition of the continuation of such supply, that the meter, the calibration thereof or the arrangements for dealing with prepayment (as the case may be) are rendered acceptable to BGTL.

7.4 Where customers use a token meter, it is their responsibility to ensure that sufficient units are purchased and, in the case of customers who use an electronic token meter, they shall take all reasonable steps to retain and look after the plastic card or other device keeping it clean, safe and free from damage.

7.5 BGTL reserves the right to make a charge upon the customer to recover any costs incurred by it or the public gas transporter in responding to a request for attendance where the problem which gave rise to such a request results from the failure of the customer to observe the obligations contemplated by Paragraph 7.1 or 7.4.

7.6 For the purposes of Paragraph 7.7, "Approved Person" means:

- (a) a person approved by the Director as possessing expertise satisfactorily to connect a meter and so ensure that the gas supplied through it is duly registered (the "requisite expertise") or a person of a class or description of persons so approved;
- (b) an undertaking approved by the Director as having staff possessing the requisite expertise; or
- (c) without prejudice to the foregoing, until the expiry of the period of 9 months beginning with the Appointed Day, an officer of the Relevant Transporter possessing the requisite expertise or the Relevant Transporter, and, for the purposes of the above definition, "approved by the Director" means approved by the Director for the purposes of Standard Condition 22 generally and "staff" includes officers, servants and agents.

7.7 Where:

- (a) in pursuance of arrangements made by the customer, any meter is connected with the service pipe through which gas is conveyed to that customer's premises;
- (b) the person making the connection referred to in (a) is not an Approved Person; and
- (c) BGTL subsequently arranges for an Approved Person to inspect the connection, the customer shall reimburse BGTL for any costs or charges incurred or to be paid by it in connection with the inspection referred to in (c) including, without limitation, any appropriate remedial work carried out where the connection is found by the Approved Person to be unsatisfactory.

7.8 Subject to Paragraph 7.9 where a Deemed Contract is terminated by either party, BGTL may:

- (a) recover any meter owned or leased by it; and
- (b) authorise any of its officers, servants or agents to enter the Supply Premises for the purpose of removing any such meter.

7.9 BGTL shall not exercise its rights of entry and recovery under Paragraph 7.8 if another supplier undertakes, prior to the date of termination of the Deemed Contract, to make an arrangement with BGTL to purchase or otherwise acquire that meter, and for the meter to remain in place, on terms that BGTL receives such compensation (if any) as may be appropriate having regard to the value of the meter.

8 GAS LEGISLATION AND LICENCE OBLIGATIONS

8.1 No provision of these Terms and Conditions or of any Deemed Contract is intended to confer any right or impose any obligation which is incompatible with the rights and obligations of BGTL under either the Gas Act 1986 or its Licence and these Terms and Conditions are to be interpreted and construed accordingly.

8.2 Notwithstanding Paragraph 8.1, nothing in any Deemed Contract shall be regarded as an agreement by BGTL with the customer to comply with its obligations under either the Gas Act 1986 or its Licence.

8.3 The exercise by BGTL or the customer of any of their respective rights, or the performance of any of their respective obligations under the Gas Act 1986 or the Licence, will not constitute a breach of any term or condition of a Deemed Contract.

9. RELIEF FROM SUPPLY OBLIGATIONS

9.1 Without prejudice to the provisions of Paragraphs 9.2 and 9.3, BGTL shall not be liable for any breach of contract caused by, and shall be relieved from its obligation to make gas available in consequence of, any Act of God, insurrection or civil disorder, war or military operations, national or local emergency, acts or omissions of Government, highway authority or other competent authority, industrial disputes of any kind (whether or not involving BGTL employees) fire, lightning, explosion, flood, subsidence, exceptionally severe weather, acts or omissions of persons or bodies for whom BGTL is not responsible (including, without limitation, acts or omissions of a Relevant Transporter or another gas supplier) or any other cause whether similar or dissimilar outside the control of BGTL.

9.2 If and so long as circumstances such as are mentioned in Paragraph 9.3 continue, BGTL shall not be required to supply gas nor shall it be liable for any failure to supply gas to any Supply Premises.

9.3 The circumstances referred to in Paragraph 9.2 are :

- (a) that the Supply Premises in question are disconnected by the Relevant Transporter, or the supply of gas thereto is cut off under any provision of the Gas Code;
- (b) those beyond the control of BGTL which prevent it from complying with the requirement in question but this shall not relieve BGTL from the obligation to take all requisite steps, so far as is reasonably practicable, to secure the necessary supplies of gas and their conveyance to the premises of domestic customers;
- (c) those in which compliance with the requirement in question would, or might, involve danger to the public and BGTL has taken all such steps as it was reasonable to take both to prevent the circumstances from occurring and to prevent them from having that effect; and
- (d) those provided for in the Gas Act 1986 otherwise entitling the Relevant Transporter to no longer maintain the connection of any premises to one of its relevant mains.

9.4 In the case of a non-domestic customer, BGTL may terminate the Deemed Contract:

- (a) forthwith on written notice if the other party is wound up either voluntarily or compulsorily (save for the purposes of a reconstruction or amalgamation); or if any administrator or administrative receiver or receiver shall be appointed in respect of the whole or any part of the other party's assets, or if it shall make or offer to make any arrangements or composition for the benefit of creditors generally; or if the other party (being an individual) becomes bankrupt or insolvent; or
- (b) on seven days' written notice if the other party is in material breach of the Terms and Conditions during which time the party in breach may remedy such breach at no cost to the party which has served the notice but in default thereof the Deemed Contract shall terminate at the end of the period of notice.

9.5 Notwithstanding Paragraph 9.4(b) above, BGTL may terminate the Deemed Contract with a non-domestic customer forthwith on notice, in circumstances where BGTL, as a licensed gas supplier, would be entitled to cut off the supply of gas to the customer under the Gas Act 1986.

9.6 For the purposes of Paragraph 9.7 "Pipe-line System Emergency" means circumstances which are such that, in the opinion of the Relevant Transporter (which opinion is not manifestly unreasonable):

- (a) the safety of its pipe-line system is significantly at risk;
- (b) the safe conveyance of gas by that system is significantly at risk; or
- (c) gas conveyed by that system is at such a pressure, or of such a quality, as to constitute, when supplied to premises, a danger to life or property.

9.7 In the event and for the duration of a Pipe-line System Emergency:

- (a) BGTL is entitled, at the request of the Relevant Transporter or the Relevant Shipper, to discontinue the supply of gas to the Supply Premises of any non-domestic customer; and
- (b) each non-domestic customer shall use its best endeavours to refrain from using gas immediately upon being told by BGTL or the Relevant Transporter that it should do so.

9.8 Where BGTL is given a direction, under section 2(1)(b) of the Energy Act 1976, prohibiting or restricting the supply of gas to specified persons, then, for so long as the direction is in force and in so far as is necessary or expedient for the purposes of, or in connection with, the direction:

- (a) BGTL is entitled to discontinue or restrict the supply of gas to any customer; and
- (b) each customer shall refrain from using, or restrict its use of, gas, on being told by BGTL that it should do so.

10. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

10.1 The exclusions in Paragraph 10.2 and 10.3 do not:

- (a) affect the statutory rights of a customer, who uses gas other than in the course of a business; or
- (b) exclude or restrict any liability of BGTL for death or personal injury resulting from the negligent acts or omissions of BGTL, its servants or agents.

10.2 Without prejudice to the provisions of Paragraph 9, any Liability on the part of BGTL shall be excluded to the extent that it is or results from:

- (a) Economic Loss; or
- (b) any loss or damage of any nature suffered by any customer or any other person which, due to the existence of special circumstances not within the actual knowledge of BGTL as at the Appointed Day, is of a type, or magnitude, not within the reasonable contemplation of BGTL, as at the Appointed Day, as a risk to be borne by it in connection with the supply of gas under a Deemed Contract.

10.3 Where, in respect of any Liability or Claim arising out of or from the same incident or series of related incidents, BGTL is entitled to recover an amount (the "indemnified amount") from any Relevant Transporter, then to the extent that such Liability on the part of BGTL is not excluded by the provisions of Paragraph 10.2, it shall be limited to the payment of a sum not exceeding the indemnified amount (or, where there is more than one Claim to which the indemnified amount relates, each a "Related Claim", the proportionate share of the indemnified amount which such Claim bears to the total amount of the Related Claims); PROVIDED THAT the foregoing limitation shall not operate to restrict or exclude Liability on the part of BGTL which arises from its own negligence.

10.4 There shall be set off, from any sum payable by BGTL in respect of any Liability, such compensation as is paid or payable separately by BGTL under a standards of service package whether under its Licence or otherwise.

10.5 Each provision of this Paragraph 10 is to be construed as a separate limitation applying and surviving if, for any reason, one or other of the said provisions is held inapplicable or unreasonable in any circumstances and shall remain in force notwithstanding the termination of any Deemed Contract of which they form part.

10.6 In this Paragraph 10, unless the context otherwise requires: "Claim" means any claim, suit, action, cause of action, demand on proceedings and includes without limitation claims for legal costs or indemnity;

"Economic Loss" means any loss of the following kinds, whether direct or indirect or consequential and whether or not foreseeable:

- (a) loss of profit, revenue, future production, or anticipated savings or increased cost of working;
- (b) loss of market, business, goodwill or contracts; or
- (c) the payment or repayment of any amounts (or any acceleration thereof) to third parties where such payment or repayment arises from or in the course of any trade or business carried on by the customer; and

"Liability" means a liability or Claim of any nature, for or in respect of any loss, which arises (whether under these Terms and Conditions or under the law of negligence or in any other way) directly or indirectly out of or in connection with any supply or purported supply of gas or any failure to supply gas.

11 MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Where, notwithstanding the operation of Paragraph 8.1, any provision of these Terms and Conditions is held to be illegal or unenforceable, in whole or in part, under any enactment (including, without limitation, the Gas Act 1986), rule of law or condition of the Licence, such provision or part thereof shall, to that extent, be deemed not to form part of these Terms and Conditions, but the enforceability of the remainder of these Terms and Conditions shall not be affected.

11.2 Any delay on the part of BGTL in enforcing any of the Terms and Conditions or any right or remedy in respect of this Scheme shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any right or remedy whatsoever of BGTL.

11.3 Termination of a Deemed Contract shall not affect any accrued rights and obligations of BGTL and the customer arising prior to, or which are expressly provided to take effect after, such termination.

11.4 The contents and effect of this Scheme and the contracts made thereunder shall be governed by the Laws of England and Wales, unless the supply address is in Scotland, in which case they shall be governed by the Laws of Scotland. The Courts of England and Wales or, where the supply address was Scotland, the Courts of Scotland shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes which may arise out of or in connection with this Scheme and this provision applies for the exclusive benefit of BGTL.

BGTL hereby submits and the customer is deemed to submit to the jurisdiction of the said respective Courts for the purposes of the contract deemed to have been made by virtue of this Scheme. Accordingly, any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Scheme (in the Paragraph referred to as "Proceedings") may be brought in such Courts.

Nothing in this Paragraph shall limit the right of BGTL to take Proceedings against a customer in any other Court of competent jurisdiction, nor shall the taking of Proceedings by BGTL in one or more jurisdictions preclude the taking of Proceedings by it in any other jurisdiction, whether concurrently or not.

12 NOTICES AND REQUESTS

12.1 Any notice or other document required to be given to BGTL under these Terms and Conditions must be delivered by hand or sent by fax or prepaid post to BGTL, at the registered office of BGTL or at the address shown on the customer's latest bill.

12.2 Any notice or other document required to be given by BGTL under these Terms and Conditions may be delivered to the customer personally or be left at or sent by pre-paid post or fax, to the address of the Supply Premises, or such other address as is shown on the relevant customer's bill (the "Billing Address"). Such notice shall be deemed to have been served:

- if delivered, at the time the notice is handed to the customer or delivered to, or left at, the Billing Address;
- if posted to the Billing Address, 48 hours after posting; or
- if sent by fax to such number as is supplied to BGTL by the customer, 12 hours after transmission by fax.

12.3 A customer shall not dispute service of a notice to the Billing Address on the basis that the person whose name appears on the notice is not the customer, unless such customer has previously notified BGTL of such error and BGTL has failed within a reasonable time to correct such error in its records.

12.3 If a customer wishes to be supplied with a copy of this Scheme or any document which is expressed in this Scheme to be available on request, such copy or document may be obtained on written application to:

- cut off the supply of gas to the premises; and/or
- take any further action consistent with safety to persons or property.

16.2 Where entry is made to any premises pursuant to the powers in Paragraph 16.1 the officer shall cause as little damage as possible and ensure that the premises are left no less secure by reason of the entry.

16.3 Any officer of BGTL or a person authorised by BGTL to act on its behalf in accordance with Paragraph 16.1 shall carry a duly authenticated document showing that person's authority and produce it to anybody who reasonably requests to see it.

Gas supplied will be charged under Standard Credit insofar as it is not charged under DirectPay, OptionPay or Prepayment.

2.2.7 OptionPay shall cease to apply, and Standard Credit shall apply, after the bill subsequent to the occurrence of any of the following, where applicable:

(a) cancellation, by a customer, of participation in the Regular Payment Scheme by monthly standing order arrangement;

- (b) ceasing to take a supply of gas from the Company at the premises to which the bill relates.

2.2.11 For the purposes of administration of the OptionPay, the Company may, on a reasonable basis, determine the date on which certain payments by quarterly billed customers are deemed to have been made—provided that such date shall not be later than the actual date of receipt of payment by the Company.

2.3 Standard Credit

Gas supplied will be charged under Standard Credit in so far as it is not charged under DirectPay, or OptionPay.

REGULAR PAYMENT SCHEME APPENDIX TO SCHEDULES OF CHARGES

The following conditions apply and are to be read together with those set out in the Schedule of Charges

1. The Regular Payment Scheme is open to quarterly billed customers with a credit meter who wish to make regular equal weekly, fortnightly or monthly instalments.

Customers should contact their usual office who will forward the necessary documents for completion and return.

2. (a) Customers who do not have an overdue account can join the Regular Payment Scheme and pay by Direct Debit or Standing Order.

(b) Customers who have overdue accounts, and customers not paying by Direct Debit or Standing Order can join the Regular Payment Scheme and pay equal monthly, weekly or fortnightly instalments by cash, cheque or gas savings stamps. Payment is made at a Post Office using a plastic account identification card.

(c) The Company reserves the right to refuse to allow customers to join the Regular Payment Scheme:—e.g. where previous payment arrangements have failed.

3. The levels of payment will be based on a year's consumption (last year's or estimated according to appliances for new customers) and evaluated at prices current at the time of quotation. Where customers joining the Regular Payment Scheme include a current unpaid bill, the payment level will be based on the current bill plus one year's consumption as above.

4. Quarterly statements showing payments made and the quarter's gas consumption and standing charges based on actual or estimated meter readings may be issued.

5. An interim review may be carried out 6 monthly to ensure the sufficiency of instalment amounts, which may result in an adjustment in the payment amount.

6. Accounts will be subject to yearly reconciliation of consumption and payments.

7. Provided all payments have been made and at the agreed rate, any debit balance at the yearly reconciliation will be carried forward for recovery in the next year's payments.

8. Refunds of credits will be made at the yearly reconciliation on customer request or automatically where the value is equal to 2 or more instalments.

9. Customers can leave the Regular Payment Scheme at any time they wish and any debit balance will become due and payable. Equally, any credit balance will be refunded to them. Customers will be removed from the Regular Payment Scheme by the Company when the Payments are two or more instalments in arrears and, after written notice, they have not been brought up to date or an arrangement for their payment made with the Company.

Customers paying by Direct Debit or Standing Order can be removed from the Regular Payment Scheme by the Company when they do not agree (agree and action in the case of standing order customers) any reasonable increase in monthly instalments notified to them by the Company. Direct Debit and Standing Order Customers leaving the Scheme for any of the above reasons will revert to the Company Standard Credit Tariff from after the end of the quarter in which they leave the Regular Payment Scheme.

APPENDIX

(Relating to Paragraph 15)

APPENDIX (Relating to Paragraph 15)

PRELIMINARY

1. In this Appendix, unless the context otherwise requires:

"connect", in relation to any premises, means connect to a main that is used for the conveyance of propane to customer's premises and "disconnect" and "re-connect" have corresponding meanings except that they also include discontinuing or, as the case may be, resuming the conveyance of propane to the premises;

CONSUMPTION OF PROPANE TO BE ASCERTAINED BY METER

2(1) The customer shall take his supply through a meter:

- (a) the use of which does not contravene section 17 of the Gas Act 1986; and
- (b) which is of a type appropriate for registering the quantity of propane supplied.

(2) In default of the customer's doing so or agreeing to do so, BGTL may disconnect, cut off the supply of propane or, as the case may be, refuse to connect his premises.

METERS TO BE KEPT IN PROPER ORDER

3(1) The customer shall at all times, at his own expense, keep a meter:

- (a) which belongs to him, or which is lent or hired to him and is owned otherwise than by BGTL; and
- (b) by which the quantity of propane supplied is registered, in proper order for correctly registering the quantity of propane.

(2) In default of the customer doing so, BGTL may disconnect or cut off the supply of propane to his premises.

(3) BGTL shall at all times, without charge to the customer, keep any meter which is owned by it and is lent or hired to the customer in proper order for correctly registering the quantity of propane supplied.

(4) Sub-paragraph (3) above is without prejudice to any remedy BGTL may have against the customer for failure to take proper care of the meter.

(5) BGTL:

- (a) shall have power to remove, inspect and re-install any meter by which the quantity of propane supplied is registered; and
- (b) shall, while any such meter is removed, fix a substitute meter on the premises; and, subject to sub-paragraph (6) below, the cost of removing, inspecting and re-installing a meter and of fixing a substitute meter shall be defrayed by BGTL.

(6) Where such a meter is removed for the purpose of being examined by a meter examiner in accordance with section 17 of the Gas Act 1986, the expenses incurred in removing, examining and re-installing the meter and fixing a substitute meter shall be defrayed as follows:

- (a) if the examination is carried out at the request of any person and the meter is found in proper order, by that person;
- (b) if the meter is not so found, by the person required by sub-paragraph (1) or (3) above to keep the meter in proper order.

(7) A meter is found in proper order for the purposes of sub-paragraph 3.6 above if it is found to register correctly or to register erroneously to a degree not exceeding the degree permitted by regulations under section 17 of the Gas Act 1986.

(8) Nothing in this paragraph shall apply in relation to any meter which, in pursuance of an agreement falling within section 17(14) of the Gas Act 1986, is used for ascertaining the quantity of propane supplied to a customer if either:

- (a) the agreement was entered into before the appointed day; or
- (b) BGTL has agreed that the meter should be kept in proper order by a person other than the customer.

METER AS EVIDENCE OF QUANTITY OF PROPANE SUPPLIED

4(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, the register of the meter shall be prima facie evidence of the quantity of propane supplied.

(2) Where the meter is found, when examined by a meter examiner appointed under section 17 of the Gas Act 1986, to register erroneously to a degree exceeding the degree permitted by regulations under that section, the meter shall be deemed to have registered erroneously to the degree so found since the relevant date, except in a case where it is proved to have begun to do so on some later date.

(3) In sub-paragraph (2) above "the relevant date" means:

- (a) the penultimate date on which, otherwise than in connection with the examination, the register of the meter was ascertained; or
- (b) if regulations so provide, such other date as may be determined by or under the regulations.

INSTALLATION OF METERS IN NEW PREMISES ETC.

5(1) This paragraph applies where a meter is to be used to register the quantity of propane supplied to a customer and:

- (a) a new or substituted pipe is to be laid between BGTL's main and the meter; or
- (b) the meter is to be installed in a different position.

(2) Subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, the meter shall be installed as near as practicable to BGTL's main, but within a building comprised in the premises.

(3) The meter may be installed otherwise than within a building comprised in the premises if it is installed either:

- (a) in accommodation of a type and construction approved by BGTL by an approval given in relation to premises generally, or to any class or description of premises; or
- (b) in a separate meter house or other accommodation outside a building comprised in the premises which is approved by BGTL in the case of those particular premises.

(4) If the requirements of this paragraph are not complied with, BGTL may disconnect the customer's premises.

METERS FOR DISABLED PERSONS

6. Where BGTL for the purpose of meeting the needs of a disabled person:

- (a) alters the position of a meter which is owned by BGTL and is lent or hired to the customer; or
- (b) replaces such a meter with one which has been specially adapted,

BGTL shall not charge the customer for the alteration or replacement.

RECOVERY OF CHARGES ETC.

7(1) Sub-paragraph (3) applies where:

- (a) a demand in writing is made by BGTL for the payment of any of the charges due to it from the customer in respect of the supply of propane to the customer's premises, or to any premises previously owned or occupied by him; and
- (b) the customer does not pay those charges within 28 days after the making of the demand.

(2) Sub-paragraph (3) below also applies where:

- (a) a request in writing is made by BGTL for the provision of a deposit by way of reasonable security for the payment of the charges due to it from a customer in respect of the supply of propane to the customer's premises; and
- (b) the customer does not provide such a deposit within 7 days after the making of the request.

(3) BGTL may, after giving not less than 7 days' notice of its intention:

- (a) cut off the supply to the customer's premises by disconnecting the service pipe at the meter or by such other means as it thinks fit; and
- (b) recover any expenses incurred in so doing from the customer.

(4) The powers conferred by sub-paragraph (3) shall not be exercisable as respects any charges or deposit the amount of which is genuinely in dispute.

RESTORATION OF SUPPLY WITHOUT CONSENT

8(1) Where a customer's premises have been disconnected, or the supply of propane to a customer's premises has been cut off by BGTL, the customer shall not, without the consent of BGTL, reconnect the premises or restore the supply.

(2) If the customer acts in contravention of sub-paragraph (1) above, BGTL may again disconnect the premises or, as the case may be, cut off the supply.

FAILURE TO NOTIFY CONNECTION OR DISCONNECTION OF SERVICE PIPE

9(1) The customer shall not connect a meter with a service pipe through which propane is conveyed to the premises by BGTL, or disconnect any meter from any such pipe, unless he has given BGTL, so that it is received by BGTL at least 48 hours before he does so, notice in the prescribed form of his intention to do so.

(2) Subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, a notice under sub-paragraph (1) above shall contain:

- (a) details of the time and place of the proposed connection or disconnection; and
- (b) such other information as may be prescribed.

(3) In so far as it is not reasonably practicable for a notice under sub-paragraph (1) above to contain any information required by sub-paragraph (2)(b) above, it shall be a sufficient compliance with that requirement if the information is given to BGTL within 48 hours after the connection or disconnection is effected.

FAILURE TO NOTIFY DISCONNECTION OF METER

10(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, this paragraph applies where the meter through which propane has been supplied is completely disconnected, that is to say, is disconnected both from the service pipe and from all other pipes within the premises.

(2) This paragraph does not apply where the meter:

- (a) is disconnected for the purposes of an examination under section 17 of the Gas Act 1986 or an inspection under paragraph 3(5) above; or
- (b) is disconnected for a particular purpose (whether repair or repositioning of the meter, detection of a gas leak or otherwise) and is intended to be reconnected.

(3) Except in so far as it is not reasonably practicable for him to do so, the customer shall:

- (a) ascertain the name and address of the owner of the meter; and
- (b) inform that owner of the disconnection and of the address at which the meter will be available for collection.

MAINTENANCE ETC OF SERVICE PIPES

11(1) BGTL shall carry out any necessary work of maintenance, repair or renewal of any service pipe by which propane is conveyed by it to the customer's premises, whether or not the service pipe was supplied and laid at BGTL's expense.

(2) The cost of any work carried out in accordance with sub-paragraph (1) above shall be defrayed as follows:

- (a) if the work was made necessary by any intentional act or culpable negligence of the customer and BGTL so requires, by the customer;
- (b) in any other case, by BGTL.

USE OF ANTI-FLUCTUATORS AND VALVES

12(1) Where the customer uses propane for working or supplying a compressor, that is to say:

- (a) an engine, gas compressor or other similar apparatus; or
- (b) any apparatus liable to produce in any main of BGTL a pressure less than atmospheric pressure,

he shall, if so required by BGTL by notice, fix in a suitable position and keep in use an appliance provided by him which will effectually prevent pressure fluctuation in BGTL's pipe-line system and any other inconvenience or danger being caused to persons by reason that he and they are supplied with propane conveyed through the same system.

(2) Where the customer uses for or in connection with the consumption of propane:

- (a) any air at high pressure ("compressed air"); or
- (b) any gaseous substance not conveyed by BGTL ("extraneous gas"),

he shall, if so required by BGTL by notice, fix in a suitable position and keep in use an appliance provided by him which will effectually prevent the admission of the compressed air or extraneous gas into the service pipe or into any main through which propane is conveyed by BGTL.

(3) Where the customer is required by this paragraph to keep in use any appliance, he shall at his own expense keep it in proper order and repair, and repair, renew or replace it if it is not in proper order or repair.

(4) The customer shall not be entitled to use a compressor, or any apparatus for using compressed air or extraneous gas, unless he has given to BGTL not less than 14 days' notice of his intention to do so; but this sub-paragraph shall not apply to the use of any compressor or apparatus which was lawfully in use immediately before the appointed day.

(5) If the customer makes default in complying with any provision of this paragraph, BGTL may disconnect the customer's premises.

(6) BGTL shall have power to disconnect, remove, test and replace any appliance which the customer is required by this paragraph to keep in use; and any expenses incurred by BGTL under this sub-paragraph shall, if the appliance is found in proper order and repair, be paid by BGTL, but otherwise shall be paid by the customer.

IMPROPER USE OF GAS

13. If the customer improperly uses or deals with propane so as to interfere with the efficient conveyance of propane by BGTL (whether to the customer or to any other person), BGTL may, if it thinks fit, disconnect the customer's premises.

NO OBLIGATION TO RESTORE SUPPLY WHERE CONSUMER IN DEFAULT

14(1) This paragraph applies where the customer's premises have been disconnected or where the supply of propane to those premises has been cut off by BGTL in pursuance of paragraph 2(2), 3(2), 5(4), 7(3), 8(2), 12(5) or 13 above.

(2) BGTL shall not be under any obligation to reconnect the customer's premises or, as the case may be, resume the supply of propane to the customer's premises until the customer either is no longer an owner or occupier of the premises or:

- (a) has made good the default, or remedied the matter, in consequence of which the premises were disconnected or the supply was cut off; and
- (b) has paid the reasonable expenses of disconnecting and reconnecting the premises or, as the case may be, of cutting off the supply and restoring the supply.

(3) In this paragraph "customer", in relation to a disconnection or cutting off under paragraph 8(2) above, means:

- (a) the owner of the premises at the time when the reconnection was made, or the supply was restored, without BGTL's consent:
 - (i) if the premises were unoccupied at that time; or
 - (ii) if that reconnection or restoration of supply was made by him or on his behalf; and
- (b) the occupier of the premises at that time in any other case.

ENTRY ON DISCONTINUANCE OF SUPPLY

15(1) This paragraph applies where:

- (a) BGTL is authorised by any provision of the Gas Act 1986 to disconnect any premises, or, as the case may be, to cut off or discontinue the supply of propane to the premises; or
- (b) the customer occupying premises supplied with propane by BGTL ceases to require a supply of propane.

(2) Any officer authorised by BGTL, after 24 hours' notice to the occupier, or to the owner of the premises if they are unoccupied, may at all reasonable times, on production of some duly authenticated document showing his authority, enter the premises for the purpose of:

- (a) disconnecting the premises, or cutting off or discontinuing the supply of propane to the premises; or
- (b) removing any meter or other propane fitting owned by BGTL.

(3) The notice required to be given by sub-paragraph (2) above may, in the case of unoccupied premises the owner of which is unknown to BGTL and cannot be ascertained after diligent inquiry, be given by affixing it upon a conspicuous part of the premises not less than 48 hours before the premises are entered.

ENTRY FOLLOWING DISCONTINUANCE OF SUPPLY

16(1) This paragraph applies where a customer's premises have been disconnected, or a supply of propane to the customer's premises has been cut off by BGTL.

(2) Any officer authorised by BGTL may at all reasonable times, on production of some duly authenticated document showing his authority, enter the premises for the purpose of ascertaining whether the premises have been reconnected, or the supply has been restored, without BGTL's consent.

ENTRY FOR REMOVING FITTINGS AND METERS

17(1) This paragraph applies where the customer ceases to take a supply through a meter or fitting owned by BGTL.

(2) Any officer authorised by BGTL, after 24 hours' notice to the occupier, or to the owner of the premises if they are unoccupied, may at all reasonable times, on production of some duly authenticated document showing his authority, enter the premises for the purpose of removing the meter or other gas fitting.

(3) Sub-paragraph 15(3) above applies for the purposes of this paragraph as it applies for the purposes of that paragraph.

ENTRY FOR REPLACING, REPAIRING OR ALTERING PIPES

18(1) Any officer authorised by BGTL, after 7 clear days' notice to the owner of any premises, may at all reasonable times, on production of some duly authenticated document showing his authority, enter the premises for the purpose of:

- (a) placing a new pipe in the place of any existing pipe which has already been lawfully placed; or
- (b) repairing or altering any such existing pipe.

(2) The notice required to be given by sub-paragraph (1) above may, in the case of premises the owner of which is unknown to BGTL and cannot be ascertained after diligent inquiry, be given by affixing it upon a conspicuous part of the premises.

(3) In cases of emergency arising from defects in any pipes entry may be made under sub-paragraph (1) above without the notice required to be given by that sub-paragraph, but notice of the entry and the justification for it shall then be given as soon as possible after the occurrence of the emergency.

PROVISIONS AS TO POWERS OF ENTRY

19(1) BGTL shall not authorise any Officer to exercise any powers of entry conferred by this Appendix unless BGTL has taken all reasonable steps to ensure that he is a fit and proper person to exercise those powers.

(2) Where in pursuance of any powers of entry conferred by this Appendix, entry is made on any premises by an officer authorised by BGTL:

- (a) the officer shall ensure that the premises are left no less secure by reason of the entry; and
- (b) BGTL shall make good, or pay compensation for, any damage caused by the officer, or by any person accompanying him in entering the premises, in taking any action therein authorised by this Appendix, or in making the premises secure.

(3) Any officer exercising powers of entry conferred by this Appendix may be accompanied by such persons as may be necessary or expedient for the purpose for which the entry is made, or for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above.

The area of land is an extension to the Barsby Conservation Area which was designated under the provisions of sections 69 and 70 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990, on 21st December 1994.

A map of the extended Conservation Area may be inspected, free of charge, at the Planning and Technical Services Department, Nottingham Road, Melton Mowbray, during normal office hours on Monday to Friday inclusive.
