From Saturday July 21. to Tuesday July 24. 1716.

St. James's, July 23.

THE following Address to His Majesty, which was subscribed at the Visitation by the Bishop, and about four Hundred of the Clergy, was this Day presented to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, by the Reverend Dr. Cannon, Archdeacon of Norfolk, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and Lord Lieutenant of the County of Norfolk.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty. . The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean, Archdeacons, and Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church, with the Chancellor and Clergy of the Diocese of Norwich.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects having, through the Blessing of God upon your Majesty's Counsels and Arms, the Opportunity of meeting together in Peace for the discharge of our several Duties, do humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon that Success under which we enjoy the Benefits of our excellent Constitution, both in Church and State.

As we had a just Abhorrence of the late unnatural Rebellion, and the Principles of those who abetted it, and prayed for the defeat of so wicked an Enterprize; so have we returned our most hearty Thanks to God for the Disappointment of those pernicious Designs, which, had they succeeded, must have involved us in the most deplorable Confusion, and transmitted Misery down to our latest Posterity.

We do most humbly assure your Majesty, that in order to prevent, as much as in us lies, the like Attempts being made for the future, we will, in our several Stations, discourage all Tendencies to Sedition, and press upon the Minds of the People committed to our Charge, the Duties of Obedience, and peaceable Submission to your Majesty's Person and Government, in Conformity to the Character we bear, and the Rules of the holy Religion we profess.

And may it please God, who has graciously placed, and hitherto defended your Majesty upon the Throne of these Kingdoms, to continue the same good Providence over you, for the Preservation of our Religion and Liberties; and after a long, a quiet, and a glorious Reign, may the Crown descend in your Majesty's Royal House to all Generations.

Which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

Ratisbon, July 23. Letters of the 11th Instant from the Imperial Camp at Futack bring no News of Moment. Nothing had then passed, and though they were so far advanced, the Appearance of a Peace, as several thought, was not quite vanish'd. Advices of the 6th from Segedin say, That Soliman Baffa of Aleppo, was arrived at Temeswar 2 Days before wth 1000 Foot, and 2000 Horse: That he had quarter'd the Janisaries in the Town, but encamped with the Horse near the Bridge of Ordria on the River Temes, about 2 Miles beyond that Place: That 2 Hungarians were arrived there Post from Bender with Letters; and that another was come out of Upper Hungary disguis'd in a Peasant's Habit, and immediately sent forward to Nissa, where the Grand Vizier lay with the Army, and expected 2 Sons of the Tartar Han, one with 14, and the other with 3000 Men; but the Han himself stay'd at home, to observe the Motions of the Muscovites. The Turkish Army could be at Belgrade from Nissa in Seven Marches; and Achmet Baffa was to stop at Semendria with the English and Dutch Ambassadors, and M. Fleischman, to be ready to go to Belgrade on Occasion. Three Days ago we had Letters from Venice, which gave an Account, that the Turkish Fleet had appeared near Cape Matapan, and the Venetians, on that Advice, advanced with all their Naval Force to attack them: But on Notice that 40000 Turks were marching by Land to besiege Perga, the Captain-General returned with all his Gallies, to cover Corfu, where he had left only Two Thousand Men, Regular Troops: The rest of the Venetian Fleet, being only 33 Ships, did not think fit to make any Attempt against against the Turks, who had 60 Ships, 30 of which were of the Line of Battle. They therefore observed one another, but nothing had passed to the 29th of June.

Venice, July 17. On the 13th Instant the Chevalier Morosini returned hither from his Extraordinary Ambassay at Rome. The Captain of an English Ship, which is newly arrived here from the Levant, relates, that he saw the Triumphant Lyon, one of our Men of War, in the Gulph of Larissa, sailing towards Corfu with 3 others Ships. Letters from Corfu of the 3d of this Month advise, that the Ottoman Fleet being under Sail to surprize 11 of our Men of War, was disappointed, and thereupon steered towards Barbary: But fresher Letters of the 6th say, they are returned and come into the Gulph, and having extended their Line, which consists of 60 Sail, betwixt Otranto and Corfu, they hope to prevent the Junction of the Auxiliaries, and to cut off the Communication between Venice and Corfu. We have an Account, that the Fleet of this Republick is come to Corfu, and expect to be joined by the Auxiliaries, by the way of the Canal of Malta.

Brussels, July 30. They write from Vienna, that notwithstanding the Clamours raised against M. Jaupain, by the People of these Countries, the Emperor has thought fit to continue him Director-General of the Posts in all the Austrian Netherlands, and to give a Pension of 12000 Florins a Year to the Prince de la Tour, in Consideration of a Sum of Money which that Prince advanced the Emperor, when his Imperial and Catholick Majesty was at Barcelona. M. Thisquens, one of the Commissioners for regulating the Separation of Limits between the Austrian and French Flanders, is come hither from Lille, to give the Imperial Minister an Account of that Negotiation, which advances but very slowly. Baron Dondervelt, Deputy-Governor of the Province of Limburg, who has been in this Town about three Weeks, to receive Count Kinigsegg's Directions about the Affairs relating to that Province, returned Yesterday to his Government. The Duke and Dutches of Mouraghe passed through this Place on the 25th Instant, in their Way to the Spaa. Letters from Vienna give Grounds to believe, that the Marquis de Prié is set out for the Netherlands before this Time: Some say he was to depart the 15th Instant, and others that the Day was not fixed. They speak variously of the Power he is vested with; and we do not suppose that the Import of his Commission will be known before he has finished his Negotiation at the Hague, whence he is to come to this Place to take the Administration of the Government upon him, during the Absence of Prince Eugene of Savoy.

St. James's, July 23. Yesterday His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales received the Communion in St. James's Church.

On the 21st the second and third Regiments of His Majesty's Foot-Guards passed in Review before His Royal Highness in Hyde-Park.

Whitehall, July 23. This Day came Advice, that His Majesty arrived at Hanover on Sunday the 15th Instant.
