ENVIRONMENT AGENCY—THAMES REGION

Notice of application for a licence to abstract water

Notice is hereby given that an application is being made to the Environment Agency, Thames Region, by Thames Water Utilities Ltd., Nugent House, Vastern Road, Reading, Berkshire RG1 8DB, for a licence to abstract water from underground strata (Great Oolite) at Meysey Hampton, Gloucestershire (National Grid Reference SU 113 988).

The application is to replace the current licence, after it expires at the end of December 1997, with a new one with no change to the conditions of the licence and so there will be no increase to the amount of water that can be abstracted. The licence will be time limited to expire after a period of 5 years. The quantities applied for are a peak daily rate of 11,370 cubic metres per day and an annual rate of 3,327,000 cubic metres per year. The water will be used for public water supply in the local area and for supply to Swindon.

A copy of the application and of any map, plan or other document submitted with it may be inspected, free of charge, at Meysey Hampton Post Office, School Road, Meysey Hampton GL7 5JS, at all reasonable hours during the period beginning on Friday, 14th November 1997 and ending on Monday, 15th December 1997.

Any person who wishes to make representations about the application should do so in writing to the Abstraction Control Manager, Environment Agency, Thames Region, Kings Meadow House, Kings Meadow Road, Reading, Berkshire RG1 8DQ, before the end of the said period.

J. R. Sexton, on behalf of Thames Water Utilities Ltd.

Thames Water recognises the concerns regarding the potential impacts of abstraction from the Cotswolds groundwater sources and as part of a phased strategic reduction of abstraction in the area is seeking this renewal on a time limited basis for 5 years maximum. The renewal is necessary to allow sufficient time to:

- study further the ecological effects of abstraction on the Cotswolds streams;
- identify the extent to which individual abstractions have an effect on the water environment and, hence, the extent of reduction in abstraction at each source to optimise the benefits to river flow overall; and
- time to develop an alternative supply strategy on the basis of a strategic reduction in abstraction from the Cotswolds sources.

It is recognised that a reduction in abstraction at certain of the Cotswolds groundwater sources during summer months will be of benefit in alleviating low flows in parts of the River Churn and the Ampney Brook but this reduction cannot be implemented until infrastructure modifications have been carried out to enable water to be transferred from other sources as a replacement.

Studies carried out so far have shown that there may be more benefit in reducing abstraction at the source at Latton, rather than at Meysey Hampton, or the best solution may be to partially reduce abstraction at both sources. It may also be necessary to reduce abstraction at Baunton. It is necessary to carry out further fieldwork during periods of low flow during summer months as well as to carry out further analysis of results to identify clearly what the optimum solution will be. It is estimated that this work will take 3 years to complete. The further studies will be undertaken principally by the Environment Agency with some involvement by Thames Water in carrying out abstraction trials.

When these studies are complete and the volumes needed to replace the reductions in abstraction at these sources are known, the scheme required to provide the alternative resources can be designed and constructed. It is likely that the scheme to provide the replacement resources will necessitate significant capital works to enable a major increase in transfer capability from outside the area to serve Swindon. We expect this to take an additional 2 years to complete.

Therefore, continued abstraction is required for a further period of 5 years which necessitates the licence being extended for this period, thereafter reducing abstraction from the Cotswold sources. 11th November 1997. (484)
