Marathon Oil North Sea (GB) Ltd

OFFSHORE PETROLEUM PRODUCTION AND PIPE-LINES (ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL EFFECTS) REGULATIONS 1998

LICENCE P957—LICENCE HAVING EFFECT UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT 1998

Pursuant to Regulation 9(7) of the above Regulations, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry gives notice that, being content that the requirements of the above Regulations have been satisfied, he has pursuant to Licence P957, granted consent to Marathon Oil North Sea (GB) Ltd to the drilling of an exploration well in Block 153/5 (hereafter referred to as "the project") subject to Marathon Oil North Sea (GB) Ltd conducting operations in respect of the project in accordance with the relevant environmental statement

Block 153/5 lies 93 kilometres from the Scottish coast, 110 kilometres from the UK/Faroes median line, and 100 kilometres from St Kilda

The Secretary of State is of the view, having regard to the environmental statement prepared in respect of the project and the comments received from those consulted, that the project is not likely to have a significant effect on the environment. In coming to this view, the Secretary of State has taken into account advice received from a number of independent expert sources including the Joint Nature Conservation Committee, the Scottish Fisheries Research Services, the Sea Mammals Research Unit of St Andrew's University and Dr John B Wilson, of the Royal Holloway College, University of London

The Secretary of State has considered, among other matters the potential effects of the project on Lophelia pertusa, a marine coral known to inhabit the seas to the west of Scotland, a fragment of which has been recorded 56 kilometres from the proposed well, the potential impact of noise from the drilling operations and potential oil spills on whales, dolphins and seabirds, whether seabed animals should be identified to species level in order to determine whether impact on such animals is significant or not, and whether the potential impact of the consumption of any hydrocarbons which might result from any future exploitation of any reserves which may be discovered in Block 153/5 should be taken into account in coming to a decision on whether or not to grant consent to the project. Having taken the advice of the organisations listed earlier, the Secretary of State considers that any cuttings resulting from the project and likely to reach Lophelia pertusa accumulations would be so dispersed as to have no significant smothering effect on the coral. Lophelia pertusa is found in areas of relatively high current speeds and is essentially 'self cleaning'. The routine occurrence of "submarine storms" results in the exposure of the coral to large amounts of inorganic material in its natural state. It is therefore highly unlikely that the minimal additional amounts of input which might result from the project over a relatively short time period (2 to 3 months) would have a significant effect. In addition, all of the chemicals to be used in the project will have been tested for toxicity to OSPAR agreed standards, semi-submersible drilling rigs are relatively quiet and generally no more noisy than large ships and it is very unlikely that broad band noise above ambient levels would be detectable at a distance of more than one kilometre. Given the low density of whales and dolphins in the area, the low probability of an oil spill, and the contingency plans Marathon Oil North Sea (GB) Ltd are required to have in place, the chance of significant impact to the population of cetaceans or seabirds is very low, it is not necessary to identify seabed animals to species level. Community sensitivity and diversity can be assessed without necessarily identifying every individual to species level. This is reflected in the EC Directive on the Assessment of the Effects of Certain Public and Private Projects on the Environment (85/337/EEC as amended by Directive 97/11/EC) itself which is brought into effect in the United Kingdom by the Offshore Petroleum Production and Pipe-lines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1998 and 1999, as it is far from a foregone conclusion that exploitable reserves of hydrocarbons will be discovered as a result of exploratory drilling, it is neither required nor expected, under the 1998 Regulations, that an environmental statement supporting a project should address the consequences of the exploitation of as yet undiscovered hydrocarbons or what impact the emissions from any other such undiscovered hydrocarbons in the region might produce. However, the UK is already putting in place measures to ensure that Kyoto commitments on climate change are met and this project or possible subsequent development will not jeopardise the achievement of Kyoto targets. In addition, the potential resources which might be realised as a result of the project represent an important area of economic growth and can be produced with less harm to the environment than is the case in other parts of the world. If hydrocarbons were discovered, any proposal to exploit them would be subject to further consent by the Secretary of State, to an environmental assessment pursuant to the Offshore Petroleum Production and Pipe-lines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1999 and to a number of other offshore environmental controls including the Merchant Shipping (Oil Pollution Preparedness, Response and Cooperation Convention) Regulations 1998, the Prevention of Oil Pollution Act 1971 and the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Oil Pollution) Regulations 1996.

The Secretary of State also considers that, although the Government does not accept that the Habitats Directive (92/43/EEC) extends to the UK Continental Shelf, safeguards to marine habitats and species applied in licensing this well are such as to ensure a degree of protection to the marine environment commensurate with the requirements of the Directive. The Secretary of State is of the view that his consideration of this project would not be materially altered by the requirements of the Habitats Directive if it were to apply, given that in his view the effect of the project on the environment will be both de minimis and transient

The Environment Agency in pursuance of section 64 of the Water Resources Act 1991 and Regulation 13 of the Water Resources (Licences) Regulations 1965, has formulated proposals to vary licence number 8/36/11/S/58 granted under the Water Resources Act 1991 and the Ely Ouse—Essex Water Act 1968.

The licence authorises the Agency to abstract water from the River Stour at Wixoe in Suffolk, for transfer to the River Pant at Great Sampford in Essex, for the purpose of augmenting water resources in Essex. The transfer of water to the River Pant is conditional upon water first being discharged in equivalent volumes to the River Stour from other elements of the Ely Ouse Transfer Scheme.

Without augmentation, the upper reaches of the River Pant are prone to drying up which can result in environmental problems including fish kills. Under the current licensed arrangement the Agency is unable to maintain transfers to the River Pant if any other component of the Transfer Scheme providing water to the headwaters of the River Stour is out of operation.

The Agency is proposing a variation of abstraction licence number 8/36/11/S/58 to enable the Wixoe Pumping Station to continue to be used to pump water for the purpose of augmenting the flow of the River Pant when other elements of the Scheme providing transfers of water to the River Stour are closed down for

- (i) Inspection, maintenance and repair of the tunnel or pipelines,
- (ii) Pump maintenance or repair,
- (iii) Any unforeseen emergency.

The Agency is therefore seeking to ensure that the overall river environment associated with the Transfer Scheme can be protected during periods of essential maintenance and/or repair to any component of the Transfer Scheme.

A copy of the proposals and of any maps, plans or other documents prepared in connection with them may be inspected, free of charge, during the period beginning on 1st July 1999 and ending on 28th July 1999, at Haverhill Public Library and the Environment Agency as follows:

Haverhill Public Library, Camps Road, Haverhill, Suffolk, Monday 9.30 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday 9.30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday 9.30 a.m. to 1 p.m., Thursday 9.30 a.m. to 7 p.m., Friday 9.30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday 9.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m.

Any person who wishes to make representations about the proposals should do so in writing to the Regional General Manager, for the attention of G W Hargreaves, at the address below, before the end of the period. Copies of all representations received will be forwarded to the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions. After the expiry of the period the Environment Agency will be entitled to pass a resolution by virtue of which the variation to the Licence to Abstract Water shall be deemed to be granted unless the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions, either in consequence of any representations made with respect to those proposals, or otherwise, requires the applications for the licence variations to be made to him.
