Swale Borough Council

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1990

Notice is hereby given that Swale Borough Council in pursuance of its powers under section 69 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 has determined that the following areas, as more fully described in the Schedule to this notice, are areas of special architectural or historic interest the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance and that the Council has accordingly designated them as conservation areas:

(a) Dargate; (b) Fostall; (c) Hartlip Village; (d) Chestnut Street, Borden; (e) Harman's Corner, Borden; (f) Hearts Delight, Borden; (g) The Street, Borden; (h) Goodnestone; (i) Graveney Bridge; (j) Graveney Church; (k) Mile Town, Sheerness; (l) Lynsted; (m) Bogle; (n) Shepherds Hill; and (o) Cellar Hill and Greenstreet.

Designation has a number of effects, the principal ones of which are that:

- (i) Conservation area consent must be obtained from the Council before unlisted buildings (other than excepted buildings) within the conservation area are demolished.
- (ii) Six weeks notice must be given in writing to the Council before any tree is cut down, topped, lopped, uprooted or otherwise subjected to works. There are exceptions to this requirement; for example trees which are covered by a Tree Preservation Order and trees which are dying, dead or dangerous are subject to separate procedures.
- (iii) Permitted development rights under the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (which allow for certain alterations and extensions to properties and certain other minor forms of development to take place without the need for planning permission) are more limited within conservation areas; for example, planning permission may be required for works consisting of or including the exterior cladding of buildings.
- (iv) In carrying out its functions under the Planning Acts the Council is required to pay special attention to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of the area.

Full details of the effect of designation and copies of the Council's supplementary planning guidance booklet on "Conservation Areas" can be obtained from the Planning Services section of the Council at the address below.

The existence of the Conservation Areas referred to in the Schedule below will be revealed by Local Land Charge Searches against properties included in the areas.

Definitive plans of the conservation areas showing the boundaries marked with a black line, which take precedence over the Schedule, may be inspected in the Planning Services section of Swale Borough Council at the address given below during normal office hours. Copies of the plans, relevant to their areas, have been deposited with the Parish Councils. Plans showing the boundaries of Dargate, Fostall, Goodnestone, Graveney Bridge, Graveney Church, Lynsted, Bogle, Cellar Hill and Greenstreet, and Shepherds Hill conservation areas can also be inspected at the Council's District Office in Preston Street, Faversham; a plan showing the boundary of the Mile Town, Sheerness conservation area can also be inspected at the Council's District Office in Trinity Road, Sheerness.

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners for the Harbour of Cowes ("the Commissioners") have applied to the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions to make a Harbour Revision Order under section 14 of the Harbours Act 1964.

The Order will alter the constitution of the Commissioners. The object of the alteration is to give effect to the guidance contained in the government report "Modernising Trust Ports—a Guide to Good Governance". Under the new constitution the Commissioners will normally consist of a body of ten. Nine Commissioners will be appointed by the Commissioners. The Harbour Master and Chief Executive will also hold office as a Commissioner. Under the terms of the Order the appointed Commissioners will retire in rotation. The Order provides that the ten Commissioners may co-opt not more than two persons to serve as additional Commissioners for such period not exceeding twelve months as those ten Commissioners may specify. The new constitution date will be 1st May 2001 or the date when the Order comes into force, whichever is the later.

The Order will increase the Commissioners' borrowing powers, amend existing statutory requirements as to the Commissioners' accounts and repeal or revoke certain statutory provisions.

The proposed Order would not authorise a project. (i) detained and returned to the country or place of origin;
(ii) or (at the discretion of the Post Office) forwarded charged, in the case of each packet, with such amount of postage as the Post Office may in the particular case determine (not exceeding the amount of postage which would have been prepayable thereon if it had been originally posted in the British postal area (singly) as a first class letter); and if a packet shall be so forwarded, the amount charged thereon shall be payable on or before the delivery of the packet, and the Post Office may withhold the packet from delivery until such amount has been paid.

(c) In this sub-paragraph "person" includes any corporation or unincorporated association of persons or partnership, and "any one person" shall be construed accordingly; and for the purposes of this sub-paragraph a postal packet (by whomsoever and wheresoever made up) shall be deemed to have been posted by or on behalf of a person, corporation, association or partnership if it was posted for the purposes of that person, corporation, association or partnership.

(2) On the posting of an outgoing postal packet the sender shall fill up such certificates and other documents and affix such labels respecting the contents of the packet as may be required by the law of the country or place in which the packet is posted or to which it is addressed, or as the Post Office may direct.

(a) it may be forwarded charged with the postal deficiency or,
(b) it may be returned to the sender in order that the postage deficiency be made good.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-paragraph (1), where no part, or a part only, of the postage payable on an outgoing postal packet (including an air mail packet) has been prepaid, the Post Office (whether or not requested so to do by the sender) may (if it thinks fit), instead of dealing with the packet in accordance with that sub-paragraph, affix to the packet stamps to the value of the postage deficiency, or endorse thereon an indication that it should be treated as if the full postage thereon had been paid, and the packet shall thereupon be forwarded as if the full postage thereon had been prepaid; and the sender of a packet so forwarded shall pay to the Post Office on demand the amount of the postage deficiency, in addition to an amount of 50p.

(3) An air mail packet on which no part, or a part only, of the postage payable thereon has been prepaid (not being a packet the postage on which is subject to such an arrangement as is mentioned in paragraph 16(2) or which is or has been dealt with by the Post Office in the manner provided by the sub-paragraph (2)), may be dealt with as if it were not an airmail packet.

(4) An incoming postal packet (other than a packet redirected from an address outside the British postal area to an address in that area) upon which no part, or a part only, of the postage payable thereon has been prepaid:

(a) unless it is an insured letter or other registered postal packet, may be detained and returned to the country of origin, or may be forwarded charged with the amount of the postage deficiency, in addition to an amount of 50p payable at the discretion of the Post Office;

(b) if it is an insured letter or other registered postal packet shall be forwarded without any charge in respect of the postage deficiency.

(5) The following provisions (as appropriate) shall apply to an incoming postal packet redirected from an address outside the British postal area, whether or not within the country in which it was posted, to an address in the British postal area:

(a) a postal packet, other than an insured letter or other registered postal packet, shall be forwarded charged with the following sum, unless it has been prepaid on the redirection of the packet:

(i) if the postage on the first transmission was fully prepaid, a sum equal to the difference (if any) between the amount of that postage and the postage which would have been chargeable if the packet had been originally addressed to the new address;

(ii) otherwise, a sum equal to the amount which would have been chargeable on the packet under sub-paragraph (4) if the packet had been originally addressed to the new address, and were forwarded in accordance with (a) of that sub-paragraph;

(b) an insured letter or other registered postal packet shall be forwarded charged with the following sum (unless it has been prepaid on the redirection of the packet), that is to say, a sum equal to the difference (if any) between the postage chargeable on the first transmission, whether or not that postage was fully prepaid, and the postage which would have been chargeable if the packet had been originally addressed to the new address;

(c) a postal packet of whatever description which has been transmitted by air to the British postal area after redirection without prepayment of additional postage in respect of the transmission by air shall be forwarded charged with such sum (in addition to any sum charged under (a) or (b) of this sub-paragraph) as the overseas Postal Administration concerned has requested the Post Office to collect in respect of that transmission.

(6) Where the amount chargeable under sub-paragraph (4) or (5) would otherwise be less than 50p, the amount charged shall be 50p.

(7) Any sums charged on an incoming postal packet under sub-paragraphs (4) and (5), and any other sums payable in respect of the packet under the law, regulations or Scheme in force in any part of the British postal area or any country or place from or through which the packet has been transmitted, shall be payable on the delivery of the packet, and the Post Office may withhold the packet from delivery until such sums have been paid.

(8) In this paragraph, "the postage deficiency", in relation to a postal packet, means, if no part of the postage payable thereon has been prepaid, the full amount of the postage which ought to have been prepaid thereon, and if part only of such postage has been prepaid, the difference between such full amount and the amount of such postage which has been prepaid.

Treatment of irregular packets

18.—(1) Except as otherwise provided in this Scheme, any postal packet which is found when in the post not to comply with a provision of the law of the country or place in which the packet was posted or to which it is addressed or of any country or place through which it may pass (including the Act, this Scheme, and the Postal Packets (Customs and Excise) Regulations 1986), or not to be accompanied by a document required by any such provision, may be either detained or returned or given up to the sender, or forwarded and delivered, or dealt with or disposed of in such other manner as the Post Office may think fit.

(2) Any postal packet which is found when in the post to be such that the conveyance or delivery thereof is prohibited by paragraph 11(2)(k) may if the Post Office thinks fit be delivered to the addressee subject to such charge as the Post Office may fix in the particular case, not exceeding the aggregate amount of the separate charges which would have been payable in respect of all the individual postal packets contained therein if each of them had been posted singly without prepayment of postage.

(3) Any postal packet (other than a letter), which is found when in the post not to comply with the provisions of this Scheme which are applicable to postal packets of its particular description, may if the Post Office thinks fit be treated as if it had been posted as a letter or as a postal packet of such other description as the Post Office considers appropriate, and the provisions of this Scheme shall apply thereto accordingly.

Undeliverable packets

19.—(1) Where for any reason an incoming postal packet cannot be delivered, it may at the discretion of the Post Office either be returned to the sender, or be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Post Office may think fit.

(2) Where an incoming postal packet is received by the Post Office as an undeliverable item and that postal packet was not originally posted in the British postal area, then the Post Office may at its discretion, either:

(a) forward the postal packet to the sender or (at the Post Office's discretion) to an address agreed with the sender, and may charge the sender:

(i) in the case of any postal packet(s) weighing up to and including 750g, the appropriate second class letter post tariff for a postal packet of that weight; or

(ii) in the case of any postal packet(s) weighing in excess of 750g the appropriate first class letter tariff for postal packets of that weight; or

(iii) where a number of postal packets are forwarded on the same occasion and the packets together are in the opinion of the Post Office of sufficient weight and size to be a parcel and the Post Office considers it appropriate to forward the postal packets as a parcel, the appropriate charge for that parcel in accordance with the Post Office Inland Parcel Post Scheme 1989;

and in any case, such additional administrative charge per postal packet as the Post Office in its discretion may determine from time to time; or

(b) permit the sender to collect the postal packet from the Post Office premises, on such conditions and at such times as the Post Office may in its discretion specify, and may charge the sender such administrative charge per postal packet as the Post Office in its discretion may determine from time to time; or

(c) return the postal packet to the postal administration of sending or to the postal administration who forwarded the postal packet to the Post Office.

(3) For the purposes of paragraphs 19(2), 19(4) and 19(5) of the Scheme, "sender" shall mean the person or persons shown on a return address or addresses on a postal packet or a person indicated on the postal packet as the sender by markings agreed with the Post Office.

(4) Where there is more than one possible sender of a postal packet, the Post Office may elect, at its discretion, which person to treat as the sender for the purposes of paragraph 19(2) above. If a sender is approached and that person declines to pay the charges referred to in paragraph 19(2), then the Post Office may at its discretion in accordance with paragraph 19(2) approach any other person considered to be a sender under the definition in paragraph 19(3) above.

(5) If a sender approached in accordance with paragraph 19(3) above declines to pay the charges referred to in paragraph 19(2) then at the discretion of the Post Office the postal packet may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Post Office thinks fit.

(8) If any postcard is found when in the post not to comply with any of the rules (2) to (6) inclusive, it shall be dealt with and charged as a letter.

(9) If any postcard is found when in the post not to comply with subparagraph (7) above, it shall be dealt with as if the postage or fees denoted by the stamps or franking mark or other impression placed otherwise than in conformity with that rule had not been prepaid.

(4) Subject to sub-paragraphs (5) and (6), small packets may be sealed.

(5) An article in one piece, such as a piece of wood or metal, which it is not the custom in the trade to pack, need not be packed provided that the address is indicated (with the words "Small Packet") on the article itself if possible or (if not) on an address label.

(6) Articles of glass or other fragile materials and packets containing liquids, oils, fatty substances, dry powder, live bees, leeches, silkworms' eggs, parasites or destroyers of noxious insects, shall be packed in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed.

Postal facilities

27. The postal facilities referred to in this Scheme may be provided by the Post Office at such times, during such periods, at such post offices, in such circumstances, and on such conditions (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Scheme) as the Post Office may from time to time consider expedient.

International Response services

28.—(1) A person who proposes to invite others to post International Response Service packets to him or to his agent must apply to the Post Office for a licence authorising the posting of International Response Service packets to an address agreed with the Post Office appropriate to the International Response Service being used, and the provisions by the applicant and the use for the purpose of the necessary cards, folders, letter cards, envelopes for labels. The International Response Services known as International Business Response Service and International Admail permits such packets to be posted to the address agreed with the Post Office without prepayment of postage.

(2) A licence conferring such authority as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) is hereinafter referred to as an "International Response Service Licence" and the person on whose application any such licence was granted is hereinafter referred to in relation to that licence as "the licensee".

(3) Every advertisement, notice, letter or other communication published, displayed, broadcast, issued, given, sent or made by, for or with the authority of the licensee, which includes an invitation to post International Response Service packets to the address agreed with the Post Office shall state that address precisely in the terms authorised in writing the Post Office, according to any instructions issued by the Post Office from time to time.

(4) No card, folder, letter, card, envelope, wrapper or label shall be made available by the licensee for use by any person as or with an International Response Service packet (or being a label shall be incorporated in an advertisement published by or for the licensee) unless:

(5) Every International Response Service Licence granted pursuant to an application made under sub-paragraph (1) shall be so granted on and subject to:

(a) a condition that the licensee shall make provision (by way of deposit and other payments in advance) at such times, in such manner, and to such extent as the Post Office shall think fit with respect to the payment of postage payable by him on postal packets posted by authority of the Post Office without prepayment of postage to him or to his agent;

(b) such other terms and conditions (including conditions as to revocation and variation) as the Post Office may think fit.

(6) Postage charged and payable under this Scheme on International Response Service packets shall be paid by the licensee in respect of an International Response Service Licence, on all such packets which are posted in accordance with that licence without prepayment of postage and are received by him or by his agent.

(7) There shall be charged and paid by the licensee in respect of every year or part of a year in which each such licence is in force such amount as the Post Office may determine from time to time in respect of an International Response Services Licence. The fee shall be paid (in respect to the first year) by the applicant for the licence before it is granted, and shall be due and payable on every anniversary of the day when it was granted and on which it remains in force (hereinafter referred to in relation to such a licence as a "relevant Anniversary").

(8) On the surrender by the licensee or revocation by the Post Office of an International Response Services Licence the Post Office, if it thinks fit, may refund to the licensee such proportion as it thinks just of the annual fee paid in respect of the year in which the surrender or revocation takes effect or may appropriate that proportion of the fee in or towards payment of any postage which is or may become due and payable by the licensee in respect of packets posted to the licensee or his agent without prepayment of postage.

PART V. POSTAL FACILITIES

Late posted packets

29.—(1) In this paragraph the expression "late posted packet" means a postal packet of such description as may be prescribed, which is posted after the ordinary hours of collection for a particular despatch from the office of collection on a particular day in order that it may if possible be forwarded by that despatch, and (in the case of a registered postal packet) which is posted within such further time (if any) as the Post Office may from time to time appoint in relation to that office.

Registration

32.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Scheme, any outgoing postal packet, other than a printed packet or a small packet for transmission through a British Forces Post Office outside the British postal area, may be registered.

(2) The following rules shall apply to the registration of outgoing postal packets:

(a) the packet shall not be addressed to an addressee identified by initials only, or addressed by means of a pencil, provided that it may be addressed by means of a copying ink pencil unless it is sent in an envelope with a transparent panel;

(b) the packet shall be posted by being delivered for registration at a post office to an officer of the Post Office on duty at such office, or by being delivered for registration to some officer of the Post Office authorised to receive packets for registration though not on duty at a post office;

33.—(1) Where the Post Office is satisfied that any article of pecuniary value enclosed in or forming part of a registered postal packet (other than an insured letter) is lost or damaged whilst in the course of transmission by post, or that any registered postal packet (other than an insured letter) is lost whilst in course of transmission by post, the Post Office may (but subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph) pay such sum as it thinks just to any person who in its opinion establishes a reasonable claim thereto, whether as the sender or as the addressee.

(2) The total amount of compensation which the Post Office may pay under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any one registered packet shall not exceed £28.

(3) No compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any registered postal packet or its contents unless the Post Office is satisfied that the conditions set out in paragraphs (2) to (4) and (6) of Schedule 12 hereto have been complied with in the case of that postal packet.

(4) In the case of a registered postal packet which was redirected under paragraph 41 of the Scheme after delivery at the place to which it was addressed, no compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) for loss of, or damage to, the postal packet, or any of its contents, while in the course of further transmission by post, unless the postal packet was so redirected by being posted anew and full postage was prepaid on such reposting in which case compensation may be paid subject to and in accordance with this paragraph, for any such loss or damage which the Post Office is satisfied occurred while the postal packet was in the course of transmission by post after such reposting.

(5) No compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any registered postal packet or its contents if the packet has been destroyed or otherwise dealt with or disposed of by the Post Office pursuant to section 8(3) of the Act or sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 18, or paragraph 19, of the Scheme, or by another Postal Administration under a provision of the law of the country or place of that Postal Administration.

(a) a claim for such compensation is made by the sender or the addressee within a period of six months beginning with the date on which the packet was posted;

(b) in the case of an outgoing registered packet, the certificate referred to in paragraph 32(2)(d) of the Scheme was obtained at the time of posting.

Compensation for Special Delivery packets for transmission through a British Forces Post Office or sent to a British Forces Post Office numbered address through an ordinary post office

34.—(1) The Post Office may (subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph) pay such sum as it thinks just to any person who, in its opinion, establishes a reasonable claim thereto, whether as the sender or as the addressee in such cases where:

(a) the Post Office is confident that any article of pecuniary value enclosed in or forming part of a Special Delivery postal packet sent through a British Forces Post Office or sent to a British Forces Post Office numbered address through an ordinary post office is lost or damaged whilst in course of transmission by post; or

(b) any Special Delivery postal packet sent through a British Forces Post Office or sent to a British Forces Post Office numbered address through an ordinary post office is lost whilst in the course of transmission by post.

(2) Special Delivery packets sent through a British Forces Post Office or sent to a British Forces Post Office numbered address through an ordinary post office will be posted under the relevant provisions of Inland Letter Post Scheme 2000 relating to Special Delivery packets and the provisions of that Scheme shall apply, apart from the following conditions which apply specifically to Special Delivery packets sent through a British Forces Post Office or sent to a British Forces Post Office numbered address:

(a) the facility is only available to British Forces Post Office numbered addresses;

(b) timed delivery, a facility relating to the Inland Special Delivery service, is not available;

(4) The total amount of compensation which the Post Office may pay under sub-paragraph (1)(b) in respect of any one Special Delivery packet shall not exceed:

(a) the sum of £2500 or such smaller sum as, having regard to the amount of the fee (inclusive of postage) paid in respect of the packet according to the scale, set out in Schedule 10; or

(b) in a case where the Post Office is confident that an article enclosed in or forming part of the Special Delivery Packet has been lost or rendered valueless in the post the market value thereof (excluding the value of any message or communication) at the time of posting; or

(c) in any other case, the amount by which such value has been diminished by damage suffered in the post.

Compulsory registration and insurance

35.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Scheme, every outgoing postal packet marked with the word "registered", or otherwise obviously intended to be registered, but not posted in the manner provided by this Scheme:

(a) if the registration fee thereon has been prepaid, shall be registered before the same is forwarded, and may be detained for that purpose until the ordinary despatch of packets next after that by which such packet would otherwise be forwarded, and

(b) if the registration fee has not been prepaid in full, shall be withheld from transmission and may be returned to the sender for registration.

(2) An outgoing postal packet containing coin, bank notes, currency notes, securities or instruments payable to bearer, platinum, gold or silver manufactured or not, precious stones, jewels or other valuable articles, which is found in the post unregistered, shall not be forwarded until it has been registered and (if the regulations of the country or place to which the packet is addressed so require) insured, and may be returned to the sender for that purpose. An incoming postal packet containing any such articles which is found in the post unregistered may be forwarded to the addressee as a registered postal packet and delivered to him on payment of the registration fee, or may be returned to the Postal Administration of the country or place of origin.

36.—(1) The following rules shall apply to outgoing insured letters:

- (a) every insured letter shall be registered and insured under and in accordance with the provisions of this Scheme;
- (b) the letter shall not be addressed to an addressee identified by initials only, or addressed by means of a pencil;
- (c) the envelope or packing, which shall not be transparent nor have a transparent panel, shall be strong and secured with seals of wax, lead, or adhesive paper so as to prevent tampering with the contents without apparent damage to the cover or seals; each seal shall bear the same private mark of the sender and where transparent adhesive tape is used to seal the envelope or packing, the private mark of the sender shall be applied directly to the closing join or flap before the transparent adhesive tape is applied; an envelope shall be made in one piece; if a box is used it must be of strong wood, metal or plastic (the walls of wooden boxes must be at least 8 millimetres thick), and the surfaces of the top and bottom must be covered with white paper for the inscription of the addressee's name and address and the insured value; if an insured letter is tied with string and sealed in the prescribed manner the string itself need not be sealed, but if the string is required to ensure inviolability of a box, then the two ends must be sealed with wax and marked with the sender's private design; the seals, labels and postage stamps affixed to the packet shall be so spaced that they cannot conceal injuries to the cover, no label relating other than to the postal service shall be affixed by the sender; and no label or postage stamp shall be folded over two sides of the cover so as to hide an edge;
- (d) the sender shall mark on the cover of the letter (by means other than a pencil) the words "Insured for" followed by the amount (in words and figures) for which the letter is to be insured, which amount shall not exceed whichever shall be the lower of the following limits:
 - (i) the real value of the letter (with its contents), or
 - (ii) the sum of £2,200 or such smaller sum as may be from time to time fixed by agreement between the Post Office and the Postal Administration of the country or place to which the letter is addressed;
- (e) no erasure or correction shall be made in the address (except on redirection), or in the amount for which the letter is to be insured;

- (g) the letter shall be posted by delivery at a post office to an officer of the Post Office on duty at such office.

(2) On the delivery of an incoming insured letter the recipient shall give a written receipt therefor in the prescribed form. Where such a receipt is not obtained, the letter may nevertheless be delivered, or may be withheld and dealt with or disposed of as the Post Office may think fit.

Compensation for insured letters

37.—(1) If an insured letter, or any article of pecuniary value enclosed in or forming part of an insured letter, is lost or damaged whilst in the course of transmission by post, the Post Office may (but subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph) pay such sum as it may think just to any person who in its opinion establishes a reasonable claim thereto, whether as the sender or as the addressee.

(2) In the case of an outgoing insured letter, the sum paid by way of compensation shall not exceed the sum of £2,200 or such smaller sum as, having regard to the amount of the compensation fee paid in respect of the letter according to the scale set out in Schedule 9 in addition to the postage, may be from time to time fixed in accordance with the terms of any relevant postal arrangements with a Postal Administration.

(3) In the case of an incoming insured letter, the sum paid by way of compensation shall not exceed £2,200 or such smaller sum as, having regard to the amount of the compensation fee paid in respect of the letter in addition to the postage, may be from time to time fixed in accordance with the terms of any relevant postal arrangement with a Postal Administration.

(4) Subject to sub-paragraphs (2) and (3) the maximum amount of compensation which the Post Office may pay in respect of any article enclosed in or forming part of an insured letter shall be such sum as, in its opinion, represents: (a) in a case where the Post Office is satisfied that the article has been lost or rendered valueless in the post, the market value thereof (excluding the value of any message or communication) at the time of posting;

(b) in any other case, the amount by which such value has been diminished by damage suffered in the post.

(5) Where the Post Office pays compensation in respect of an insured letter in accordance with the foregoing sub-paragraphs it may additionally pay an amount equivalent to the amount of postage and registration fee paid by the sender of the letter.

(6) No compensation may be paid in respect of any insured letter or its contents unless the Post Office is satisfied that the conditions set out in paragraphs 3, 4 and 6 of Schedule 12 hereto, and in the case of an outgoing insured letter paragraph 36 (1) (c) of the Scheme, have been complied with in the case of that insured letter.

(7) In the case of an insured letter which was redirected under paragraph 41 of the Scheme after delivery at the place to which it was addressed, no compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) for loss of, or damage to, that insured letter, or any of its contents, while in the course of further transmission by post, unless the letter was so redirected by being posted anew and full postage was pre-paid on such posting, in which case compensation may be paid subject to and in accordance with this paragraph, for any such loss or damage which the Post Office is satisfied occurred while the letter was in course of transmission by post after such reposting.

(8) No compensation may be paid in respect of any insured letter or its contents if the letter has been destroyed or otherwise dealt with or disposed of by the Post Office pursuant to section 8(3) of the Act or sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 18, or paragraph 19, of the Scheme, or by another Postal Administration under a provision of the law of the country or place of that Postal Administration.

(9) No compensation may be paid in respect of any insured letter or its contents if the letter was lost, damaged or destroyed in circumstances beyond the control of the Postal Administration in whose service the loss, damage or destruction occurred.

(10) No compensation may be paid in respect of any insured letter or its contents unless:

(a) a claim for such compensation is made by the sender or the addressee within a period of six months beginning with the date on which the letter was posted;

(b) in the case of an outgoing insured letter, the certificate referred to in paragraph 32(2)(d) of the Scheme was obtained at the time of posting.

(11) If compensation has been paid to any person in respect of the loss of an insured letter which the sender has insured for a sum exceeding the real value of the contents and packing and the letter subsequently comes into the possession of the Post Office, then upon tender of the letter to that person (whether or not he accepts it), he shall repay to the Post Office the sum paid by way of compensation or such part thereof as the Post Office may require.

Compensation for certain other postal packets

38.—(1) Where the Post Office is satisfied that any article of pecuniary value enclosed in, or forming part of, a postal packet other than a registered letter, an insured letter or a postal packet consisting of or containing only literature for the blind, has been lost or damaged whilst in the custody of the Post Office, it may (but subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph) pay such sum as it may think just by way of compensation for such loss or damage to any person who in its opinion establishes a reasonable claim thereto, whether as the sender or as the addressee of the postal packet.

(2) The total amount of compensation which the Post Office may pay under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any one postal packet and its contents shall not in any case exceed £27.

(3) Subject to sub-paragraph (2), the maximum amount of compensation which the Post Office may pay under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any article enclosed in or forming part of a postal packet shall be such sum as, in its opinion, represents:

(a) in a case where the Post Office is satisfied that the article has been lost or rendered valueless whilst in its custody, the market value thereof (excluding the value of any message or communication) at the time of posting;

(b) in any other case, the amount by which such value has been diminished by damage suffered whilst the packet was in its custody.

(4) No compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) for loss of, or damage to, any such article as is described in sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 35 of the Scheme.

(5) No compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any postal packet or its contents unless the Post Office is satisfied that the conditions set out in Schedule 12 hereto have been complied with in the case of that postal packet.

(6) In the case of a postal packet which was redirected under paragraph 41 of the Scheme after delivery at the place to which it was addressed, no compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) for loss of, or damage to, the postal packet, or any of its contents while in the custody of the Post Office, unless the postal packet was so re-directed by being posted anew and full postage was prepaid on such reposting, in which case compensation may be paid subject to and in accordance with this paragraph, for any such loss or damage which the Post Office is satisfied occurred while the postal packet was in its custody after such reposting.

(7) No compensation may be paid under sub-paragraph (1) in respect of any postal packet or its contents if the packet has been destroyed or otherwise dealt with or disposed of by the Post Office pursuant to section 8(3) of the Act or sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 18, or paragraph 19, of the Scheme.

(8) No compensation may be paid in respect of any postal packet or its contents unless:

(a) a claim for such compensation is received from the sender or the addressee within a period of six months beginning with the date on which the packet was posted;

(b) in the case of an outgoing packet, a certificate was obtained on the posting of the packet.

Advice of delivery, enquiries and claims for compensation

39.—(1) The sender of an outgoing registered postal packet, on making a request in a prescribed form at the time of posting and on payment of an advice of delivery fee of 40p may obtain an advice of delivery of the packet.

(2) The sender of an outgoing registered postal packet, on making a request within six months after the date of posting may cause an enquiry to be made into the suspected loss or non-delivery of the packet.

International Reply Coupons

40.—(1) An international reply coupon means a coupon which is issued in accordance with the terms of the Universal Postal Convention for the time being in force which may be bought at post offices in the British postal area and presented outside that area in any country which is a member of the Universal Postal Union, or bought in such country and presented at a post office in the British postal area, in order in either case to be exchanged, or given in part exchange, for postage stamps of such value or postal stationery of such value and kind, as may be permitted and in accordance with the terms of the said Convention.

(2) The charge for an international reply coupon shall be 60p.

Redirection

41.—(1) Subject to the following sub-paragraphs of this paragraph, a postal packet may be redirected from its original address, or any substituted address, to the same addressee at any other address either in or outside the British postal area, provided that:

(a) if the new address is elsewhere than in the British postal area, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or the Republic of Ireland, the packet is eligible for transmission to the new address and complies with the conditions applicable to such transmission;

(b) if the new address is in the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or the Republic of Ireland, the packet would have been eligible for transmission to the new address from the country or place in which the packet was posted, and complies with the conditions applicable to incoming packets;

(c) in any case, the sender has not forbidden redirection by means of a note to that effect on the address side of the packet in English, or in any other language understood by the officer of the Post Office handling the packet.

(2) Except as the Post Office may allow, a postal packet which is redirected from an address in the British postal area more than one day after the day of its delivery at that address (Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and public holidays being disregarded for this purpose), or which before redirection has been opened, or altered otherwise than by the substitution of the new address, or on which the name of the addressee has been obscured by any adhesive label used to indicate the new address, shall not be treated as a redirected packet, but shall be treated for the purposes of this Scheme or of Inland Letter Post Scheme 2000, (as the case may be), as if on redirection it had been posted anew, without prejudice however to the liability of any person for the payment of any sums which had previously become chargeable on the packet.

(3) An incoming registered packet (other than an insured letter) which is redirected from an address in the British postal area shall be accepted for further transmission under this Scheme as a redirected registered packet only if (a) it does not appear to have been opened, and (b) it is reposted (without any additional cover) in accordance with paragraph 32(2)(b).

(4) An incoming insured letter which is redirected from an address in the British postal area to an address in that area shall be accepted for further transmission under this Scheme as a redirected insured letter only if (a) it does not appear to have been opened, and (b) it is re-posted (without any additional cover) by being handed to an officer of the Post Office on duty at the counter of a post office.

(5) An incoming insured letter which is redirected from an address in the British postal area to an address elsewhere shall be accepted for further transmission under this Scheme as a redirected insured letter only if (a) it does not appear to have been opened, (b) it is re-posted as mentioned in sub-paragraph (4), and (c) it complies with the conditions applicable to insured letters sent by post from the British postal area to the country or place in which the new address is situated, or, if that country is the Republic of Ireland, or that place is in the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man, with such conditions as may be imposed by the Postal Administration of the Republic of Ireland, or of the Bailiwick in which that place is situated, or of the Isle of Man, as to the acceptance of redirected insured letters from the British postal area.

(6) Where the person redirecting an incoming postal packet from an address in the British postal area to an address which is not in the British postal area, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or the Republic of Ireland requests that the packet shall be forwarded by an air mail service, he shall pay additional postage thereon of such amount (if any) as the Post Office may consider appropriate, not exceeding the postage which would be payable thereon under paragraph 8 if the packet were posted anew to the new address as an air mail packet.

(7) Subject to conditions (a) and (c) in sub-paragraph (1) and to sub-paragraph (2), a postal packet posted to the British postal area, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or the Republic of Ireland and transmitted under the Inland Letter Post Scheme 2000 to an address in the British postal area may be redirected from its original address and re-transmitted under this Scheme to the same addressee at any address which is not in the British postal area, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or the Republic of Ireland:

Provided that:

(a) a registered packet shall be re-posted in accordance with paragraph 32(2)(b);

(b) a packet on which a registration fee in excess of the minimum payable under the Inland Letter Post Scheme 2000 has been paid shall not be transmissible as a redirected packet under this Scheme; and

(c) a packet which has been posted as a recorded delivery packet under the Inland Letter Post Scheme 2000, shall when redirected under this Scheme cease to be transmitted as a recorded delivery packet and accordingly no compensation shall be paid in respect thereof.

Postal packets in bond

42.—(1) The Post Office may, on application being made in such manner as it may direct by the addressee of any incoming postal packet in bond:

(a) make a search for the packet, or provide any other service, in order that it may if possible receive expedited customs examination; or

(b) permit the addressee or his authorised agent, attending at the place where the packet is to inspect the packet; or

(c) re-address the packet to any person either within or outside the British postal area; or

(d) permit the addressee or his authorised agent, attending at the place where the packet is, to re-address the packet to any person either within or outside the British postal area; or

(e) transfer the packet from the appointed place where the packet is to some other appointed place nominated by the addressee.

(2) There shall be charged and paid in respect of the facilities provided for in this paragraph:

(a) for each of the facilities mentioned in sub-paragraphs (1)(a), (b), (c) and (e), the fee appropriate to the number of packets comprised in the application, according to the scale of fees set out in columns 1 and 2 of Schedule 11;

(b) for the facility mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(d), the fee appropriate to the number of packets comprised in the application, according to the scale of fees set out in columns 1 and 3 of Schedule 11.

(3) Any fee charged under paragraph 15(3), and any sums charged or payable under paragraph 17, on a postal packet which is re-addressed under this paragraph shall be paid by the original addressee.

(4) There shall be charged and paid by the original addressee in respect of each postal packet which is re-addressed under this paragraph to an address outside the British postal area the same postage and fees as would have been payable thereon if it had been posted anew for transmission to the new address.

(5) In this paragraph, "postal packet in bond" means a postal packet which is in the custody of the Post Office at some place appointed by it and the Commissioners of Customs and Excise for customs examination, and "appointed place" means a place so appointed for that purpose.

PART VI. GENERAL

Remission of postage and fees

45. The Post Office may remit in whole or in part any postage or other sums chargeable under this Scheme in such cases or classes of cases as it may determine.
