Conoco (UK) Limited

OFFSHORE PETROLEUM PRODUCTION AND PIPELINES (ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL EFFECTS) REGULATION 1999

BLOCK 132/6

Pursuant to regulation 5(8) of above Regulations, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry gives notice that, being content that the requirements of the above Regulations have been satisfied, he has, pursuant to Licence P.953 granted a consent to Conoco (UK) Limited to the drilling of an exploration well in block 132/6. The consent for well 132/6-A took effect from 26th March 2001.

Conoco (U.K.) Ltd (CUKL) proposes to drill a single exploration well in their Tranche 21 licence area, located in the Atlantic waters to the west of the Hebrides. The well will be located within a 2 kilometre radius of position 56°45'46"N, 09°50'38"W, in a water depth of about 1,920 metres, some 135 kilometres from nearest land.

CUKL plans to start drilling the well in May 2001. After considering various drilling options, because of the deep-water location CUKL proposes employing a dynamically positioned ultra deep water drillship, using water-based muds for all hole sections.

The ES presents a comprehensive review of available environmental information of this deep-water region west of the Hebrides.

On completion of drilling, the well will be evaluated and then either suspended or abandoned. No well testing activities will be undertaken. If the well is to be abandoned this will involve cutting the well casings to a minimum depth of c.3 metres below the seabed, followed by debris clearance survey.

Four activities were identified as presenting the risk of potential impact and were assessed in more detail in the ES:

discharge of drilling mud and cuttings;
atmospheric emissions from power generation;
Noise associated with drilling operations;
accidental spillage of hydrocarbons.

With reference to the discharge of drilling mud and cuttings the mud chemicals fall mainly into HOCNS Group E, with some 84 per cent of the total mud chemical usage being PLONOR List Substances. Cuttings from the two top hole sections will be deposited immediately adjacent to the well, resulting in a small (25-40 metre) cuttings pile (average thickness of about 30 millimetres). Cuttings dispersion modelling suggests rapid dispersion in the deep waters, resulting in no expected impact beyond the immediate top-hole cuttings pile.

Atmospheric emissions are expected to be within routine drilling rig operational standards, with estimated emissions presented in the ES for drilling and support operations.

The ES discusses noise generation and potential impacts (section 6.5) and places emphasis on the short-term nature of the drilling operation. No significant impact was identified.

The ES identifies that the most likely spill risk arises from bunkering but states that spills of a light distillate fuel oil would disperse extremely rapidly, with "negligible" environmental impact.

In addressing the risk of a blow-out, CUKL cites low probability based on drilling experience to date on the UKCS.

After a request by DTI, Conoco provided more adequate information regarding the basis to the selection of the drill-ship and its assessment of potential risks from the use of the vessel for drilling well 132/06-A, particularly in relation to oil spill risk.

No significant impact was identified from the drilling of this well. Both JNCC and FRS agree. The drilling of this well is unlikely to impact any future potential SAC. (1002)
