To assist with consideration of the licence modification proposals, the Authority has prepared an explanation (see documents 1(e) and 2(c) above) of how the proposals contained in the draft licence modifications set out in this consultation have developed from those outlined in the documents referred to above. This document has been published separately today.

(c) Transco Price Control and NTS SO incentives 2002-07: Explanatory Note to accompany the S23 Notice of Proposed Modifications to Transco's Gas Transporter Licence.

3. In summary, the effects of the proposed licence modifications are as follows:

Part A:

(i) to introduce new price controls with effect from 1 April 2002 on Transco's NTS and LDZ transportation businesses;

(ii) to introduce maximum tariff caps in respect of a number of Transco's metering activities;

(iii) to introduce a non-discrimination condition to ensure that Transco continues to be subject to prohibitions on undue discrimination and preference in the provision of its metering activities, particularly in respect of charging;

(iv) to introduce individual price controls in respect of the transmission asset owner ("TO") and system operator ("SO") functions of Transco;

(v) to introduce new incentives for the SO;

(vi) to introduce a new obligation on Transco to operate the National Transmission System ("NTS") in an efficient, economic and co-ordinated manner;

(vii) to introduce a new condition prohibiting certain trading activities other than for the purposes of balancing management and constraints management, and requiring the production of statements on procurement, use of system management services and system management services adjustment data methodology; and

(viii) to introduce various ancillary provisions to govern the manner in which Transco allocates revenues in respect of its various price controls, to monitor Transco's performance under the SO incentives, to monitor Transco's performance as regards environment in respect of the NTS and LDZ, to monitor the delivery of LDZ outputs and to introduce an incentive scheme in respect of the LDZ and facilitate the development of an expenditure monitoring framework.

Part B:

(i) to introduce a new condition to disclose information relating to the operation of the NTS; and

(ii) to introduce new provisions that enable persons who are not shippers to propose modifications to the network code.

4. More specifically, the effect of the proposed licence modification is as follows:

Part A:(1) Transportation Owner proposals(i) NTS TO price control

The detail of the proposed modifications referred to above is set out in the documents referred to in paragraphs 2(1)(a) to (e) above. In summary, the Authority is proposing an RPI-2 price control on revenue from Transco's NTS TO activities.

The proposed licence modifications include a provision to adjust the revenue correction factor in 2002-03 for the recovery of certain licence fee costs from 2001-02, as explained in the document referred to in paragraph 2(1)(d) above.

The base revenue in respect of the NTS TO price control has been set at £337 million in the proposed licence modifications and has been calculated in accordance with the principles set out in the September 2001 final proposals document referred to in 2(1)(c) and includes an adjustment of £1.5 million, to take account of the omission of capital expenditure relating to the construction of a new gas fired power station in the southwest of England.

(ii) LDZ price control

The detail of the proposed modifications is set out in the document referred to in paragraphs 2(1)(a) to (e) above.

In summary, the Authority is proposing an RPI-2 price control on the revenue from Transco's LDZ activities.

The proposed licence modifications include provisions:

- (a) to create a revenue driver, which shall operate within the LDZ price control, which shall have the effect that 35 per cent of revenue from LDZ activity shall be linked to changes in demand.
- (b) to adjust the revenue correction factor in 2002-03 for the recovery of certain licence fee costs from 2001-02, as explained in the document referred to in paragraph 2(1)(d) above.

The base revenue in respect of the LDZ price control has been set at £1,806 million in the proposed licence modifications and has been calculated in accordance with the principles set out in the September 2001 final proposals document referred to paragraph 2(1)(c) and includes an adjustment of £19 million, primarily to take account of a correction to the calculation of regulatory asset values.

The proposed licence modifications also include a supplementary incentive mechanism relating to mains replacement for returning to consumers the benefits from changes in the workload mix and sharing with consumers the benefits from efficiency gains.

(iii) Emergency Services

A new obligation is proposed on Transco to set charges for emergency services that reflect costs and a reasonable profit.

(iv) Exit code

A new obligation is proposed on Transco to describe any services and associated charges made between the NTS and the LDZ.

(v) NTS and LDZ performance reporting conditions

In summary, the Authority is proposing to introduce a reporting framework for the provision of performance information in relation to Transco's NTS and LDZ networks. The reporting framework will seek to ensure that information specified in or under the proposed licence modifications is collected on a consistent basis and to an appropriate degree of accuracy by Transco, and to this end it also includes arrangements for the audit of the information that is collected. This information will be used to facilitate the establishment of an incentive scheme relating to the number and duration of non-contractual interruptions to supply and to monitor the delivery of LDZ outputs and the environmental performance of Transco's networks. The information will also be used to facilitate the development of an expenditure monitoring framework.

The document referred to in paragraph 2(1)(c) explained that Transco would be collecting detailed medium-term performance information in respect of Transco's NTS and LDZ networks. Ofgem is now developing an alternative means of monitoring Transco's approach to medium-term performance and asset-risk management through surveys of processes and procedures. Ofgem therefore does not propose to collect detailed medium-term performance information through these proposed licence modifications.

(2) Metering proposals

The detail of the proposed modifications is set out in the documents referred to in paragraphs 2(1)(a) to (c) and (e) above.

The proposed licence modifications apply to the metering and meter reading activities which Transco provides. Presently Transco sells these to gas shippers, but should Transco contract with other parties to provide these services, the licence will be modified accordingly.

In summary the effect of the proposed licence modifications is to:

- (i) introduce a set of tariff caps with effect from 1 April 2002 on four of Transco's metering activities, namely the annual charges to provide and maintain both domestic credit meters and prepayment meters; the one-off charge for the work to exchange a domestic credit meter with a prepayment meter; and the annual charge for providing a daily metered meter reading service (more particularly described in the documents referred to in paragraph 2(1)(a) to (c) and (e) above), which together with the condition in sub-paragraph (iii) below shall replace the existing price control on each of Transco's metering and meter reading activities; and

(ii) provide a process whereby Transco may depart from its published statement of charges for the tariff capped activities in consequence of a shipper having engaged in "cherry-picking" behaviour in unbundling its metering portfolio; and

(iii) introduce a new non-discrimination condition which will regulate the prices of the remainder of Transco's metering activities and will also require Transco to avoid undue discrimination in the provision of all its metering activities, including those in sub-paragraph (i) above.

(3) System Operator proposals

A. (i) Transco currently faces a series of day-to-day SO incentives, which are contained in Transco's network code. These incentives are intended to ensure that Transco operates the NTS in an efficient and economic manner.

(ii) The proposed licence modifications contained in this consultation are intended to strengthen Transco's day-to-day SO incentives and to detail all of these incentives within the body of Transco's licence rather than the present approach which is to detail the incentives in Transco's network code.

(iii) The proposed licence modifications are also intended to facilitate the introduction of long-term auctions of entry capacity rights and to provide Transco with incentives to invest in entry capacity in response to demand.

(iv) The proposed licence modifications also provide incentives on Transco to efficiently meet customer demand at NTS exit points.

(v) As part of the process of monitoring the incentives, the proposed licence modifications include additional obligations as regards the reporting and provision of information.

B. The effect of the proposed new incentives are:

(i) Entry capacity investment incentive

Under the proposed licence modifications, Transco would be obliged to offer for sale minimum levels of firm tradable entry capacity rights for 2002-07. Transco will be obliged to use reasonable endeavours to offer for sale a minimum level of entry capacity for 2002-07 through long-term auctions. Prices emerging from such auctions, and subsequent trading of capacity, will improve the signals to Transco of the need for additional investment in new capacity. In order to achieve this, it is proposed that Transco has an incentive to move away from the initial baseline entry capacity outputs and earn a higher rate of return than the cost of capital allowed under the TO price control where it invests to meet demand over and above the agreed baseline entry output measures.

Two alternative network code modification proposals have been raised in order to introduce long-term auctions. These are the subject of separate consideration by the Authority in accordance with standard condition 9: Network code, of Transco's gas transporters licence.

(ii) Exit capacity investment incentive

Transco can provide exit capacity from the NTS by a number of means, including the building of physical capacity and the use of interruption and constrained storage. The proposed exit capacity incentive will encourage Transco to consider the most efficient means of meeting

(iii) Entry capacity buy-back Incentive scheme

The proposed modifications to Transco's licence provide for an incentive on the costs of entry capacity buy-backs. The proposed incentive sets yearly target levels of buy-back costs for the first two years of the price control. If buy-back costs fall below the target Transco will keep a share of the difference. If buy-back costs exceed the target Transco will face a share of the additional costs. Transco's rewards and exposures under this incentive will be subject to annual caps and collars.

This incentive will replace the existing buy-back incentives contained in the network code.

Transco raised a network code modification proposal to provide for an interim buy-back incentive to apply from 1 April 2002 until such time as any modifications may be made to Transco's licence following this consultation process. This modification was approved by the Authority on 28 March 2002.

(iv) System balancing incentive schemes

The proposed system balancing incentive schemes comprise an incentive relating to NTS SO gas costs (shrinkage) and system reserve (operating margins). Under these schemes, Transco would face target levels of costs for the first two years of the price control. If actual costs are above/below the target, Transco pays/keeps a proportion of any difference, up to an annual cap and collar. In relation to system reserve, Transco will receive an allowance equal to the target level and will be fully exposed to deviations from this target level.

(v) Residual gas balancing incentive

Transco's current residual gas balancing incentive is made up of separate price and linepack elements and is contained in the network code. Under the current price incentive, Transco is encouraged to take balancing actions at prices close to the system average price on the on-the-day commodity market for gas and the linepack incentive encourages it to minimise day on day changes in linepack.

This incentive will replace the existing residual gas balancing incentives contained in the network code.

Transco raised a network code modification proposal to provide for the implementation of a residual gas balancing incentive consistent with the proposals set out in this notice. Transco has proposed that this incentive apply from 1 April 2002 until such time as any modifications are made to Transco's licence following the outcome of this consultation process. This modification was approved by the Authority on 28 March 2002.

(vi) SO internal costs incentive scheme

This consultation proposes to introduce an incentive scheme for Transco's NTS SO internal costs over which Transco has direct control, comprising operating expenditure, capital expenditure and a return on the SO regulatory value. Under the scheme, Transco would benefit if actual costs are below target and be exposed to a proportion of costs above target levels.

(3) Following the end of this statutory consultation, consideration of any representations received and Transco providing its written consent to the proposed modifications, if the Authority decides having regard to all facts to proceed to modify Transco's gas transporters licence it shall issue a direction to modify the effect of which shall be that following the introduction of the licence modifications proposed herein, the existing price control set out in special condition 9C of Transco's gas transporters licence shall be disapplied with immediate effect from 1 April 2002.

Part B

(1) Information disclosure

This proposal is intended to improve the efficiency of the current market and trading arrangements by facilitating the release of system operation information to both shippers and customers. The proposal provides that Transco will be obliged to comply with any obligation in the network code to disclose information relating to the operation of the NTS or the market relating to the operation of the NTS.

(2) Ability of third parties to raise network code modification proposals. The proposals specify that Transco's network code modification rules shall identify persons or classes of persons who are not shippers but who may propose modifications to the network code. The proposals are intended to enable customer groups to raise network code modifications.

5. Copies of the proposed licence modifications, the explanatory document that accompanies the proposed modifications and the other documents referred to in this notice are available (free of charge) from the Ofgem Research and Information Centre (telephone 020 7901 1600) or on the Ofgem website at (www.ofgem.gov.uk).
