Venice, June 24.

BY an English Ship which is arrived from Salonica in 44 Days we learn, that five Ships from Tripoli had passed by that Port to join the Ottoman Fleet near the Dardanel, and that 4000 Foot had marched from thence to join the Turkish Army. The Captain of this Ship says, that before he left that Place a Capighi Bassa was sent from Adrianople, with a Retinue of 20 Persons, to take the Head of the Governour of Dulcigno, and of every Person who was concerned in the Piracy and Murder committed lately in the following Manner: An English Merchant-Ship, named the Adventure, Captain Cleveland Commander, was met at Sea 12 Leagues off Durazzo, by a Corfair or Pyrate-Ship of Dulcigno: The Pyrates went on board the English Ship as Friends, till they much out-numbered the Englishmen; which were 32; and then at once the Turks seized them all, bound them Back to Back and threw them into the Sea; as some of those Pyrates confessed at Durazzo, where they first put in with the Ship, and having sold some of the Cargo there, they carried her to Dulcigno. The English Consul here, having Intelligence sent him from Durazzo of what the said Pyrates had confessed, he reclaimed the Ship and Goods, as well at Durazzo as at Dulcigno, but without Effect. Complaint having been likewise made at the Ottoman Court by the British Ambassadour, the Capighi Bassa has been sent with the forementioned Orders for punishing so great a Barbarity; and the said English Captain adds, that from Dulcigno the Capighi Bassa is to proceed to Durazzo for the same Purpose. We have Advice from Corfu, that General Schulenburg was on his Departure from thence for Dalmatia. Letters from Naples advise, that the Viceroy uses all Diligence in providing for the Security of the Coasts and Places of Strength of that Kingdom; and that last Week he took a Review of several Regiments in the Neighbourhood of Naples, which form a Body of 24000 Men.

Madrid, June 27. By an Express from Barcelona we have an Account, that the Fleet put to Sea from thence on the 17th in the Evening, and having the Wind fair was out of Sight the next Day. The Squadron which sailed from Cadiz on the 26th of May, joined the Fleet at Barcelona a few Hours before it sailed. The Troops which are embarked on this Fleet, consist of 37 Battallions of 800 Men each, and of 60 Squadrons of 120 each. An Express from Cadiz has brought Advice, that on the 17th a Squadron of five Men of War and seven Transports sailed from thence; that they are to be joined at Malaga and at Cartagena by more Transports, and then to proceed to Barcelona, where the Commodore is to receive Orders.
