Scottish Executive Department for Environment and Rural Affairs (SEERAD)

THE REPAYMENT OF UNLAWFULLY LEVIED SEED CERTIFICATION AND SEED TESTING FEES

The review of Seed Testing and Crop Inspection Charges has now been completed and SEERAD has concluded that although most charges have been levied on a lawful basis a number of charges were levied unlawfully. SEERAD has therefore decided to repay to those organisation and individuals concerned the money that was charged for these services during the six years prior to the charges being placed on a proper legal footing. It should be noted that SEERAD has taken action to ensure that the charges concerned are now charged on a lawful basis. The 6 year period will encompass dates between 1990 and 2004. The services in respect of which the charges were levied were provided by the Scottish Agricultural Science Agency (SASA) who act as the Certifying Authority for Scotland on behalf of SEERAD.

The charges involved are charges for services provided in relation to:

Seed Testing
Seed samplers courses and examinations
Seed testing courses/examinations
Crop inspections for certification
Crop Inspectors courses
HVS verification
Sampling of seed lots
Seals and sampling patches

Procedures are being put in place to repay approximately £900,000 to customers, Organisations and individuals, who are to be repaid by SEERAD, should have received a letter from SASA, providing them with more information regarding the repayment of seed certification and seed testing fees. Any individual or organisation who has not received such a letter and who has paid charges in relation to the services referred to above during the 6 year period in respect of which repayment is now being made should contact the relevant individual mentioned below.

It should be noted that organisations or individuals who had seed tested at a Licensed Seed Testing Station or by a licensed crop inspector or a licensed crop sampler are not entitled to repayment of the charges levied. This is because the Seeds (Registration, Licensing and Enforcement) Regulations 1985 as amended provide statutory authority for the charging of fees by Licensed Seed Testing Stations, licensed crop inspectors or licensed seed samplers for carrying out tests on seeds.

Contact: Further information can be obtained by contacting:

1. For statutory seed testing services and seed analyst courses: Caroline Cadger, 0131 244 8908.
2. For crop inspections of cereal crops, crop inspector's courses/exams, labels, label printing, seals and patches: Bob Sunter, 0131 244 8815.
3. For crop inspections of non-cereal crops, seed sampler's courses, official sampling, HVS verification: Russell Thomson 0131 244 8899.

Similar reviews have already been conducted in respect of charges levied for services provided by Defra and the other Devolved Administrations in Wales and Northern Ireland. (106)
