National Assembly for Wales

A465 HEADS OF THE VALLEYS DUALLING SECTION 1: ABERGAVENNY TO GILWERN CONSERVATION (NATURAL HABITATS, &c.) REGULATIONS 1994, REGULATION 50 CONSULTATION ON REVIEW OF EFFECTS OF THE PROJECT ON RIVER USK SAC AND USK BAT SITES SAC

The Minister for Economic Development and Transport, acting on behalf of the National Assembly for Wales, is considering whether to proceed to construction with the above project for which it is the highway authority.

The project comprises the widening of approximately 5.85km of the A465 from the existing Hardwick Roundabout to Glanbaiden Junction and continues for just under a kilometre to the end of Section 1 near Gilwern. Much of the section falls within the Brecon Beacons National Park.

The new trunk road will be dual 2-lane carriageway with hard strips, verges and a central reserve. A new bridge over the River Usk is to be constructed to carry the proposed westbound carriageway. This new bridge will match the general appearance of the adjacent existing bridge, which is to be retained.

The existing grade separated junction at Llanfoist will be improved and an interim terminal junction will be constructed at Glanbaiden comprising an oval roundabout. At Glanbaiden the section includes construction of the slip road in readiness for later construction of a grade-separated junction. The westbound slip roads will tie into the existing three-lane carriageway to the west of Glanbaiden. The section also includes a diversion and a new under bridge to accommodate the Monmouthshire and Brecon Canal. A number of culverts, underpasses and overbridges will either be altered or removed in the works.

Statements on the effects of the scheme on the two candidate Special Areas of Conservation (Usk Bat Sites and River Usk) were prepared and published in 1997, along with an Environmental Statement and the draft Statutory Orders for the project. These were examined at a public inquiry in 1998 and accepted by the Inspector. The then Secretary of State for Wales published his decision to proceed in June 1999 and the Line Order was brought into force in October 1999.

The two candidate SACs have now been designated as SACs. This places an obligation on the National Assembly for Wales to carry out a review of its previous decisions in relation to this project, in accordance with regulation 50 of the Conservation (Natural Habitats, &c.) Regulations 1994. The review must assess the project's implications for the two SACs, in view of those sites conservation objectives. Two statements detailing the key items to be considered as part of this review have been prepared, one for each site.

Statement of review of River Usk Sac

The key environmental issues associated with the project are:

Effect on water habitat including:

Water quality
Flow characteristics
Channel habitat
Riparian habitat
Migration
Fishery management

Effect on protected species:

Allis and Twaite Shad
Bullhead
River, Brook and Sea Lamprey
Atlantic Salmon
Otter

Effect on water courses and vegetation particularly
Ranunculus fluitantis and Callitriche-batrachion vegetation

Statement of review of Usk Bat Sites Sac

Effects on flight lines across the project of Lesser Horseshoe bats associated with the SAC site.

Copies of the Review statements can be inspected free of charge at all reasonable hours from 30 December 2004 to 20 January 2005 at the following locations:
