

Yesterday being the Anniversary of the great Victory obtained in 1712 over the five Catholick Cantons by the Army of Berne, it was observed here with the accustomed Solemnity, Volleys of Cannon firing all the Day, and at Night there were Fire works and other Demonstrations of Joy, in Memory of so great an Event.

Paris, July 30, N. S. An Arrêt was published To-Day, that has made a very great Augmentation on the Money: The Crowns, which are but of three Livres intrinsic Value, were on their being new-coyned made current at six Livres, afterwards raised by Arrêts to nine Livres, and by several Reductions were to be brought down to six Livres again the first of next Month; but by this Arrêt of To-Day they are advanced to 12 Livres, and are to pass current at that Price till the first of September, when they are to begin to fall, and by the first of November next are to be at six Livres: The other Coyns of Silver are to rise and fall at the same Time and in the same Proportion.

Paris, Aug. 3. On the 30th past an Ordinance of the King was published, whereby the Stock-Jobbers were forbid after the 1st Instant to negotiate their Papers at any other Place but at the Exchange, which His Majesty has established for that Purpose in the Garden of the Hôtel de Soissons. Divers Regulations have been made on that Account, amongst which there is one which forbids all Footmen, Workmen, and such like Persons to enter that Place, under Pain of Imprisonment; and to prevent all Disorders, there are placed at each Door two Swifs in the King's Livery, and eight Archers commanded by two Exempts and one Lieutenant. The Marquess de Maulevrier Langeron is gone from hence to his Country Seat, in order to proceed from thence to the Court of Spain. The Dutchess of Vantadour, who has been very ill, is in a fair way of Recovery, and on the 1st Instant the King went to pay her a Visit, and supped with her. The Duke D'Aumont is very ill of the Gout in his Stomach.
