Paris, September 4.

BY Letters from Sardinia we have received a particular Account, that Admiral Byng arriving there on the 22d of July, found the Piemontese Troops transported from Sicily were landed at Cagliari; but the Prince d'Ottajano the Emperor's Minister not being come, they could not then be put into Possession of the Island. On the 31st the Prince d'Ottajano arrived, and Conferences being held with Sig Chacon Captain-General of the Spanish Troops, the following Articles were settled.

Articles agreed between their Excellencies the Prince d'Ottajano his Imperial Majesty's Commissary Minister and Plenipotentiary, Sir George Byng Admiral and Commander in Chief of His Britannick Majesty's Fleet and his Plenipotentiary, and Sig. Chacon his Catholick Majesty's General and Plenipotentiary.

1. It is agreed, that this Day and To-Morrow the Spanish Infantry, which is to evacuate Cagliari, shall imbark; and that on Sunday next in the Morning his Excellency Sig. Chacon shall deliver the Possession of the Castle to his Excellency the Prince d'Ottajano, with all the Registers and other Writings belonging to the Kingdom of Sardinia; and that he shall this Day issue Orders to all the Governours of the Places of the Kingdom, to deliver the said Places to the Officers who shall produce his Excellency the Prince d'Ottajano's Orders.

2. As the Spaniards are obliged by the several Treaties to deliver up the Artillery, Ammunition, and Provisions of the Places of the Kingdom of Sardinia, in the same State as they were found when the Spaniards took the said Kingdom, it is agreed that the Viconte del Porto Major General shall be left as an Hostage for what may be wanting of the Artillery Ammunition and Provisions, and of the Registers and Writings of the Kingdom; as also the Commissary of War, for the Debts contracted in the Kingdom by the Spaniards; and an Account shall be drawn up of the Artillery and Ammunitions that are wanting.

Signed and sealed with their Seals this 2d of August, 1720.

Prince Ottajano.	G. Byng.	Chacon.

During Admiral Byng's Stay at Cagliari, he sent away for England the Barleur Man of War; and designed to send home the Rupert likewise, (the only Man of War he had kept with him) as soon as he should land at Leghorne: So that of the Fleet under his Command, only three 50 Gun Ships and one of 30 commanded by Captain Scott are to remain in the Mediterranean; and Captain Scott, when he has conveyed the last Imbarcation of the Spaniards from Sicily to Barcelona, is ordered to proceed to Port-Mahon, there to wait His Britannick Majesty's Orders. The Admiral having seen all the Spanish Troops imbarked at Cagliari, sailed on the 5th of August for Leghorne. On the 6th the Prince d'Ottajano was put into Possession of Cagliari, and of the rest of the Island; and on the 8th he delivered it up to the King of Sardinia's Commissary.
