Paris, December 7.

ON the 4th Instant the Parliament assembled at Pontoise, after some Debate came to a Resolution to register the King's Letters Patents concerning the Accommodation of the Bishops about the Pope's Constitution; the Terms of which registering are, That the said Letters Patents shall be executed with the same Provisos, Clauses, and Conditions mentioned in the registering of the Letters Patents of 1714, and agreeably to the Rules of the Church, and the Maxims of this Kingdom concerning the Authority of the Church, the Power and Jurisdiction of the Bishops, the Acceptation of the Pope's Bulls, and the Appeals to a future General Council; which Rules and Maxims shall remain in their Force and Vertue; and all Suits and Proceedings on account of any Appeals shall cease. The first President dispatched his Secretary with this News to Court, and his Royal Highness sent that Night an Express to Rome with Advice of it. 'Tis expected that the Parliament will now soon be recalled to Paris. On the 6th Instant a Jew named Joseph Levy was broke upon the Wheel, for having robbed and murdered another Jew and his Wife. The Turkish Ambassadour to this Court, Mehemet Effendi, arrived at Toulon the 23d past, where he keeps Quarantain without the City in the King's Garden. Yesterday the King of Spain's Minister at this Court, received by an Express dispatched from Madrid the 22d past, the following Relation.

(Price Three Half Pence.)

ON the 15th of November at Day-Break, the Marquess de Lede, Commander in Chief of the Spanish Forces in Africa, caused the Gallies to approach the Shore by Ceuta, as near as possible to the Camp and Trenches of the Moors, and to cannonade them. Some Hours after, the Marquess advancing with his Troops by Land, attacked those Trenches. They were guarded by 14000 Foot, and about 3000 Horse which it is said were of the King of Mequinez's Guards, and were all clothed in White. After a Fight of several Hours the Spaniards carried the Trenches, and made themselves Masters of the Camp, taking 3 Standards, and one Colours, a Brass Mortar for Bombs, 21 Pieces of Cannon, part Brass, the rest Iron, 3000 Bullets of different Sizes, 200 Bombs, a great Number of Tools for throwing up Ground, a great Quantity of Oats and Meal which was distributed among the Troops, some Tents, several Mules and Horses, and other Things. The Number of Moors killed in the Camp was reckoned to be above 3000: The Bashaw being very dangerously wounded, retired with the rest of his Army towards Tetuan, taking with him the Horse-Tail, The Number of Prisoners was not great, because the Moors refused Quarter, and those who retired fled with the greatest Precipitation: The Bashaw's Secretary is among the Prisoners. On our Side no more than 150 were wounded, and about 50 killed; among the former is the Chevalier de Lede, Brother of the Marquess, who was shot with a Musket-Ball that went in at his Mouth and out at his Neck; which
