Berne, Sept. 3. Letters from Schafhuysen of the 28th past advise, that the Peasants of Wilchingen are deaf to all Remonstrances and Exhortations of the four Deputies from the late General Dyet: Instead of asking Pardon and submitting to the Government of Schafhuysen, they pretend to an absolute Indemnity; and demand not only a Restitution of their Privileges, but several Reservations, and the Right of appealing to the Emperour in all their Affairs, declaring openly that they will never detach themselves from his Imperial Majesty; they even demand Satisfaction for the Damages they have sustained during this Dispute.
