Turin, March 21, N. S.

ON the 18th Instant in the Evening, the King and Queen, the Prince and Princess, with the Court, made their Entry into this City in a very splendid Manner: They stopt till Night at la Gioia a little Castle about a Mile from hence: As soon as it was dark they proceeded hither, and on a Signal given the Illuminations were on a sudden lighted; and 180 Pieces of Cannon from the Citadel and the Ramparts were thrice discharged, while the Coach of State with the King, Queen, Prince and Princess, preceded by 24 Coaches with Six Horses and the King's Livery-Servants, and followed by a Squadron of the Horse-Guards, came through the Street of Po to Madame Royale's Apartments; where the Princess paid her Respects to her, and afterwards appeared at the Queen's Circle. The Coaches of the Princesses de Carignan, of the Princess Lodovica, and several of the Nobility, made a long Train, and the March was closed by the Regiment of Royal Dragoons. The next Evening the Princess attended by most of the Nobility passed through the Principal Streets, as well to shew herself to the People, as to visit the Churches, and see the Illuminations, which were very magnificent and beautiful, and were continued the third Night,
