

Stockholm, July 10 O.S. On Thursday a Memorial was read before the Nobles, concerning the Preservation of the Wood of this Kingdom, it was resolved that a Decree should be forthwith issued out with regard to that Affair. The same Day, the Committee for the Copper and Iron Mines gave the House to understand, that those Mines were in such a manner exhausted, that they hardly commensurated the Expences of working them: Wherefore the Committee recommended it, that certain Rewards and Privileges might be granted to those who should find out and work new ones. It was agreed accordingly, that an Ordinance should be drawn up, wherein very considerable Privileges should be granted to such as should discover and work new Mines of Copper and Iron.
