Whitehall, January 4, 1723.

His Grace the Duke of Graſton Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, having tranſmitted to His Maſteſty the following Extract of a Letter from Richard Davies and Richard White, Eſq; Juſtices of the Peace, dated at Bantry in the County of Corke, Dec. 4, 1723, His Maſteſty has been pleaſed to give Direction that the ſame ſhould be publiſhed, ſo the end the Owners of the Veſſel may take ſuch Meaſures as the Law appoints for recovering it, and for puniſhing the Criminals, who are kept in Cuſtody in Ireland in order to their being brought to Juſtice.

CARTERET.

Bantry, Dec. 4, 1723.

ON Friday the 29th of November ult. a Sloop of about 40 Tons, arrived in our Harbour of Bantry, commanded by John Applegath, and having three other Men and one Boy on Board: He called her the William and Thomas of Cromerty in Scotland, pretended ſhe was homeward-bound from the Iſland Palma, with a little Wine and ſome Pitch, and told a formal Story to that Purpoſe, but ſuffering much in their Paſſage thro' the Severity of Weather, did not think it worth while to carry her Home, and therefore expoſed the Veſſel and Cargo to Sale in this Place, and accordingly that ſame Evening fold them to Henry Galwey, Merchant in this Town.

But by Information ſince given to us, the FaCt is, That about the Beginning of Auguſt laſt, the Thomas and Anne Sloop of London, Thomas Reay (a Quaker) Maſter, of about 40 Tons, failed in Ballaſt from the River Thames to Shoaram, with the ſaid Maſter, three Sailors, and the ſaid Boy on Board; at Shoaram they took in a Loading of Wheat upon Freight to Liſbon; where they deliver'd that Cargo, and the three Sailors leaving the Maſter, he hired three more there, and took in a Loading of Salt and Tobacco on the King of Portugal's Account for the Iſland of St. Michael's, where they arrived in the Beginning of October, and having delivered the Tobacco and moſt of the Salt, they took in Part of another Loading of Wheat on the ſame Account for the Garrifon of Maſſagan on the Coaſt of Barbary, and moſt of the ſaid Loading being on Board, and the ſaid Maſter Thomas Ray lick on Shore, John Applegath and the other two Sailors cut the Cables in the Evening about the 20th of October, and run away with the Veſſel and Cargo and Boy to the Iſland Palma, where John Applegath aſſuming to be Maſter and Part Owner, changed the Name of the Veſſel, and called her the William and Thomas, and ſelling the Cargo, took in ſome Wine and Pitch, but being frighten'd by an Account of another Ship making into the ſame Bay, hoisted Sails and put to Sea with little or no Loading or Proviſions on Board, and went round the Weſtern Iſlands to prevent a Purſuit, and after 30 Days and a great deal of bad Weather arrived in Bantry on the 29th of November laſt.
