Duke of Manchester.

Right Hand John Antis, Junior, the Genealogist of the Order, habited in a Mantle and Surcoat like to the other Officers, and wearing pendent to a Golden Chain an Escutcheon enamelled with the Arms of the Order, with the Cyphers or Letters G enterlaced in the Center, and on his Left Hand Grey Longueville, Esq; Bath King of Arms in the like Mantle and Surcoat, having on his Breast hanging to a Gold Chain, about his Neck, the Escutcheon of the Arms of the Order empaling those of the Sovereign, surmounted with an Imperial Crown, and carrying the white Rod or Scepter in his Right Hand, the two latter having their red Caps or Bonnets in their Hands.

The Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Rochester Dean of Westminster, and Dean of this Order, in his Mantle and Surcoat, like to the Companions, and with the Badge of the Order pendent to a red Ribbon, carrying the Forms of the Oaths, and Admonitions to be given to the Knights and Proxies fairly engross'd upon Vello n.

The Great Master in his full Habit, and with the Collar of Gold, composed of several Imperial Crowns, tyed or linked with Knots of Gold, representing the white Laces mentioned in the antient Ceremonials of conferring the Knighthood of the Bath, weighing thirty Ounces Troy Weight, having the Badge, or Symbol of the Order thereto pendent, his Grace being covered with the white Hat adorned with a Plume of white Feathers.

Sir Andrew Fountaine, Proxy for Prince William, went therefore covered with his Hat in this Procession, carrying the Mantle upon his Right Arm.

In this Form they proceeded to the Chappel of Henry VII. at the East End of the Abbey of Westminster.

The Twelve Alms-Men there entered two and two, and coming to the Middle of the Choir, did altogether in a Body, make their joint and low Reverences to the Altar, and turning about, then made their Obeisances to the Sovereign's Stall, and dividing themselves stood on each Side in a Row down from the Rails of the Altar.

The Messenger of the Order, in like Manner, and stood below the Alms-Men.

The Esquires having made a short Stand at the Door, while the Alms-Men and Messengers thus placed themselves, entered three and three, and being in a Body, made the like Reverences together in the Middle of the Choir, and stood before their respective Seats, which were underneath the Stalls of their Knights.

The Prebendaries of the Church of Westminster two and two in the same Manner, placing themselves within the Rails of the Altar to assist at Divine Service.

The Pursuivants, Heralds, and the Provincial Kings of Arms, likewise entered, and were permitted to stand before the Forms, under Prince William's Stall, who had Commands given them by the Great Master to take especial Care to shew the Knights their respective Banners upon their Entries

The two Knights in the lowest Stalls entered and passing up near to their Banners, made their double Reverences together in the Middle of the Choir, and then retired under their Banners.

Who being thus placed, all the other Knights and Proxies by Pairs, or Singly, according to the Method observed in the Procession, took their Stations under their Banners, with the like Ceremonies.

Then the Register, in Breast, with the Secretary and Gentleman-Usher, in the same Method, who stood before their Bench, at the Foot of the Sovereign's Stall.

Garter, the Genealogist, and Bath King of Arms did the same, and stood before their Bench.

The Dean in like Manner stood before his Chair.

The Great Master entered single with the like Obeisances, and retired under his Banner.

The Proxy of Prince William entered alone in the like Manner.

Prince William, who by the Statutes is declared to be the First and Principal Companion of this Order, and to be placed next to the Sovereign, at this Time came into the Chappel in Person, and the Sovereign having been pleased in regard to the Tenderness of his Age to dispence with his Observance of all the Rites of this Order, that might give him any Fatigue, he therefore immediately ascended into his Stall, being invested in his Mantle, and Collar, and sat down there covered.

Bath King of Arms then made his Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and turning himself to the Great Master, who making his double Reverences in the Choir took his Stall, and there repeated his Obeisances, and sat down covered with his white Hat.

Then the Proxy of the Duke of Richmond ascended into the Stall of his Principal in like Manner, and stood there uncovered, holding the Mantle upon his Right Arm.

Then Bath turned himself to the two Knights in the next Stalls, who, at the same Instant, made the like Obeisances below, and repeated them in their Stalls, and sat down uncovered.

In like Manner, all the Residue of the Companions and Proxies having waited the Seating of those in the upper Stalls, in their Courses, took their respective Stalls, by Pairs, through such Passages, as the troubling any Knight in an higher Stall might best be avoided.

Which being done, the Esquires, having made their Reverences in a Body, retired to their Seats, after them the Officers of Arms, and the Officers of the Order, placed themselves on their Forms with the like Ceremonies. The Provincial Kings of Arms, and the Heralds, according to a Request made to the Great Master, were allowed to sit on Benches in this present Ceremony, placed at the Foot of Prince William's Stall, the Pursuivants standing before them.

Bath, and the Gentleman-Usher forthwith arose, made their Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and being followed by the Dean, in like Manner, proceeded towards the Stall of the Great Master, who making his Obeisances in the Middle of the Choir, proceeded to Install the Knights in the following Manner.

The Great Master entered into the Stall of the Knight Companion next in Height to his own, and having there given the Proxy of the Duke of Richmond the Transcript of the Statutes attested under the Seal of the Order, the Dean administered unto him the Oath in the Name of his Principal, Bath holding the Book of the Gospels, and the Great Master then seated the Proxy down in the Stall, who rising, made his double Reverences, and continued standing holding the Mantle.

The Great Master, with the like Attendance, having made his Obeisances in the Middle of the Choir, then repaired to the Stall of the Duke of Manchester, delivering to him the Copy of the Statutes, and the Dean having administered the Oath, which was of the Tenour following; "You shall honour God above all Things; You shall be steadfast in the Faith of Christ; You shall love the King your Sovereign Lord, and Him, and His Right defend to your Power; You shall defend Maidens, Widows, and Orphans, in their Rights, and shall suffer no Extortion, as far as you may prevent it; and of as great Honour be this Order unto you, as ever it was to any of your Progenitors, or others." Bath then delivered the Collar of the Order to the Great Master, who put it about the Neck of the Duke of Manchester, and placing the White Hat on his Head, seated him down in his Stall, who rising, made his double Reverences, and the Great Master having embraced and congratulated him, he then sat down in his Stall, covered with his White Hat adorned with Plumes of white Feathers.

The Great Master thus proceeded throughout the Residue of the Stalls, performing the like Ceremonies to the Knights and Proxies respectively.

Which being finished, and the Great Master returned to his own Stall, the Dean was conducted to the Altar, and Bath and the Gentleman Usher being returned to their Benches, which Ceremonies were performed with the due Obeisances; Divine Service then began: During which Time, the Knights did place their Hats upon the Cushions laid before them.

with

Upon the first Sentence of the Offertory, Let your Lights be kindled, &c. the Musick playing, Bath stepped from his Bench, made his double Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and coming before the Stall of the Junior Knight, bowed to him, and immediately turned himself to the opposite Side, bowing to the Knight in that Stall, who arose, and making their double Obeisances both at one Time in their Stalls, descended into the Middle of the Choir, where they repeated the same, and retired under their Banners. Bath then in like Manner summoned the Knights in the next Stalls, and so throughout the whole Course of Stalls, summoning them by Pairs, and the Proxy of the Duke of Richmond single, and then the Great Master, and after him Prince William alone, who all of them with the like Ceremonies, placed themselves under their Banners.

Bath returned to his Bench, and the Provincial Kings of Arms making their Reverences, waited upon Prince William, who upon his going from under his Banner, made his double Obeisances, and being thus preceded, made his double Reverences near the Rails of the Altar, and at the Rails, to the Altar only, where kneeling down, his Highness made his Offering into the Basin held by the Dean, assisted by the Prebends. And he repeated the same Reverences in his Return, and entered into his Stall, where he again made his double Obeisances and sat down.

Bath, King of Arms, then arose, and being joined by the eldest Herald, in like Manner repaired to the Great Master, who carrying his White Hat in his Hand, offered in the same Manner, and returned and sat down in his Stall with the same Ceremonies.

And then the Proxy of the Duke of Richmond in the same Method, and stood in the Stall holding the Mantle.

And afterwards all the Knights, and Proxies in like Manner, wherein this Rule was observed, That the Knights and Proxies in the opposite Stalls, offered by Pairs together; and the Heralds, according to their Seniorities, took and repeated their Turns in going with Bath King of Arms, before the Knights and Proxies.

Divine Service being ended, the Knights Companions put on their White Hats, and while the Musick plaid, Bath, King of Arms, summoned all the Knights and Proxies to come done from their several Stalls in the former Method, who all stood under their Banners.

Which being done, Prince William was conducted to the Rails of the Altar with the like Ceremonies, as in the former Offering, where the Prince unsheathed his Sword, and offered it himself naked to the Dean, and having redeemed it, the Dean returned it with the following Admonition, I exhort and admonish you, to use your Sword to the Glory of God, the Defence of the Gospel, the Maintenance of your Sovereign's Right and Honour, and of all Equity and Justice, to the utmost of your Power. And soon afterwards the Prince retired out of the Chappel, leaving Sir Andrew Fontaine to be his Proxy in the Procession for the return to the Chapter-House. Then the Great Master covered, after him the Proxy of the Duke of Richmond uncovered, each singly, and all other the Knights covered and Proxies uncovered, by Pairs, being respectively attended as at the first Offering, were conducted to the Rails of the Altar with the usual Obeisances, where each Knight and Proxy standing, unsheathed his Sword, and offered it naked to the Dean, who, upon the Redemption of it, restored the same with the proper Admonitions, according to the Oaths they had taken this Day; and these Knights, and Proxies, being all severally reconducted back to the Places under their respective Banners, the Alms-men began the Procession, and were follow'd by all others, having first performed their double Obeisances in the Chappel. And this Procession was made in the same Form back to the Chapter Room as in the first Procession to the Chappel, except in the following particulars; That at the Outside of the West Door of the Abbey, the Sovereign's Master-Cook, having a Linnen Apron, and a Chopping Knife in his Hand, severally said to each Companion, "Sir, you know what great Oath you have taken, which if you keep, it will be great Honour to you; But if you break it, I shall be compelled, by my Office, to hack off your Spurs from your Heels." And that the Prebendaries had Leave to retire to Jerusalem Chamber from the West End of the Abbey Church, the Esquires, Officers of Arms, and of the Order, after they came out of the Church, were allowed to be covered; and at the Door of the Chapter Room, Bath, King of Arms, took the Mantle from the Proxies.

Dinner being ready, the Great Master, being preceded by the Officers of the Order, and Garter King of Arms, came into the Court of Requests, proceeded down to the lower End thereof, and entered into the Way at the farther Side of the Table, and came up to the Top of it, being followed by all the Knights in Course according to the height of their Stalls; and when Grace had been said, they all sat down in that Order, in the same Row upon one Side of the Table, each of them having an Escutcheon of his Arms and Titles fixed to the Wall over his Seat: The Dean was placed next to the Junior Knight, and the Proxies of the Duke of Richmond and of the Lord Glennorchy, sat uncovered at the Bottom of the Table.

The Officers of the Order, covered with their Bonnets, sat at a Table placed opposite the Knights Table, towards the lower End of the Room; the Officers of Arms dined at a Table in the Passage from the House of Lords to the House of Commons; and the Prebendaries in Jerusalem Chamber.

The Esquires having for some time attended behind their respective Knights, had Leave given them to retire to their Dinner in the Painted Chamber, who went thither in their Courses, where they dined.

At the Second Course, Bath, King of Arms arose, and the Musick ceasing, made his Reverence in the middle of the Room, and there according to the Command given him, proclaimed the Style of Prince William, the First, and Principal Companion of this most Honourable Order, who is always to be placed next to the Sovereign; and then coming up near to the Great Master, who stood up uncovered, while Bath proclaimed his Styles; and the Great Master then sitting down, the Style of each Companion present, in the like Manner was respectively proclaimed, at which some Heralds and Pursuivants attended.

The whole Ceremony was performed with great Regularity, Magnificence, and Splendour.
