Whitehall, July 16.

The Convention of the Royal Boroughs of Scotland met at Edinburgh the 5th Instant, and made Choice of George Drummond, Esq; Lord Provost of Edinburgh, to be their President.

The next Day His Majesty's most gracious Letter to them, (which follows) having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, was read in a very full Meeting.

GEORGE R.

TRusty and Well-beloved, We greet you well. We having observed, that the several Sums of Money, reserved and provided by the Treaty of Union, and by divers Acts of Parliament, to be employed for the Improvement of Fisheries and Manufactures in Scotland, have not hitherto been applied to the Uses for which they were intended; principally because no particular Plan or Method hath been concerted, directing the Manner in which those Sums should be applied for the said Purposes: And being desirous to remove those Hindrances as speedily as may be; We have thought good to recommend it to you, that at your first General Meeting in the Month of July next, you do take into your Consideration the State of the said Fisheries and Manufactures, and of the Moneys provided for encouraging the same, and that by yourselves or by Committees of your Number, you devise and propose the particular Methods, Rules and Regulations which to you shall seem the most proper, for the Application of the said Sums towards the encouraging and promoting of Fisheries, and such other Manufactures and Improvements in Scotland as shall most conduce to the General Good of the United Kingdom; and that you do return to Us the Propositions in which you shall have agreed, to the End that upon due Consideration thereof, a certain Method may be settled for the Application and Management of those Sums for the future. The Welfare of our loving People of Scotland, and the Prosperity of the Royal Burrows is so much concerned in what We now recommend to you, that We doubt not you will go on in the Execution of what is expected from you, with the utmost Diligence, Unanimity, and Impartiality; and on Our Part, We assure you of Our Countenance and Encouragement in what you shall propose for the real Good of your Country, consistent with the General Interest of Our United Kingdom. And so We bid you heartily farewell. Given at Our Court at Kensington the 7th Day of June 1726, in the Twelfth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

Holles Newcastle.

Which Letter having been received with all possible Expressions of Loyalty and Gratitude, the Convention returned the following most dutiful Answer.

May it please your Majesty,

WITH the greatest Joy and Gratitude we received your Majesty's most gracious Letter, commanding us to devise and propose a Plan

Plan or Method for applying the several Sums of Money that have by the Treaty of Union and different Acts of Parliament, been provided for the Encouragement of Trade and Manufactures in this Part of your United Kingdom, to the Purposes for which they were intended: The Concern expressed by your Majesty, for the Welfare of your People, and this particular Instance of your great Goodness and Tenderness towards them, must fill the Hearts of all your loyal Subjects in this Part of Britain, with the utmost Duty and Thankfulness, and defeat the Attempts of those who vainly imagine they may find their Account in creating and fomenting National Discontents.

The Commands which your Majesty has been pleased to lay upon us, we cheerfully undertake; and as our low State, in respect to Trade and Manufactures, demands a speedy Remedy, we think ourselves bound in Duty to your Majesty, and in Regard to our Country, to contribute our utmost Endeavours to carry on your Majesty's most gracious Purpose, that your Majesty may speedily reap the Fruits of your Goodness and Bounty in the Prosperity of your People.

We shall therefore, without any Loss of Time, by ourselves, and by Committees of our Number, set about what your Majesty has recommended to us, and shall most humbly lay our Propositions before your Majesty, so soon as we shall be agreed in them.

That the Crown may long flourish on your Sacred Head, and be continued in your Royal Family to latest Posterity, are the earnest Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,
Your Majesty's most humble, most faithful, and most obedient Subjects and Servants,
