St. James's, March 14.

THE following humble Address of the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of the University of Cambridge, has been presented to His Majesty by the Reverend Dr. Gooch; Deputy Vice-Chancellor, attended by many of the Heads of Houses, Doctors, and other Members of that University; and accompanied by several Bishops and Deans of the said University; introduced by his Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household.

The humble Address of the Chancellor; Masters and Scholars of the University of Cambridge.

May it please your most Excellent Majesty,

WHILE our Fellow-Subjects are hastening from all Parts of the Kingdom to express their Concern and Zeal for your Majesty's Person and Government; should We alone be silent, who were so early, and have been so often distinguish'd by your particular Favour, the World might justly reproach us, and (which is less tolerable to ingenuous Minds) we should certainly reproach ourselves.

Tho' it is not possible for us to forget your Majesty's repeated Favours to this University, whenever we have the Honour to appear in your Royal Presence, yet we come not now to acknowledge private Kindnesses done to ourselves, but to pay our just Tribute of Thanks for far more extended Benefits accruing to the whole Kingdom through the Wisdom of your Majesty's Counsels.

We stand before our Patron and our King, greatly indebted, and highly sensible of our Obligations in both Views; but as the Liberty which we enjoy as Englishmen; and the Religion which we profess as Protestants, are of all earthly Blessings the greatest, and without which all others would soon become vain and insignificant; 'tis to your Royal Care and Vigilance over these common Blessings, in which every Briton has a Share; that we come now to pay an Acknowledgement, of which our Hearts are full; and which we feel far more sensibly than we can express.

When we see your Majesty threaten'd with the Dangers of a foreign War, and Princes once highly indebted to your Majesty and your People conspiring to invade your Kingdoms; and yet no Injustice, no Breach of Faith laid to your Majesty's Charge, nothing demanded of you that can be granted without a manifest Violation of the just Rights of our Country; what can we think, but that your Majesty is molested for being, and resolving to be the Father of your Country; for refusing to sacrifice the Rights of your People to the Ease and Tranquility of your own Time? Narrow spirited Princes may be willing to compound with Dangers, and to shift off present Evils, leaving them a certain and increasing Burden to Posterity: But your Majesty has chosen the nobler, as well as the wiser Part, to meet the Danger; and to shew the ambitious Spirits which trouble the World, and think Force a sufficient Title to every thing within their Reach, that you are afraid of nothing but of doing Wrong; and are prepared and resolved to maintain your own and your Peoples Rights.

They who demand our Trade out of our Hands now, can only mean to put themselves and us in such a State; that they may safely make larger Demands upon us at a more convenient Season. Could their Policy prevail, could they be so successful as to see themselves growing in Riches and Power; and this this Nation languishing and declining in both, the next Demand would probably be for the Throne itself; and what is that but to demand of every Englishman a Surrender of his Liberty and Religion, and every Thing else for the Sake of which 'tis worth Living? .

These Views at present are thought proper to be concealed: 'Tis part of a secret Treaty only to place the Pretender upon the Throne of these Kingdoms: But this will no longer be a Secret when it may safely be own'd; and every Diminution of the Trade, and Riches of this Country, makes it safer to own, and easier to execute such Designs. As little as we may be supposed to understand the Affairs of Trade, we see enough to make us Parties in the common Concern of the Nation, and to kindle in us a just Repentment against every Attempt upon it by Fraud or Force.

We have seen ourselves and our Fellow-Subjects so long in a State of Happiness and Satisfaction under your Majesty's auspicious Government, that we had Reason to think the Pretender quite forgotten; but since your Enemies Abroad have embraced the vain and delusive Hopes which your Enemies at Home seem in great Measure to have laid aside, we beg Leave to repeat the solemn Assurances often given, and always remember'd by us, that we will, to the utmost of our Power and Ability, support your Majesty's Government against the Pretender and all his Adherents, whether at Home or Abroad. We know full well, that in this Profession we are not more faithful to your Majesty than to ourselves, and our own Interest; and we are perswaded, that the People of England can never act contrary to their Duty to your Majesty in this Respect, till they grow tired of their Religion and their Liberty, and are willing to abandon themselves to all the Miseries, which, even in a distant View, are shocking to humane Nature.

That your Majesty may long enjoy Health and Vigour to perfect the glorious Work you have undertaken, that the Success may answer to the Justice and Wisdom of your Conduct, that you may be rewarded by seeing Peace and Tranquility restored and settled upon a solid and lasting Foundation, is, and shall be the Prayer, and (as far as we can contribute) the Endeavour of your Loyal University of Cambridge. Given under our Common Seal, the 4th Day of March, Anno Domini 1726.

To which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to return the following most gracious Answer.

I Thank you for this Dutiful and Loyal Address. The Zeal and Affection which you express for my Person and Government, are very seasonable at this Juncture, and give me great Satisfaction. My University of Cambridge may be assured of the Continuance of my Protection, Favour and Encouragement.

His Majesty was pleas'd to receive them very graciously, and they all had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital and Inferior Burgeses of the Borough and Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerset, has been presented to His Majesty by James Smith and Abraham Elton, Esqrs; their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital and inferior Burgeses of the Borough and Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerset.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, being truly sensible of your Majesty's wise and steady Administration, your Fatherly Care for the just Rights and Privileges of your People, your tender Regard for the Laws, your prudent and wise Steps taken for the Security and Advancement of Trade, with other inestimable Blessings that attend your Majesty's Government, kindle in our Breasts not only an inexpressible Sense of Joy, but also the utmost Abhorrence of those Powers, who have so treacherously combined to invade the Peace of your Majesty's Dominions, in peremptorily and in an hostile Manner demanding a Delivery of Port Mahon and Gibraltar, Places of the greatest Importance to the Security of our Trade, and by endeavouring to impose a Popish Pretender on the Throne of these Realms. Wherefore we humbly presume (as bound by the strictest Principles of Duty and Gratitude) Gratitude) to assure your Majesty, that we shall be always ready, to the utmost of our Power, to support and defend your Majesty's Person, Crown and Dignity, against all Opposers whatsoever.

That your Reign may be long, happy and prosperous, that Success may attend your Counsels, and Victory your Forces both by Sea and Land; that there never may be wanting one of your Royal Progeny, indued with equal Virtues, to succeed in these Dominions, are the sincere Prayers and Wishes of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful faithful, and loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Masters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells, in the County of Somerset, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Edwards, Jun. Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Masters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells, in the County of Somerset.

WHILST the present Juncture of Affairs demands the most dutiful Tenders of Allegiance from all your Majesty's loyal Subjects, Permit us, most gracious Sovereign, to offer our Tribute of grateful Acknowledgement for your Royal Care to continue the Prosperity of your People, and the Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's happy Administration.

We cannot without the utmost Resentment and Indignation reflect upon the Dangers that threatened us from the late Confederacy of the Emperour and the King of Spain, entered upon by those Powers against all the Obligations of Gratitude and most solemn Treaties, to support an unjust Encroachment on our Commerce, an Attempt upon your Majesty's most rightful Dominions, and the Extirpation of our most holy Religion.

But your Majesty's unwearied Vigilance in the early Discovery of their destructive Schemes, the powerful Alliances you have formed, and the seasonable Preparations you have made to frustrate their Designs, fill our Hearts with Joy unspeakable; and with inexpressible Satisfaction as well as Admiration we behold your Majesty demonstrating to the World, that the Prosperity and Protection of your People is your greatest Care and Concern.

May these Blessings of your auspicious Reign engage every true Briton to the most steady Loyalty and Obedience, and the firmest Adherence to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and to contribute the utmost of his Power in promoting your Majesty's most gracious Designs for preserving the Balance of Power in your Royal Hands, whose consummate Wisdom knows how to consult the general Interest of Christendom, whilst it directs it to the particular Happiness and Advantage of these Kingdoms.

Given under our common Seal this 25th Day of February, in the Thirteenth Year of your Majesty's Reign.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of the City of Gloucester, has been presented to His Majesty by Charles Hyett, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Berkeley, Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the County of Gloucester. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of the City of Gloucester, in Common-Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of this City, in Common-Council assembled, hold ourselves bound in Duty and Gratitude to return our utmost Acknowledgments for your Majesty's tender Care of your People, in making such necessary Preparations as your Majesty thought most Expedient, to secure to us our just Rights, and the most valuable Branches of our Trade.

Yet notwithstanding the necessary Precautions and prudent Measures taken by your Majesty to preserve the publick Peace of your Dominions, we find there are foreign Princes hardy enough to attempt to wrest from your Hands those very Possessions yielded ed and given up to the British Nation by the most solemn Treaties.

But since the vehement Desire of Dominion, is such, that no Engagements can withstand, 'tis not to be doubted but the Bravery of your Majesty's Forces will soon Check that irregular Ambition which the most solemn Treaties could not set Bounds and Limits to.

And we humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that as nothing can heighten our Resentment more than the unjust Violences committed against your Possessions, so nothing can fall so much beneath our Contempt as the vain and impotent Threats of placing that piteous Engine of peevish Princes, a Popish Pretender, on your Majesty's Throne.

May that Providence which manifestly presides in all your Counsels, enable your Majesty to crush these unwarrantable Hostilities: May our Nation and Religion never be wanting of such a Prince to maintain and defend its just Rights against the pernicious Designs of restless and unsatisfied Princes; to which End we shall cheerfully contribute every Thing that lies in our Power, at the utmost Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes. Given under our common Seal this 8th Day of March, in the 13th Year of His Majesty's Reign.

The following humble Address of the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin, has been presented to His Majesty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord-Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin, beg Leave to congratulate your most sacred Majesty upon your late wife and salutary Measures for preserving the Rights and Possessions of Great Britain, and the Balance and Peace of Europe.

These Measures, as they have rais'd your Majesty to a Height of Honour unknown to your Royal Ancestors, cannot fail, under the Divine Protection, to establish your Throne upon the noblest and the firmest Foundations; the Affections of your own Subjects, and the Interests of Mankind.

From your Majesty's provident and princely Conduct, will late Posterity be taught the Advantage of vigorous Resolutions, and the Wisdom of Prevention, the true Use and Power of a British Fleet, and the true Character of a British Monarch, the Father of his People, the Guardian of his Allies, the Arbitrer of Europe.

A Prince of this Character will securely smile at the vain Attempts and impotent Threats of his Enemies, especially when the Loss of Trade, and some of its most valuable Securities, are made Conditions of those Calamities with which his Subjects are threaten'd, by the secret Engagements entered into for imposing a Popish Pretender upon these Kingdoms. An upright, a free, and a Protestant People, will never purchase Perjury, Slavery and Superstition at such a Price.

Whilst other Princes would enlarge their Empire at the Expence of the most sacred Ties, and the most solemn Engagements, and are busied in devising how to disturb their Neighbour States by insolent Threats and unjust Demands, by invading their Property and interrupting their Commerce, urg'd on thro' Impotence of Power, and the Glare of false Glory, to project Calamity and Ruin all around them; be it your Majesty's peculiar Praise to protect and to preserve; to make the Happiness of Mankind the Rule and the Bound of your Ambition, by effectual Provisions for War to seek Peace and to ensue it, to hold at once the Scales and the Sword of Justice, and in so doing, to approve yourself the true Vicegerent of that God who sitteth upon the Circle of the Heavens, and divideth to the Nations their Inheritance; who, when he riseth in Judgment, the Earth feareth and is still.

To the Protection of this great and gracious God we commit your Majesty, with fervent Prayers for your Preservation and Prosperity, and with sincere Assurances of inviolable Affection and Allegiance to your Person and Government, both which we shall be ever careful to evidence, in our Practice and in our Precepts, and in every Endeavour of dutiful and loyal Subjects, for the perpetual Establishment of your Throne.

The

The following humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council assembled, has been presented to His Majesty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and faithful Subjects humbly beg Leave to express our dutiful Sense of your Majesty's continual Care, in securing the undoubted Privileges and Commerce of your People, and the Tranquility of Europe against the unjust and ungrateful Attempts of those Powers, who have grown formidable by your Majesty's Friendship, and the Blood and Treasure of your Subjects.

We see with Pleasure the Check your Majesty has given to their Ambition, by the Wisdom of your Counsels, the Terror of your Fleets, and the Strength of your Alliances; and those who have entered into Engagements against these Nations may be convinced, that they can form no Schemes so secret, as to escape your Majesty's Vigilance, and that as oft as they Project Invasions of your Majesty's Dominions, they will be reduced to a Necessity of defending their own.

The wise and prudent Disposition of your Naval Forces, by which your Majesty has been able to disconcert the Measures, formed and carried on against the Peace and Repose of your Realms; and to render the Treasures of the Indies altogether useless to those Powers, who had entered into Treaties destructive to the Liberties of Europe, must satisfy the World how vain their Projects are, who, contrary to the most solemn Treaties, and in Violation of the highest Obligations have invaded the Rights and Privileges of your People in the most important Branches of their Commerce, and peremptorily demanded the Restitution of Gibraltar, and the Island of Minorca, indisputably belonging to the Crown of Great Britain.

We, who at this Distance find your Majesty's Goodness as extensive, as other Nations have found your Power, and who have in Remembrance the evil and destructive Effects of Popery and arbitrary Power, more severely felt by us of this Kingdom, than by the rest of our fellow Subjects, beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we are animated with the utmost Zeal for your Service, and have the greatest Abhorrence and Detestation of every Attempt, that shall be made in favour of the Pretender. And that we shall upon all Occasions be ready with our Lives and Fortunes to defend your Majesty's Person and Government, and the Succession in your Royal House; as the only Security of our happy Constitution both in Church and State. In Testimony whereof we have caused the common Seal of the said City to be hereunto affixed this 28th Day of February, 1726.
