St. James's, May 9.

THE following humble Address of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Gentlemen of the County of Anglesea, has been presented to His Majesty by Hugh Williams, Esq; Representative for that County, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Gentlemen of the County of Anglesea.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THough we are so unfortunate as to be remote from your Royal Person; yet we abundantly feel the happy Influence of your auspicious Reign; and when we find some Powers (whom the greatest Favours and most solemn Treaties are too feeble to bind) openly attacking our Properties, so gloriously purchased, and undermining our Trade, on which the Being of this Nation depends; and our very Religion and Liberties already attempted to be destroy'd, Silence would be a Crime; give us Leave then humbly to assure your Majesty of our unshaken Loyalty and inviolable Zeal for your Majesty's Prosperity.

When some Parts of your Dominions ungratefully took Arms against your Majesty, your faithful Britons remained untainted without Troops to deter us, sufficiently restrained by our sincere Affection to the best of Kings, and best of Princes; but we cannot pretend to any Merit in doing our Duty, when we must have become our own Enemies the Moment we commenced yours.

Great Sir, we are sensible that Peace is a Blessing highly to be valued, but it degenerates into a Curse, when our Religion, Properties and Liberties must be the Sacrifice to procure it; and your Majesty's tender Regard for those inestimable Benefits, will convince the World that you (the true Father of your People) think the Repose of your Reign too dearly bought at the Expence of your Subjects Welfare; and we should make a very poor Return to so much Goodness; were we not ready to undergo all Hazards in the Defence of your Majesty and your Royal Issue, and those invaluable Blessings that attend them. These are the hearty Prayers and sincere Wishes of your Majesty's most loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Bailiffs and Burgesses of the Corporation of Morpeth in the County of Northumberland, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Morpeth, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs and Burgesses of your Majesty's ancient and loyal Corporation of Morpeth in the County of Northumberland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's great and consummate Wisdom, most signally shewn to all Europe, by the early and seasonable Equipment of your Royal Navy, together with your prudent Distribution thereof into proper Stations, thereby to secure to us and your Majesty's Allies the desirable Blessings of Peace and Trade, are such signal Instances not only of your Majesty's paternal Affection to your own People, but also of your Majesty's unparalleled Sagacity in Matters of State, that should we be silent in returning your Majesty our most unfeigned Thanks for the same, (which in the most dutiful Manner we hereby do) we should think ourselves wanting in our Duty to so good and gracious a Sovereign.

We therefore, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that as it is with the greatest Pleasure and Satisfaction, we enumerate
