Dublin, June 19.

THIS Afternoon at Four of the Clock arrived an Express to the Lords Justices, with an Account of the Death of our late Sovereign Lord King George, of Blessed Memory, and Directions for proclaiming His Royal Majesty King George the Second; upon which their Excellencies and the Privy Council met immediately at the Castle, and signed a Proclamation pursuant to the Tenor of that which had been issued in Great Britain, and about Nine the same Evening the Lords Justices, and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Town, with the Lord Mayor and Aldermen, King at Arms and other Officers attending the State, first proclaimed His Majesty at the Castle Gate, and afterwards went through the City and proclaimed His Majesty at the usual Places with great Solemnity. The great Guns at the Barracks were fired three Rounds and answered by Volleys from the Regiments quartered there, and the Night ended with Bonfires, Ringing of Bells, and other publick Demonstrations of Joy.

By the Lords Justices and Council of Ireland,

A P R O C L A M A T I O N,

Tho. Wyndham, C. Wm. Conolly.

Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy our late Sovereign Lord King George, of blessed Memory, by whose Decease the Imperial Crowns of Great Britain, France and Ireland, are solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince George Prince of Wales.

We the Lords Justices and Council, do by this our Proclamation think fit to give publick Notice thereof to all His Majesty's Subjects, and do require all Mayors, Sheriffs, and other His Majesty's Officers, to publish and proclaim, That the High and Mighty Prince George,

George,

George, Prince of Wales, is now by the Death of our late Sovereign, of happy Memory, become our only lawful and rightful Liege Lord George the Second, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. in all the Cities and Towns corporate, and Market Towns in this Kingdom, and all Officers both Civil and Military, and other His Majesty's Subjects, are hereby required to be assisting in the Performance thereof with all due Solemnity.

Given at the Council Chamber in Dublin, the 19th Day of June, 1727.

Will. Dublin, Kildare, Meath, Anglesey, Abercorn, Hillsborough, Newtown, St. John Brodrick, Ralph Gore, Wm. Whitshed, Tho. Dalton, Tho. Taylor, Ben. Parry, R. Tighe, Marin. Coghill.

God save the King.

By the Lords Justices General and General Governours of Ireland.

A P R O C L A M A T I O N .

Tho. Wyndham, C. Wm. Conolly.

WHEREAS His Royal Majesty King George the Second hath signified His Pleasure, That the several Officers now absent out of Ireland do return forthwith to their Posts: We do therefore hereby direct and require all Officers of the Army, notwithstanding any Licence or other Allowance granted them to be absent, to repair immediately to their respective Posts, and there attend their Duty, and not to absent themselves from their Commands on any Pretence whatsoever, as they tender the Good of His Majesty's Service, and upon Pain of our utmost Displeasure.

Given at His Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 20th Day of June, 1727.

By their Excellencies Command,
Tho. Tickell.

God save the King.

Kensington, June 22.

This Day the Right Honourable Gerald de Courcy, Lord Kinfales in the Kingdom of Ireland, was presented by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of that Kingdom, to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive him very graciously, and his Lordship had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand, and to assert the ancient Right of his Family of being covered in the King's Presence, which His Majesty was pleased to allow of as a Right belonging to the Family.

Kensington, June 22.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council and chief Inhabitants of the City of Exeter, has been presented to His Majesty by Samuel Molyneux, Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable Philip Earl of Chesterfield. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council, and chief Inhabitants of your City of Exon, whom in the Reign of our late Sovereign your Father, of blessed Memory, You the sole and undoubted Heir to the Imperial Crowns of these Realms, was most graciously pleased to take under your immediate Protection, are under a double Obligation above all other your Majesty's Subjects, to be deeply affected with whatever can give your Royal Heart Concern and Surprise; especially upon this great and melancholly Occasion, the sudden and unexpected Death of the King your Father.

Had the Divine Providence, when it took from us a wise King, left us to struggle under the Difficulties of a Minority, the Loss had been insupportable to this Nation; but now, when instead of a Prince advanced as in Glory so in Years, and almost ripe for Death, it has given us another in the Strength of his Age and Wisdom, one of whose Love and Affection to Britain we have had such Knowledge and Experience, we patiently and even with a Christian Cheerfulness submit to the Divine Will; promising ourselves, under your auspicious Reign, the Nation will receive no Diminution, but an Increase of Power at Home, and of Influence and Consequence Abroad.

Your People could have been satisfied, even without the Assurance of your Royal Word, of the Security of their Religion, Laws, and Liberties, together with the Preservation of the Constitution as it is now established both in Church and State, under a Prince that has always held constant Communion with our Holy Church, and that has made it his Business to understand our Constitution, by being constantly present at all the Grand Debates in Parliament; Assurances, that no Promises from one bred and bigotted in a Religion opposite to ours, and a perfect Stranger to our Constitution, can give them.

May your Majesty, whom we of this City have the Happiness to see from our especial Patron now our King, as always Good and Gracious, so now Mighty and Powerful; and to whom, as our Sovereign Liege Lord, we promise all Faith and constant Obedience, with all hearty and humble Affection; accomplish and perfect the great Work so well begun by the late King your Royal Father, the restoring the Tranquility and preserving the Balance of Europe, which God has reserved for the Happiness of your Reign: And may that Reign be long and prosperous over us, full of Glory and Honour to yourself, and for the Interest and Security of your People.

St. James's, June 24.

This Evening their Majesties came to this Palace from Kensington.

St. James's, June 26.

This Day the Right Reverend Father in God the Lord Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household, waited in a Body on His Majesty with the following humble and unanimous Address.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of your Royal Father, our late Gracious Sovereign, whose paternal Care over his People, together with his unwearied and successful Endeavours to secure to us our Religion and Liberties against the many Attempts to deprive us of them, must make his Memory dear to us and our Posterity.

We humbly present to your Majesty, as the first Tribute of Duty, our sincerest Congratulations upon your peaceful and happy Succession to the Throne of your Ancestors; most thankfully acknowledging this signal Instance of the Divine Favour to us, in filling it with a Prince, whose innate Goodness, Clemency and other Royal Virtues, will always make him affectionately desirous of the Happiness of his People, and whose Experience, Conduct, Vigilance and Resolution, will, we doubt not, accomplish his Desires, under the Divine Direction and Assistance; for which we shall not fail to offer up our constant Prayers to Almighty God.

The early Declaration which your Majesty has been pleased to make, that the Preservation of the Constitution in Church and State, as it is now happily established, shall be your first, and always your chief Care, demands the Acknowledgments of your Bishops and Clergy in a particular Manner; and we sincerely promise your Majesty, that we will always labour to promote the same great Ends, and endeavour in our several Stations to render your Administration Easy, and your Reign Prosperous.

May God direct all your Counsels to His Glory, and the Welfare of these Nations, which His wise and good Providence hath committed to your Care: May the Divine Blessings daily descend upon your Majesty, your Royal Consort our Gracious Queen, and your Royal Issue: May Righteousness, Truth, and Peace be the Stability of your Time; and may we long continue a happy and flourishing People under your Majesty's wise and auspicious Government.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to give the following most gracious Answer.

THIS early Testimony of your Duty and Loyalty, and the just Sense you have of my affectionate Concern for the Established Church, and for the Happiness of my People, are very pleasing and acceptable to me. And you may be firmly assured, that the Protection of the Church and Clergy, in the Enjoyment of their Rights and Privileges, shall be my particular Care through the whole Course of my Reign.

His Majesty was pleased to receive them very graciously, and they had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

They were afterwards introduced to the Queen by the Right Honourable the Earl of Grantham Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's Household; and the Bishop of London spoke to Her Majesty as follows,

THE Clergy of London and Westminster have attended the King, with their hearty Congratulations upon his peaceable and happy Accession to the Throne; and they now desire to tender the like sincere Congratulations to your Majesty. At the same Time they beg Leave to recommend themselves to your Majesty's Protection; being firmly persuaded, both from your immovable Adherence to the Protestant Religion Abroad against the Temptations of a Crown, and from your constant Regard to the Constitution of our own Church, that both the Church and her Clergy will upon all Occasions find in your Majesty a sure Friend and a powerful Advocate. We, on our Part, shall always pray, that the King and your Majesty may, together, enjoy a long, a happy, and a glorious Reign; and that your Majesties and your Royal Issue may ever remain under the peculiar Care and Providence of God, and be enriched by Him with all Manner of Blessings both Spiritual and Temporal.

Her Majesty was pleased to receive them very graciously, and they had all the Honour to kiss Her Majesty's Hand.

Westminster, June 27.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in his Royal Robes seated on the Throne, with the usual Solemnity, Sir Charles Dalton, Gentleman-Usher of the Black-Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers; the Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I Am persuaded that you all share with me in my Grief and Affliction for the Death of my late Royal Father; which, as it brings upon Me the immediate Care and Weight of the Government, adds very much to my Concern; lest I should not be as successful in my Endeavours, as I am, above all Things, desirous to make you a Great and Happy People.

I heartily wish, that this first solemn Declaration of my Mind in Parliament could sufficiently express the Sentiments of my Heart, and give you a perfect and just Sense of my fixed Resolution, by all possible Means, to merit the Love and Affection of my People, which I shall always look upon as the best Support and Security of my Crown.

And as the Religion, Liberty, Property, and a due Execution of the Laws are the most valuable Blessings of a free People, and the peculiar Privileges of this Nation, it shall be my constant Care to preserve the Constitution of this Kingdom, as it is now happily established, in Church and State, inviolable in all its Parts; and to secure, to all my Subjects, the full Enjoyment of their Religious and Civil Rights.

I see, with great Pleasure, the happy Effects of that Vigour and Resolution, which was exerted, in the last Session of Parliament, for the Defence of the Rights and Possessions of this Nation, and for maintaining the Tranquillity and Balance of Power in Europe; The strict Union and Harmony which has hitherto subsisted among the Allies of the Treaty of Hanover, has chiefly contributed to the near Prospect of a general Peace; I have therefore given all my Allies the strongest Assurances of pursuing the same Measures, and of making good the Engagements entered into by the Crown of Great Britain.

The Cheerfulness with which the Supplies necessary for carrying on this great Work were raised, making it but just that the publick Expence would be lessened, as soon as the Circumstances of Affairs will permit; I have already given Orders for sending back some of the Regiments brought from Ireland, and will proceed to reduce my Forces both by Sea and Land, as soon as it can be done without Prejudice to the Common Cause, and consistent with the Interest of my Kingdom.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

You know very well, that the Grant of the greatest Part of the Civil List Revenues is now determined; and that it is necessary for you to make a new Provision for the Support of Me and My Family. I am confident it is needless for Me, in any particular Manner, to recommend to your Care the Consideration of what so nearly and personally concerns Me; and I am persuaded, that the Experience of past Times, and a due Regard to the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, will prevail upon you to give Me this first Proof of your Zeal and Affection, in a Manner answerable to the Necessities of my Government.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I recommend it to you to give all possible Dispatch to such Business, as shall necessarily be brought before you; the Season of the Year, and the Circumstances of Time, requiring your Presence in the Country; and making it improper to carry this Session into any great Length.

These are, by Order of the Right Honourable the Lords and others Commissioners for the Affairs of the Royal Hospital near Chelsea, to give Notice, That all the Out-Pensioners (as well Letter-Men as others) belonging to the said Hospital residing in London, or within 20 Miles thereof, are required to appear personally at the Secretary's Office in the said Hospital before the 25th of August next, where Attendance will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 27th and 28th of this Instant June, 1727, from Eight a-Clock in the Morning till Two in the Afternoon, as also every Tuesday and Wednesday following till the said 25th of August, in order to register their such Appearance; and that all Out-Pensioners as are at a greater Distance, are required to apply themselves forthwith to one of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace in the Neighbourhood where they reside, and make Oath that they are Out-Pensioners belonging to the said Hospital, mentioning in the Certificate the Regiment to which they did formerly belong, how long they serv'd in the Army, their Age, in what manner wounded or disabled, their present Place of Abode, and that they are no otherwise provided for by the Government; to the Intent that the Commissioners for the Affairs of the said Hospital may be satisfied that they are the same Persons that have pass'd their Examination. 'Tis also required, that the said Certificates be sent by the General Post only, directed to the Right Honourable Sir Spencer Compton, Pay-Master-General of His Majesty's Forces, at the Horse-Guards, London. And 'tis hereby further notified, that no one will be entered on the Pay Book of the said Hospital, or be thought entitled to the said Pension, that shall neglect making their Appearance, or sending Certificates as before directed.
