St. James's, June 29.

THIS Day the following Address of the University of Cambridge, was presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Somerset their Chancellour, accompanied by the Vice-Chancellour, the Bishops of Rochester, Ely, Lincoln, Norwich, Lichfield and Coventry, and Chichester, with a great Number of Heads of Houses, Doctors, and Masters of Arts, all in their proper University Habits.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE come with Hearts full of Affection to your Majesty, to congratulate your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and to condole with you for the Loss of your Royal Father, our much honoured and much loved King and Patron, whose Memory will be Sacred and Precious in your University of Cambridge as long as Gratitude continues to be the Vertue of generous Minds.

Under this Loss, our greatest Comfort is in the Prospect now before us, of happy Days from your Majesty's known Love of the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of this Kingdom, and from the Proofs we have seen of your many Great and Royal Vertues.

As the lowest of your Subjects may learn, from your Example, how to obey their Sovereign; so we doubt not but your Majesty's Reign will, one Day, be a Lesson to the greatest Princes how to make themselves and their People happy.

From your Majesty's great Wisdom, and long Experience of your People, we have conceived Hopes of seeing that happy State in your Days, which your Royal Predecessors could only wish for in theirs: That Party Distinctions being laid aside, all may unite in affectionate Loyalty to their Sovereign, and hearty Endeavours for the Preservation of our Constitution in Church and State.

Towards the accomplishing this glorious Work, may your Majesty never want the Hands and Hearts of your People: Ours shall never be wanting.

We shall always strive to be among the Foremost to pay all Duty to your Majesty, and to set an Example of chearful Obedience to our Fellow-Subjects.

When we view your Majesty at the Head of a great Nation which loves you: Happy in a Royal Comfort, whose Vertues have long deserv'd a Crown, and have render'd it doubtful, Whether she is more admired or more beloved by your People: Blessed with a numerous and hopeful Issue, so formed to Virtue by Birth and Education, that we justly esteem every Branch of your Royal Family as a certain Pledge of our Country's future Happiness and Glory. What can we further wish your Majesty, or ourselves, but the Continuance of these Blessings, and that you may live for many Years beloved by your People, and revered by all the Nations round you.

To which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to return the following most gracious Answer.

THIS Address from my University of Cambridge, so full of Duty and Affection to my Person and Family, is very acceptable to me. The good Examples of Loyalty in the University, and the Influence which you have over the Youth of the Nation, will greatly conduce to the preserving all my Subjects in an entire Affection to me and my Government, and will entitle you, on all Occasions, to my Favour and Protection.

His Majesty was pleas'd to receive them very graciously, and they had all the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand.

They afterwards waited on the Queen, and his Grace the Duke of Somerset made their Compliments in a Speech to Her Majesty, to which her Majesty was pleased to return a very gracious Answer, and they had all the Honour to kiss Her Majesty's Hand.

The following humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County Palatine of Lancaster, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Chesterfield, Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber, in the Absence of the Right Honourable the Earl of Derby. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County Palatine of Lancaster.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your Sacred Majesty, to express our Concern for the Death of our late King George, your Majesty's Royal Father, of blessed Memory, and at the same Time to acknowledge, with humble and sincere Affection, our hearty Obedience to your Majesty, as our lawful and rightful Sovereign.

Your Majesty's most gracious Declaration, that the Religion, Laws and Liberties of the Kingdom are most dear to you, and that the Preservation of our Constitution in Church and State shall be your first and chief Care, cannot fail of giving full Satisfaction to the Minds, and rejoicing the Hearts of your People, with a most assured Prospect of an auspicious Reign; which that Heaven may long continue to the Glory of your Majesty and for the Safety and Happiness of these Nations, shall ever be the Prayers of your Majesty's most dutiful and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wallingford in the County of Berks, has been presented to His Majesty by Henry Stevens, Esq. their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Chesterfield Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wallingford in the County of Berks.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, humbly crave Leave with sincere Hearts to congratulate your Majesty's Succession unto the Throne of your Ancestors.

Your Majesty's princely Behaviour during your Residence here, with your Royal Declaration, sufficiently convince us of your Resolutions to support and maintain the Religious and Civil Rights of your Subjects, and particularly our established Religion with all the Advantages that can be reasonably desired of a most Gracious Sovereign.

Wherefore we take this Occasion to assure your Majesty of our Faith and constant Obedience to your Majesty, and a cheerful and hearty Readiness, under the happy Influence of your Government, to be employed for the Support thereof against all your Enemies to the utmost of our Power. And we heartily pray for your Majesty's long and healthy Life and Reign, attended with all Happiness, especially of your Royal Consort and Royal Issue, as also of the unanimous Affections of your Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Town and Borough of Great Marlow, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir John Guise, Bart. one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Town and Borough of Great Marlow.

YOUR Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, Inhabitants of this Place, do with the most profound Respect, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, humbly returning our Thanks to God, that when He thought fit to take from among us our late most gracious King your Royal Father, he was pleased to give us your Majesty's Sacred Person in his Stead.

All your Majesty's Actions have shewn us, that your Majesty has a Heart truly English, and love this your People; a sure Promise of the Prosperity we shall enjoy under your Majesty's Royal Protection and Gracious Government.

May your Majesty long Reign over us. We know your Majesty will make us happy; and we should be most ungrateful, could we ever forget to return your Majesty our most bounden Duty and Obedience, or become other than most affectionate and loyal Subjects to the greatest and best of Kings.

The following humble Address of the Grand Juries for the County of Middlesex, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir Thomas Crossé, Bart. Foreman of the Grand Jury for the Hundred of Ossulston, accompanied by several of the Grand Jury, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The

The humble Address of the Grand Juries for the County of Middlesex.

May it please your most Excellent Majesty,
WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen of the Grand Juries for the County of Middlesex, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person, humbly to condole with your Majesty on the Loss of our late most Gracious Sovereign, and at the same Time to congratulate your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne.

The glorious Success of your Majesty's Forces by Sea and Land, obtained under your late Royal Father, hath given us, and all your Subjects, and indeed all Europe, the highest Prospect of a glorious and lasting Peace, which we trust will be effected by your consummate Wisdom.

We desire, in the humblest Manner, to express our grateful Sense of, and unfeigned Thanks for your Majesty's most gracious Declaration, that the Preservation of the Constitution in Church and State, as it is now happily established, shall be your first, and always your chief Care.

So that there remains nothing for us to wish, but that your Majesty may be blessed in a happy, long, and peaceful Reign over a dutiful, affectionate, and flourishing People;

And that there may never be wanting a Prince of your illustrious House to sway the Scepter of these Kingdoms.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Commonalty, and Inhabitants of the Town and County of Poole, has been presented to His Majesty by Benjamin Scutt, Esq; Mayor of the Borough, by George Trenchard, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, and Dennis Bond, Esq; their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

AMidst the great and universal Concern and Surprise, permit us, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Commonalty, and Inhabitants of your Town and County of Poole, to express ours, for the Loss of his late Majesty of Glorious Memory, and our common Father.

The Knowledge and Experience your People have had of your Goodness, and of your Concern for the Welfare of these Nations, raiseth in us a just Value for the Happiness we are to enjoy under the Government of a Prince equal to the Weight of a Crown.

May it long flourish on your Head, and may your illustrious Line be continued a Blessing to us, the Favourites of Heaven, the Love and Glory of your People, and these your Kingdoms.

Done at the Town-House, this 19th Day of June, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Masters and Burgesses of the City or Borough of Wells, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Edwards, jun. Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Masters and Burgesses of the City or Borough of Wells.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to offer this early Tribute of Duty and Allegiance, to recognize your Majesty's undoubted Right to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, and to congratulate your happy Accession to the Throne.

The Loss this Nation sustained by the sudden and unexpected Death of our late Gracious Sovereign, of blessed Memory, in the midst of his wise Engagements to promote the Honour, Interest, and Security of his People, had been unspeakable; but your Majesty's most gracious Declaration of Love and Affection to this Kingdom, your most generous Concern to cherish and preserve our establish'd Religion, Laws, and Liberties, and to settle the Tranquility of Europe, are happy Prefages, that the completing these great Designs of your renowned Predecessor, is reserved by Providence to be one of the Glories that shall illustrate the Commencement of your Majesty's auspicious Administration.

After these Royal Assurances, what can your faithful Subjects desire farther, than that God will grant your Majesty a long, prosperous, and peaceable Reign over us, which is the unfeigned Prayer of,

Great Sir,

Your Majesty's most loyal, dutiful, and obedient Subjects.

In Testimony whereof we have caused our Common Seal to be hereunto affix'd, this 20th Day of June, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgesses, Assistants, and other Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wareham, has been presented to His Majesty by Denis Bond, Esq; the Recorder of the said Borough, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

IT is impossible for us, the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgesses, Assistants, and other ther Inhabitants of your Ancient Borough of Wareham, to express the Concern that is in our's as well as in the Heart of every Loyal Briton, on the surprizing and melancholly Occasion of your Royal Father's Demise, whose Memory will ever be dear to the real Lovers of Virtue and Liberty.

The early and repeated Instances given to your People of your Regard for their Happiness, is to them an Earnest of the great and many Advantages which they are to expect from your Government.

May you long Reign in the Love and Affections of your Subjects (the least Reward due to your Merit) and may you and your illustrious Family in this and future Ages, continue to be the Guardians of our Religion and Civil Rights.

The following humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Ludgerihall, has been presented to His Majesty by Anthony Cornish, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Ludgerihall.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THE universal Joy express'd by your People on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, is a sensible Blessing to us your most dutiful Subjects.

The Cheerfulness and Satisfaction that appears in all Places, can only be founded on the Experience we have had of your most excellent Qualities.

We are perswaded that your Majesty's Care and Concern for the Trade of this Nation, will greatly encourage the Woollen Manufacture, on which our Prosperity depends.

Permit us, also, Great Sir, to express our Gratitude for the Establishment of the Hanover Succession by the glorious and immortal King William; to mention likewise on this Occasion the high Obligations we have to his late Majesty your most illustrious Father, of Blessed Memory, who so well guarded these Realms for you.

Our Laws, Religion and Liberties will ever be safe under your Protection; and your princely Resolution will defend us from the Insults of foreign Enemies.

May the Piety of her Majesty your Royal Consort, blest'd with a numerous Issue, continue the Influence of Divine Providence on your sacred Person and your Kingdoms, is the constant Prayer of,

Your Majesty's most dutiful,
and most loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, in the County of Devon, has been presented to his Majesty by Lewis Stucley, Esq; their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and the Recorder had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, in the County of Devon.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, humbly presume to condole, with your Imperial Majesty, on the Death of your Majesty's Royal Father, our late most Gracious King.

Our Loss and Affliction would be insupportable, did not your Majesty succeed to your most illustrious Father, and did not his Virtue and Goodness still continue to us in your Royal Self.

When your Majesty was Regent under your Royal Father, so good and glorious was your Government, that it gave a delightful Prospect of all Happiness and Prosperity in your Future Reign.

Your Majesty's hearty Love and Affection for Great Britain, your Study and Knowledge of its Constitution, your Care of its Revenue, your Personal Examination of Publick Affairs, and your strict Regard for the Rights and Liberties of all your Subjects, must render your Majesty ever dear and valuable to them, and for ever engage them, by the strictest Ties of Interest and Gratitude, to all Loyalty and Obedience to the best of Kings.

May your Majesty enjoy a very long and very prosperous Reign; and when Heaven shall advance you to greater Glory, that the Blessings of your happy Reign may be perpetuated to Great Britain, by a constant Succession of the Crown in your Royal Family, is our hearty and united Prayer.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Oxford, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Montague Earl of Abingdon, their High Steward; Matthew Skinner Sergeant at Law, their Recorder; and Thomas Rowney, Jun. and Francis Knollys, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Oxford.

Most

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of your ancient and loyal City of Oxford, with Hearts full of Gladness to approach your Sacred Person, and amongst the united Acclamations of your People, to offer their Tribute of Joy upon your Majesty's ascending the Throne of these Kingdoms.

We will not renew the Grief of our Sovereign, by presuming to mingle ours with the Royal Sorrow; but the Death of our late gracious Sovereign would, to us, have been a Loss insupportable, did we not look upon your Majesty as the Inheritor of his Vertues, as well as of his Crown.

Great and many are the Blessings we expect to enjoy under the Administration of a Prince, who, by an exact Observance of the Law whilst a Subject, has given us a full Assurance that he will make that Law, which was the Measure of his Obedience, the only Rule of his Government; who has always express'd and shewn a Love and Concern for the Interest and Persons of his English Subjects; who has assisted with his Councils, and influenced by his Conduct, all Actions calculated for the Publick Good; and who begins his most auspicious Reign by restoring to his People the Blessings of Peace.

May your Majesty, in Length of Days, and in the prosperous Event of all your Undertakings, exceed the Time and Reign of your most Royal Father; and in the Affections of your People may your Majesty surpass the most beloved of your Predecessors.

In Testimony whereof we have hereunto set our Common Seal, the 23d Day of June, in the First Year of the Reign of His Majesty George the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. Annoq; Dom. 1727.

The following humble Address of the Lord High Sheriff, Nobility, Justices of Peace, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, or Mid-Lothian, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Lord High Sheriff, Nobility, Justices of Peace, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, or Mid-Lothian.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to embrace the very first Opportunity upon this great and sudden Event of the Death of our late most Gracious Sovereign, whose happy Memory will be Sacred to our latest Posterity, to profess our Sense of the Goodness of Almighty God to these Nations, in raising up your Majesty to fill the Throne of your Royal Ancestors; to the inexpressible Joy of all your Majesty's loyal Subjects, and to assure your Majesty of our most hearty and sincere Affection to your Sacred Person and Royal Family, and of our firm and unalterable Resolution to support, maintain and defend, with our Lives and Fortunes, your Majesty's Government, as it is, for our Happiness; established by Law, in your Royal Protestant Family, the great Support of our Holy Religion, Liberties and Properties.

And as hitherto our Religion and Civil Rights have been most wisely and carefully preserved and maintained under the mild Government of your Royal Father, our late most Gracious Sovereign; both against the Attempts of Enemies Abroad, and of their Secret insatuated Abettors at Home, in Favour of an abjured Popish Pretender; so we pray that Almighty God may bless your Majesty in your Person and Government; with a long and prosperous Reign; inspire your Councils with Wisdom, and crown them with Success, that still greater Glory may attend your most Auspicious Reign.

Your Majesty's perfect Knowledge of our Constitution in Kirk and State, and exact Acquaintance with the particular Circumstances and Conditions of your Subjects, your well known Love to this your Country and People, and your encouraging in them your favourite Virtues of true Valour, Honour and Justice, gives your Majesty the Hearts of your Subjects, and gives your Subjects full and entire Confidence in your Majesty.

May Almighty God bless and long preserve your Royal Consort, our most Gracious Queen, who blesses the Nation with so numerous an Issue; May his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and all the Royal Family, be always under the Divine Protection and Favour; and may we and our Posterity always be so happy as to have one of your Majesty's Royal Offspring to reign over us.

The following humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, has been presented to His Majesty by Archibald M'Aulay and Patrick Lindsay, Magistrates of that City, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of the Bed-chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and they had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand:

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Edinburgh.

May it please your Majesty,

OUR Duty and Loyal Affection to your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government, and the great Happiness which your Majesty's being on the Throne of your Ancestors is to us, and all your People, could only only support us under the Loss of your Royal Father our most Gracious Sovereign.

The seasonable Accession of your Royal Father and Family to the Crown of Britain, gave us a sensible and joyful Proof of the Wisdom of those Acts, first made in the Reign of King William, of immortal Memory, whereby the Right and Possession of the Regal Power was so well secured to your Majesty's House, which could only enjoy it agreeable to the true Constitution, and to the Welfare and Prosperity of the British Dominions; and now your Majesty's happy Succession does with no less Gladness give us a visible Proof of our Felicity in your Royal Protestant Family, where such a Father is succeeded by such a Son, and whose numerous Royal Offspring promise the same Blessing to our latest Posterity.

Your Majesty's Gracious Declaration to your Privy-Council answers our largest Expectations of a good and glorious King, that were justly raised in us by the Royal Virtues, which with Delight we beheld in your Majesty as Prince of Wales: It is not only an Earnest of our future Happiness, but being made by a King of such Royal Honour and Virtue, puts us in Possession of our Felicity.

May the Great Things of your Reign, for the Support, Vindication and Enlargement of the true Protestant Interest at Home and Abroad, for the Maintainance and Encrease of the Power and Wealth of your Dominions, for the Dignity and Honour of your Royal Family, and for defeating all the Designs and Attempts of the abjured Popish Pretender, and every other Enemy; be such as may even obscure the Lustre of the most eminent of your Predecessors, and even render less observable the Glory of the Reigns since the late blessed Revolution; may your Royal Comfort, and his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales (who has honoured this City, by adding its Name to his Titles) and all your Royal Progeny, continue to be a Blessing to your Majesty and to your Kingdoms.

These are the warm and ardent Wishes of your Majesty's City of Edinburgh, whose Glory it is to have been firm to the Interest of your Family and Government in all Times; and we beg Leave to add our fervent Prayers, that your Majesty's Reign may be so peaceable and prosperous, as to afford no signal Occasion for our being remarkable for our Loyalty; and at the same Time, suffer us, Great Sir, with the deepest Submission and Truth, to assure your Majesty, that from Principle, and our Duty to God and to you, from an unviolable Regard to the Church of Scotland by Law established, and the Good of our Native Country, we are ready on every Occasion that may offer, to give the most real Proofs (from which no Danger shall, thro' Divine Grace deter us) That we are,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most loyal, most faithful, and dutiful Subjects and Servants,

The Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of your City of Edinburgh.
Signed in their Presence, and by their Appointment, by George Drummond, Provost.
