

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday January 6. to Tuesday January 9. 1727.

St. James's, January 9.

THE following Addressees having been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have by him been presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive them very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Governour, Council, and General Assembly of the Province of New-York.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, from this remote Part of your Dominions, beg Leave to approach the Throne, with Hearts deeply affected with the Loss of your late Royal Father, of ever glorious Memory, but filled with Joy and Comfort upon your most excellent Majesty's happy Accession to the Crown.

The Blessings we now enjoy under your Majesty, naturally lead us to look back to that signal Revolution; under our great Deliverer King William the Third, who began his Reign with abolishing Popery and Slavery among us, and closed it with preventing their being ever again imposed and entailed upon us, by establishing the Protestant Succession, for the perpetual Security of our Laws, Liberties and Religion.

We have observed with Delight and Admiration, that as soon as that happy Settlement took Place in his late Majesty, the Glory of the British Nation received a new Lustre from his shining Virtues; his just and mild Government endeared him to his Subjects, and his wise and steady Conduct effectually placed the Balance of Europe in his Hands; and what above all demands our unbounded Gratitude to his Memory, the Peace, Safety, Strength, and Happiness in which he left his Kingdoms, prepared the Way for those universal Acclamations with which your Majesty's Accession has been so joyfully celebrated.

Your Majesty's early Zeal and undaunted Courage in Defence of the Liberties of Europe and the Reformed Interest; your long Experience and entire Knowledge of the British Constitution, joined with all the inherent Virtues that can adorn a Prince, give us sure Presages of the Glories that will attend your auspicious Reign; and that we might have nothing left to wish but the Continuance of our Happiness, we see the Throne graced with a Royal Consort, who by disdaining a temporal Crown, when set in Competition with a heavenly one, has the justest Title to both; and with a numerous Royal Issue, formed by Nature, Education and Example, to continue the Felicity of the Times to Posterity for Ages to come.

Tho' we are not blessed with the nearer Influence of your Royal Presence, yet we yield to none of your Majesty's Subjects in Fidelity and Loyalty, and in ardent Wishes that your Majesty's Reign may exceed all your Predecessours in Length, Prosperity and Glory, and that the British Scepter may for ever be established in your Majesty's most illustrious House.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Justices of the Supream Court, the Attorney General, High Sheriff, the Grand Jurors for the Body of the City and County of New-York in America, and the Practitioners of the Law.

May it please your Majesty,

WE beg Leave to approach your Throne, both to express our Sorrows for the Loss of your Royal Father, that great and good King, whose Memory will be ever glorious; and to assure your Majesty, that nothing could have alleviated the Grievances naturally arising on so melancholly an Occasion, but your Accession to the British Crown, surrounded