St. James's, May 21.

THE following Address has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Orkney, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Richmond. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Council and Burgeses of Virginia.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Council and Burgeses of your ancient Colony of Virginia, humbly presume upon this first Occasion of our meeting in a General Assembly, to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of your late Royal Father, of blessed and glorious Memory, which afflicted us in no less a Degree, than the Loss of so good and so renowned a King must necessarily affect a dutiful and a grateful People.

But when at the same time we heard that your Majesty was placed in Peace upon your Throne; when we saw all Orders and Conditions of Men hastening to acknowledge your undoubted Right and Title, declaring the just Sense they have of those many Royal Virtues, the greatest Ornament of Princes, which are so conspicuous in your Majesty, and add the brightest Lustre to the Crown upon your Head, and all Factions and Parties as it were at length confessing themselves convinced, that the Interest and Security of the British Nation are inseparable from your illustrious House, it was impossible that our Sorrow should not be turned into Gladness. And the Measure of our Joy is filled, when we behold that most excellent Person our gracious Queen abounding in all the Virtues which are necessary to finish the most distinguished Character, and educating with a pious Care her Royal Issue in Principles perfectly adapted to the English Constitution.

It is the peculiar Happiness of this Country, that we are more than any other of the American Plantations united in the Religion of the Church of England; and our Civil Rights and Liberties are secured to us by the same excellent Laws which have ever been the Boast of the English Nation, and have made them greater than any other People:

Therefore it merits our most thankful Acknowledgements, that your Majesty has been pleased to declare your Resolution to make the Establishment in Church and State your first and always your chief Care.

And as we have always been happy under the Protection and Government of the Crown of England, so we already at this Distance feel the extensive Influence of your Majesty's just and wise Counsels in placing over us Mr. Gooch your Majesty's Lieutenant-Governour; who as he represents your sacred Person in your Authority, so he imitates your Majesty's Piety, Moderation and Justice; from whence we have no Room to doubt but his Administration will always be acceptable to your Majesty, and easy to all your People here.

May the God of Heaven long continue to Yourself, to your Royal Consort, and all your Subjects, that valuable Life on which the publick Weal so much depends; may there never want one of your Royal Line to sit on the Throne of Great Britain; and may your Majesty and your Royal Family be revered while on Earth, and afterwards recorded in History with greater Fame and Glory than your Royal Predecessor from whom this Colony has its Name.

St. James's, May 18.

This Morning their Majesties went to Hounslow-Heath; where His Majesty's own Royal Regiment of Welch Fuzileers, commanded by Lieutenant-General Joseph Sabine, and the Regiment of Foot commanded by the Honourable Colonel Edward Montagu, passed in Review before His Majesty, and made a very fine Appearance. In the Afternoon their Majesties returned hither.
