Westminster February 1.

THIS Day the Lords Commissioners appointed to represent His Majesty's Royal Person, ordered Sir Charles Dalton, Gentleman-Usher of the Black Rod, to go to the House of Commons, and require their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons attended accordingly, and the Lord High Chancellor made the following Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IN pursuance of the Authority given us by his Majesty's Commission under the Great Seal, amongst other Things, to declare the Causes of his holding this Parliament, We are, by his Majesty's Command, in the first Place to observe to you, That his Majesty acquainted you last Year, that he had, in Conjunction with the States General, given his Approbation of certain preliminary Articles, concerted and agreed upon between the Emperor and France for restoring the Peace of Europe; and that a further Convention concerning the Execution of them, had been communicated to him by both those Courts; and that Negotiations were carrying on by the several Powers engaged in the late War, in order to settle the general Pacification.

We are now commanded by his Majesty to inform you, that the respective Acts of Cession being exchanged, and Orders given for the Evacuation and Possession of the several Countries and Places by the Powers concerned, according to the Allotment and Disposition of the preliminary Articles, the great Work of re-establishing the general Tranquility is far advanced; however, it is his Majesty's Opinion, that common Prudence calls upon us to be very attentive to, and observe the final Conclusion of this new Settlement of such considerable Parts of Europe: It is to be hoped, that a general and lasting Tranquility will follow this Restitution of Peace, and that the Renewal of Friendship and Alliances for the Preservation of it among the several Princes and Powers of Europe, will remove all Dangers and Apprehensions of any new Troubles and Disorders; but his Majesty apprehends, that an indolent Security, and too great a Disregard to future Events, may occasion Mischiefs, more easy to be prevented, than to be remedied; and that it would be very unadvisable to leave ourselves in so defenceless a Condition, as to encourage any Enterprizes, which the Enemies to the publick Peace may have vainly suggested, and flattered themselves with the Hopes of.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

His Majesty has ordered the proper Officers to lay before you the Estimates for the Service of the current Year: As soon as the Circumstances of the Times would permit, his Majesty was pleased to make such a Reduction of some Part of the publick Expences, for the Ease of his People, as was consistent with the Peace and Safety of his Kingdoms, the Security of our Commerce, and the Honour and Interest of the Nation.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

His Majesty has been graciously pleased to direct us to acquaint you, that he hath seen with the greatest Satisfaction the unwearied Application of this Parliament, in framing good Laws for advancing the Prosperity and securing the Welfare of his loving Subjects: and that it hath been one of his Majesty's principal Cares to enforce them by a due Execution, with the strictest Regard to the Rights and Properties of his People, no Invasion whereof, can, with any Colour, be suggested by the most malicious Enemies of the present Establishment: Whilst this hath been our Condition, his Majesty cannot but observe, that it must be Matter of the utmost Surprize and Concern to every true Lover of his Country, to see the many Contrivances and Attempts carried on in various Shapes, and in different Parts of the Nation, tumultuously to resist and obstruct the Execution of the Laws, and to violate the Peace of the Kingdom. These Disturbers of the Publick Repose, conscious, that the Interests of his Majesty and his People are the same, and of the good Harmony which happily subsists between him and his Parliament, have levelled their Sedition against both; and in their late Outrages have either directly opposed; or, at least, endeavoured to render ineffectual some Acts of the whole Legislature. His Majesty in his great Wisdom thinks it affords a melancholly Prospect, to consider to what Height these audacious Practices may rise, if not timely suppressed; and that it deserves no small Attention, that they may go on to affect private Persons in the quiet Enjoyment of their Property, as well as the general Peace and good Order of the Whole. His Majesty apprehends it to be unnecessary to enlarge upon a Subject of this Nature, and therefore hath commanded us barely to mention it to you, who, by the constant Tenor of your Conduct, have shewn, that you consider the Support of his Authority and the Security of his Government, as inseparable from the Preservation of the publick Tranquility, and your own Safety.

Dublin Castle, January 21.

Yesterday being the Birth-day of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the great Guns were fired at the Barracks, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments in Garrison which were drawn out upon Oxmantown Green. At Noon the Lords Justices met at the Castle, and received the Compliments of the Nobility and other Persons of Distinction upon this Occasion; and afterwards made a Tour on the Strand, attended by the Battle-Axe-Guards, and a Squadron of Dragoons; and at Night there was a Play given by their Excellencies for the Entertainment of the Ladies.

Hague, Feb. 5, N. S. The Princess Royal with the Prince of Orange left this Place Yesterday at Six in the Morning, to go to Leeuwarden by the Way of Enkhuyzen. Mr. Robinson, his Britannick Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of Vienna, arrived here on Saturday last, and designs to embark for England on Friday next.
