

seated him in his Stall, who presently rising and making his Reverence to the Altar and the Sovereign's Stall, the Commissioners embraced and congratulated him, and leaving him in his Stall, descended into the Area, and stood under their Banners.

Then the Poor Knights, Prebends, and Officers of Arms returned towards the Chapter-house, and the Officers of the Order and the Commissioners entred into it, from whence the Duke of Marlborough was conducted in like Manner, and installed in the twelfth Stall on the Prince's Side by the two Senior Commissioners.

In like Manner the Duke of Kingston was installed in the thirteenth Stall on the Sovereign's Side, and the Duke of Portland in the last Stall by the said two Senior Commissioners.

These Installations being finished, and all the Companions in their Stalls, and the Officers of the Order being returned to their Seats, Divine Service was begun, and the Offertory Sentence being read, the Poor Knights made their Reverences, and ranged themselves on both Sides as near as they could to the Rails of the Altar; the Officers of Arms did the same; and Garter rising from his Seat, made his Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and summoned the Dukes of Portland and Kingston, who having made their Reverences in their Stalls, descended together into the Choir, where meeting and repeating the same, retired under their Banners. Then all the other Knights being summoned, descended and retired in like Manner. All the Knights thus standing under their Banners, the two Provincial Kings of Arms repaired to the two senior Commissioners, who made their Reverences first upon their moving from under their Banners, and again at the first Step of the Altar, and being come to the Rails of the Altar, made their Reverences to the Altar only, and kneeling down offered Gold and Silver, and rising up and making their Reverences went into their respective Stalls and sat down; the like was performed by the other Commissioners and new installed Knights, those who wanted their Companions offering single.

The Knights being all in their Stalls, continued therein till Divine Service was ended, and were then summoned to descend into the Area under their respective Banners, and a Procession was made out of the Choir down to the West Gate of the Chappel, and up through the South Isle, and out at the South Door to the Lodgings, preceded by the Drums and Trumpets.

The Knights had a Grand Entertainment in the Guard Chamber, and when the second Course was bringing in, the Stiles of the new installed Knights were proclaimed as usual.
