Petersbourg, January 25.

BY Advices from the Governors of Kislar and Astracan we learn, that Schach Nadyr has withdrawn his Forces from the Frontiers; from whence it is concluded that he has laid aside the Thoughts of attacking this Empire.

Translation of the Petition of the Princes of Daghestan, delivered to the Commandant Vezir Lieutenant General Taraconoff, in the Month of December last.

OUR most humble Petition consists in what follows. All the Daghestans having been informed of your Arrival in our Neighbourhood, with the Army of her Imperial Majesty under your Command, for the Defence of the Fortresses of Kislarskoy. It is a great while, since the Princes of Andrieve, of Koslecove, of Ibacan, and other neighbouring Commanders, who lie upon the Frontiers of her Imperial Majesty, have expected with Impatience a General like you. We have therefore sent our Deputies and Plenipotentiaries to prevail on your Excellency, in our Name and that of our Nations, to intreat her Imperial Majesty, to be pleased to take us under her powerful Protection, and to condescend to receive us into the Number of her most dutiful Subjects, we having taken a firm and unanimous Resolution, to remain for ever hereafter under the Shadow of her Imperial Mantle; and we will never desire any other Sovereign, at the Risk of all Accidents and Dangers. We and all our Nations desire hereby to live always in perfect Submission to her Imperial Majesty, and to take for that Purpose the Oath of Fidelity to her. Whereto we add our most humble Request, that we may be defended against our Enemies, and that our Petition may be granted.

The above Request was most graciously complied with, and the necessary Instruments were made out accordingly.

Vienna, Feb. 16. Some Letters from the Army mention, that the French were abandoning the Isler; General Brown had been detached to dislodge them from Deckendorff; the whole Army had Orders to hold themselves in Readiness to march: They were in good Condition, and had Plenty of every Thing; the Horse want but 3000 Men to be compleat, and Recruits are daily sending for the Foot; Bohemia furnishes 7200, Moravia 2500, and what remains of Silesia 500. Prince Lobcowitz, who is at Neubourg, finds a great deal of Subsistence in the Upper Palatinate: Egra continues closely blocked; the Garrison consists of 1200 Men; they made a Sally lately with 150 Horse, but were attacked by the Hussars, who killed 40, and took 33 Prisoners: On the other hand we have an Account, that Count Saxe had taken Prisoners 200 of our Hussars, with a Lieutenant Colonel. Count Altheim is just arrived from Italy, with the News that Count Traun having been attack'd by the Spaniards on the 8th Instant, had beat them back, with the Loss of 4000 of their Men, over the Panaro.

Copy of a Letter from Mantua, Feb. 13.

AN important Blow hath at length been struck in Italy. M. de Gages having, in pursuance of the Queen of Spain's Orders, determined upon passing the Panaro, his Excellency General Count Traun, by an Estafette he received only 24 Hours before hand, had happily Notice of that sudden March, and of the Surprise that was intended; whereupon his Excellency, in Concert with Count d'Apremont the King of Sardinia's General, caused nineteen Estafettes and Couriers on Horseback to be dispatched the same Night; by which Means almost all the Troops were collected together in Time. The Enemy having accordingly passed the Panaro, very hastily, we, on our Side likewise, ranged ourselves in Order of Battle, to wait the Attack. The Enemy had formed a Design of putting 2000 chosen Men of their Cavalry into the Centre of their Army, which, according to their Plan, was to have broken through and fallen upon our Rear; but General Traun observing this, ordered our Grenadiers, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Count Coloredo, to face their Horse. On the Right Wing, Traun, Wallis, Roth, Miglio, Berlichingen, Juilay, Hussars; on the Left Wing, Piccolomini, Diesback, Teutschmeister; and the rest as usual. At length, on Wednesday the 8th Instant, about Ten o'Clock at Night, the Action begun: The Enemy made the first Attack upon our Right Wing with extraordinary Fury, which, by Favour of the Moon, continued till Two in the Morning, with Heat and Obstinacy on both Sides, and without either Party being willing to yield to the other, till at last,

God's Assistance, and that of our valiant Generals, Officers and Soldiers, who fought like Lions, the Enemy having been put in Confusion, was forced to abandon the Field of Battle, and betake themselves to Flight. It may easily be conceived how we, with our Artillery and Horse, accompanied them in their Retreat, and in repassing the Bridge; however, to report Things justly, it must be confess'd that they behaved well, since Wallis and Roth suffered considerably, as well as Miglio and Berlichingen. One Thing, deserving of Regret, is, that our valiant Lieutenant General Field Marshal Count de Beyersberg received eleven Wounds, some of which are very dangerous ones. He arrived here to-day with General Ciceri, who is likewise wounded. The first Wounds which Beyersberg received, gave no Check to his Spirit; he still fell furiously upon the Enemy, but was after some Time thrown from his Horse by a Wound in his Head, where, after coming to himself, he still fought Sword in Hand, and killed more than one of the Spaniards, till at last, being overpowered, he was taken Prisoner, and very ill-treated. The Regiment of Miglio has lost its Kettle Drums, and Berlichingen three Standards. paniards The Savoyards being put to Flight, his Excellency Count Traun immediately caused Te Deum to be sung upon the Field of Battle, and dispatched the Colonel Count d'Alheim, Adjutant-General, with the first News thereof to Vienna; and this Day Count Colloredo with a compleat Relation, is also sent. The Advices we receive say, that the Enemy retires precipitately towards the Romagna. They expect a Succour of 7000 Men, and we the same. There are to the Number of 36 Officers and 5000 Soldiers of the Enemy killed. We have made upwards of one Battallion, about 700 Men, and 20 Field Officers Prisoners, and our Cavalry is still bringing in more. On our Side, and on the Part of the Piedmontese, there may have been about 1200 Men killed and wounded; the Colonels Tscherer, of the Regiment of Traun, Toxat, of that of Teutsmeyer, Major Marz, Count Senau de Prasenberg, of Roth's, are of the Number of the Dead. There is still a greater Number kill'd and wounded of the Regiments of Wallis, Roth and Traun. The General Field Marshal Commander in Chief had two Horses shot under him, the Legs of both having been carried off by Cannon Balls. In a Word, the Action was hot and bloody.

Hague, Feb. 26.

The following Relation of what passed in the late Action upon the Panaro, is banded about here, as the Account transmitted by the Spanish General to the Ministers of that Crown at Foreign Courts.

AFTER that the Army of his Catholick Majesty had passed the Panaro, and made itself Master of Campo Santo and Finale, we continued our March, having detached 400 Horse to Bondeno, from whence the Austrian Garrison withdrew towards Revere, the said Horse with some Michelets having taken there 2000 Sacks of Corn and Meal, with the whole Cloathing, Arms, Utensils and Equipage of two Regiments, and from thence retired, with the said Booty, to Campo Santo, in which Post the Spanish Army remained, Yesterday the 8th, under Arms the whole Day; and our Commander in Chief,

M. de Gages, having three Times offered Battle to the Enemy, it was at last accepted by them, they having by that Time got together all their Troops from their several Garrisons. The first Attack began at Eight of the Clock in the Evening, and lasted till Eleven, with the Fire of the Artillery from either Side; and the Duke d'Atisco, with the Carabineirs and Dragoons of the Queen, came up with the Left Wing of the Enemy and entirely broke their Cavalry. The Cannonading being then ended, the Engagement with Small Arms began, and lasted till Two in the Morning; our Troops continued Fighting with inexpressible Valour, and repulsed the Enemy, made themselves Masters of the Field of Battle, took four Pieces of Cannon, nail'd up two, took four Standards, five Colours, four Kettle Drums, and took Prisoners of War three Lieutenant Generals, Ciceri, Payersberg, and Apremont, who remain'd wounded, the two former being allowed to go to Modena to take Care of their Wounds. Many other Officers, and about 900 Soldiers, were made Prisoners. The Action was extremely bloody and obstinate, in as much as 5000 Men were left dead on the Field of Battle, the Enemy having withdrawn to Buon Porto, and other neighbouring Places. On our Part we reckon, between killed and wounded, about 2500. This Morning the 9th, at break of Day, M. de Gages repassed the Panaro with his whole Army, Artillery and Baggage, and having burnt the two Bridges over the said River, took his March towards St. Giovanni, where we are this Night. There is no doubt but the Enemy, in the Midst of their great Loss, according to the Circumstances already mentioned, will give out every where, that we lost the Field of Battle; than which Nothing can be more false, since we remained upon it the whole Night, and were able, without the least Disturbance, to carry off all our Artillery, and every Thing else belonging to us, not having had it in our Power to continue longer in that Post for Want of Subsistence. We did not lose any one General Officer; but the Brigadier Duke d'Arcos, Major General Count de Soufe, Lieutenant General Macdonald, and Major General Carvajal, were slightly wounded.
