St. James's, April 17.

THE following Address of the High Sheriffs, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy and Freeholders of the City and County of Londonderry, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriffs, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy and Freeholders of the City and County of Londonderry, at an Assizes held in the City of Londonderry, the Twenty sixth Day of March, One thousand seven hundred and forty four.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WITH Hearts full of Duty and Loyalty for the inestimable Blessings we enjoy under your most auspicious Reign, we humbly beg Leave to approach your sacred Majesty, to declare our utmost Abhorrence of the intended Invasion of your Majesty's Kingdoms, in Favour of a popish Pretender to your Crown.

We look upon every Design to disturb the Peace of your Majesty's Government, as an Attempt upon our Religion and Liberties; but we are filled with the highest Indignation to find that any Foreign Power should entertain Hopes of Success, from the Concurrence and Assistance of any of your Majesty's Subjects, in an Undertaking so desperate and presumptuous.

The same Principles, and Zeal for Liberty, which inspired our Ancestors, and the Protestants of this Country, to endure, with the utmost Firmness and Constancy, a long Siege in this City, attended with all the Misery and Calamities of War and Famine, determine us to follow their Example, and animate us, with the same Spirit and Resolution, to venture our Lives and Fortunes, on every Occasion, in Defence of your Majesty's undoubted Right to the Crown of these Realms, which they manifested, in the greatest Difficulties and Distress, against arbitrary Power, and the detestable Corruptions and Superstition, of Popery, at the late happy and glorious Revolution.

We ardently pray, that the same Divine Providence which so remarkably protected your Majesty (the great Patron of the Protestant Religion, and the Liberties of Europe) in the Day of Battle, may continue to guard your sacred Person and Royal Family against all Attempts of your open and secret Enemies, and turn, to their own Confusion, the pernicious Designs of those, whose Ambition the Sanctity of Treaties cannot contain, and of those whom the most solemn Oaths cannot bind to Loyalty, nor accumulated Benefits engage to Gratitude, to the best of Princes.

The following Address of the Nobility, Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Wicklow, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders, at a General Assizes held at Wicklow, the Third Day of April 1744.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Wicklow, beg Leave to approach your Majesty, at this critical Juncture, animated, as much by Gratitude as Duty, with Hearts truly loyal, to assure your Majesty, that we look on the intended insolent Invasion with the utmost Detestation and Abhorrence; and that we are most sensibly filled with unfeigned Joy, for the Disappointment appointment of the daring Designs of your perfidious Enemies.

All ambitious Designs of an arbitrary Power, all Attempts against your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, in Favour of a popish Pretender, will but the more awaken our Zeal, and confirm our Resolutions to do every Thing in our Power, to support and defend your Majesty, and maintain the Protestant Succession in your Royal House, the sure Bulwark of our Properties, and the only Foundation of our Religious and Civil Rights and Liberty.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Meath, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Meath, at an Assizes held at Trim, the second Day of April 1744.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave humbly to approach your Throne, to express, with the greatest Cheerfulness, our firm and zealous Attachment to a Prince, under whose Protection we enjoy those invaluable Blessings, our Religious and Civil Liberties, which were restored to us by the late happy Revolution.

At this Time, when the Insolence of France (the Common Disturber of Europe) threatens an Invasion of your Majesty's Dominions, in Support of a popish Pretender to your Majesty's Throne and Government, we think it our Duty to give the strongest Assurances of our unanimous and unshaken Fidelity to your Majesty's sacred Person, and the Protestant Succession in your Royal House; and publickly to declare our firm Resolutions to maintain, with our Lives and Fortunes, our present happy Establishment under your Majesty's just and mild Government.

We congratulate your Majesty on the Defeat of the Schemes of France; and make no Doubt, but that the Unanimity of your Majesty's faithful Subjects, supported by your wise and vigorous Measures, will effectually secure us from the like Attempts for the future.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Armagh, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Armagh, at a General Assizes held at Armagh for the said County, the 22d Day of March 1743.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave, amongst the most zealous of our Fellow Subjects, to congratulate your Majesty on the universal Unanimity which, on this Occasion, appears among your Protestant Subjects, to frustrate a most wicked and treacherous Design to introduce into your British Dominions the Son of a popish Pretender to your Realms, carried on and supported by a neighbouring Power, who has always looked with an envious Eye on the Happiness your Protestant Subjects enjoy, under your most mild and auspicious Government.

On this Occasion we beg Leave to approach your Throne, with Hearts full of Zeal and Loyalty, to give your Majesty the warmest and most unfeigned Assurance of our steady and inviolable Attachment to your sacred Person, and to shew a cheerful Readiness to support the Protestant Succession to the Crown of these Realms in your Royal Family, at the Hazard of every Thing that is dear to us, against all Attempts of a popish Pretender, his Issue, and Abettors; and to declare our utmost Detestation and Abhorrence of him and all his Friends, foreign or domestick, whether Papists or Jacobites, who, under the Pretence of being Protestants, are of Consequence the most dangerous Enemies to our present happy Constitution and Government, which, at this perilous Time, has been guarded and secured to us by the Vigilance and Care of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, to whom, under your most sacred Majesty, we owe that blessed Tranquility which we now enjoy.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Lowth, in the Kingdom of Ireland, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Free-

Freeholders of the County of Lowth, in the Kingdom of Ireland, at a General Assizes held for the said County, the 6th of March 1743.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to take this Opportunity of expressing to your Majesty our most grateful Acknowledgments for the many invaluable Blessings we have enjoyed during the whole Course of your Majesty's auspicious Reign, and our Abhorrence and Detestation of every Attempt in Favour of a popish Pretender, either by Powers from Abroad, or disaffected Persons at Home.

Your Majesty's many Royal Virtues justly secure your Empire in the Hearts of all your Subjects that are not equally blind to their own Interests and the Interests of their Country; and as our Happiness depends upon the Safety of your Majesty's most sacred Person, and that of our Posterity upon the Increase and Preservation of your Royal Issue, our Duty and Gratitude must necessarily engage us to exert our utmost Endeavours, upon every Occasion, to discountenance and oppose whatever may have the least Tendency to disturb your Majesty's Government: And this, in our several Stations, we most humbly assure your Majesty, we will faithfully perform, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes; and hope, that those Designs, which, by the Wisdom of your Councils, have been so seasonably detected, will, by the Blessing of the Almighty on your Majesty's Arms, be speedily dissipated and suppressed.

The following Address of the Sheriff, Grand Jury, Clergy and Laity of the County of Wexford, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Sheriff, Grand Jury, Clergy and Laity of the County of Wexford.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Sheriff, Grand Jury, Clergy and Laity of your County of Wexford, in your Kingdom of Ireland, resenting and detesting the Designs of your Majesty's Enemies in Favour of a popish Pretender, in Disturbance of the Peace of these your Majesty's Kingdoms, and in Subversion of our Religious and Civil Rights and Liberties, think it our Duty to take this Opportunity of shewing our Indignation at an Attempt so presumptuous and impotent.

We must indeed forget the Happiness we enjoy in our Religion and Liberties under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Reign: We must have lost all Memory of the Miseries we lately suffered under the arbitrary and tyrannous Will of a popish Prince: We must be altogether unacquainted with the Principles of that Church, whose Mercy is Cruelty, were we silent upon this Occasion.

We therefore intreat your Majesty to accept of our highest Gratitude for the many inestimable Blessings we enjoy, and this Declaration of our unshaken Resolution to exert, on this so critical Occasion, our utmost Endeavours in Defence of your Majesty's Person, and undoubted Right and Title to the Crown of these Kingdoms, and to secure the Protestant Succession in your Royal Family: And we implore the great Giver of all Victories, to bless your Majesty's Arms with Success, and to inspire your Subjects with such Unanimity to support your Majesty, as may defeat all the Attempts of your Enemies.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Downe, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Downe, at an Assizes held at Downpatrick, in and for the said County, on the Tenth Day of March 1743.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, presume to express to your Majesty, at this Time, our just Abhorrence of the insolent and rash Attempts of a faithless Power, to disturb the Peace of your Majesty's Government, and to alarm your affectionate Subjects with Apprehensions of the greatest Calamity that can befall them; which is, the having a popish Pretender introduced into these Kingdoms, by the Arms of France.

The Deliverance this Nation in particular had from Popery and Slavery, by the glorious King William of immortal Memory, has made too lasting Impressions upon us your Majesty's Subjects, to be easily defaced; and as the Blessings we have enjoyed, since the Accession of your Majesty's illustrious House to the Crown of these Realms, were purchased by our Fathers with their Blood, we their Descendants most humbly assure your Majesty, that we will, to the utmost of our Power, support and defend the same with our Lives and Fortunes, being truly sensible, that, under God, our own Happiness, and the Welfare of our Posterity, will depend upon the Safety

Safety of your Majesty's most sacred Person, and the Establishment of your Throne in your Majesty's Royal Family.

We want Terms to express our Detestation of those amongst us, who have any Way assisted or countenanced these Designs from Abroad, and we will be most vigilant to detect and bring to Justice the Enemies to your Majesty's Government, as they are the greatest Enemies to the Happiness of these Kingdoms: But since their wicked Schemes, have been so early detected by the Vigilance of your Majesty's Councils, and your People rendered safe, by your Majesty's Wisdom, in Great Britain, and his Grace the Duke of Devonshire's Presence and Precaution in this Kingdom, we hope and persuade ourselves, that the Unanimity and Zeal your Majesty's faithful Subjects have expressed on this Occasion, will not only dismay and defeat your Majesty's Enemies at this Time, but prevent like Attempts for the Future; and shew to the World, that no Attachments can be so strong, as those of a Free People, to the Prince they esteem the Father of his Country.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and other the Protestant Inhabitants of the County of Leitrim, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and other the Protestant Inhabitants of the County of Leitrim, in your Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave, in the humblest Manner, to express our Resentment at the Indignity offered to your Majesty, by the Invasion intended from France in Favour of a spurious popish Pretender to your Majesty's Crown.

As we are fully sensible of the many Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Reign, and of the necessary Dependence of all our Religious and Civil Rights upon the Succession in your illustrious House, we shall not fail, with the utmost Cheerfulness and Resolution, to oppose ourselves, upon every Occasion, and now more especially, to all your Majesty's Enemies.

And though we have the Misfortune, in this Country, to abound with Papists, who, in the most settled Times, do but awkwardly conceal their Attachment to France and the Pretender,

We your Majesty's faithful Protestant Subjects, who are ready and forward, with their Lives and Fortunes, to support your Majesty and your Government, do, notwithstanding the Advantage of Numbers, and the boasting Power of France, rest assured, that we shall be able, by the Blessing of God upon so just a Cause, and the prudent Conduct of your Majesty's Servant our most Excellent Lord Lieutenant his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, not only to preserve the Tranquility of this your Majesty's Kingdom, against all intestine Enemies, but likewise repel, with Shame and Confusion, any insolent Attempts that may be made from Abroad.

The following Address of the Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Westmorland, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. the Lord Viscount Lonsdale, Lord Lieutenant of the said County, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Clergy, assembled in General Quarter Sessions held at Appleby, and afterwards, by Adjournment, at Kendall, for your County of Westmorland, do humbly beg Leave, at this important Juncture, to assure your Majesty of our inviolable Fidelity to your sacred Person and Government, and our invariable Attachment to the Succession in your illustrious House.

It is with just Reason, that we utterly detest and abhor the insolent Invasion attempted by a French Power, and the perfidious Design to place a popish Pretender on the British Throne, since the Success of such an horrid Enterprize would have turned our happy Constitution into Confusion, our pure Religion into Superstition, and our amiable Liberty into Slavery.

But truly sensible of the inestimable Blessings and Benefits we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Reign; truly sensible, that you make the Rights of your Subjects your tender Care, their Religion your solicitous Concern, and their Prosperity your solid Interest, we are ready and resolved to devote our Lives and Fortunes to the Defence of your Royal Person and Family, against all Foreign Foes and Domestick Factions.

We are happy under your most Excellent Majesty: We know our Happiness, and influenced by the Importunities of Gratitude as well as the Duties of Allegiance, we can never think ourselves too zealous to establish the Glory of a Sovereign, who takes such vigorous and vigilant Pains to establish our Welfare.

That Divine Providence, Sacred Sir, may confirm to your Majesty that affectionate Loyalty, which has been declared by the Voice of Great

Great Britain, and long preserve you to reign in the Hearts of a free and happy People; that the Wisdom of your Councils may be attended with Success, and the Bravery of your Fleets and Armies with Victory, is and shall be the constant and fervent Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's

Most Dutiful,

Most Devoted and

Most Obedient

Subjects and Servants.

Signed at Appleby the Second, and at Kendall the Sixth of April 1744.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and other Gentlemen of the County of Carmarthen, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir Nicholas Williams, Bart. their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and other Gentlemen, met at the Great Sessions holden for the County of Carmarthen, on the fourth Day of April 1744.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to express our just Abhorrence of the intended Invasion of this Kingdom in Favour of a popish Pretender.

We are too sensible of the many distinguishing and great Blessings of Religious and Civil Liberty, to admit the most distant Thought of Romish Slavery and Superstition, the base Designs of restless Faction, and sure Effects of despotick Power.

The various Happiness we feel, under your Majesty's most mild and auspicious Government, cannot but inspire us with the warmest Zeal and most active Endeavours to protect your Royal Person and Dignity; and to suppress, with our utmost Vigour, the daring Insults and bold Attempts of all who would offer Violence to your Crown, or Disturbance to your Reign.

As the French King, deaf to all the Suggestions of Equity, and regardless of the most solemn Treaties, has openly declared War against your Majesty, permit us, Dread Sovereign, at this critical Juncture, to assure you, with Hearts full of Gratitude, Loyalty and Affection, that nothing is or can be esteemed by us too dear or valuable to be sacrificed in Defence of your Rights, and in the Preservation of the Protestant Succession in your Royal Family.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Custos Rotulorum, and other Justices of the Peace, the Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen of the County of Pembroke, has been presented to his Majesty by John Campbell, Esq; their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Custos Rotulorum, and other Justices of the Peace, the Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen, met at the Assizes holden for the County of Pembroke, on Tuesday the Twenty seventh Day of March, One thousand seven hundred and forty four.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, do humbly beg your Majesty to accept of the most unfeigned Assurances of our inviolable Fidelity and Attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and of our hearty Detestation and just Resentment of the late insolent Attempt of the Court of France to invade your Majesty's Dominions in Favour of an abjured Pretender, declaring, at the same Time, our firm and sincere Resolution to oppose him, and all your Majesty's Enemies, to the last Extremity; not in the least intimidated, by the Menaces of War, from a Nation so lately defeated by your Majesty's victorious Arms.

When we reflect on the uncommon Happiness of your Majesty's Subjects, above all others in Europe, in the free Enjoyment of the purest Religion, the best Laws, and the greatest Plenty, we think ourselves, and every Briton, obliged, by the strongest Ties of Conscience, Gratitude and Interest, to hazard both our Lives and Fortunes in Defence of that illustrious Family, to which, under God, we owe such inestimable Blessings.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen of the County of Glamorgan, has been presented to his Majesty by the Hon. Bussy Mansel, Esq; their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen, met at the Grand Sessions held at Cardiff, in and for the County of Glamorgan, on Saturday the twenty fourth Day of March 1743.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, amidst the Addressees of your most faithful People, take this our first Opportunity of declaring our utmost Abhorrence to any Invasion of your Majesty's British Dominions, in Favour of a popish Pretender, and our Repentment of the Perfidy of any Power, that shall support any such insolent Attempt, on any Pretence whatsoever; well knowing our Security under your Majesty's most auspicious Government, and the Destruction that must unavoidably fall upon a free People, under the Influence and Prevalence of Popery: And to express our Indignation, which ought to fire the Breast of every true ancient Briton, against any desperate Design to subvert our Laws, by endeavouring to impose upon us Slavery and arbitrary Power: And that your Majesty's Arms, in Opposition to such Measures, may be attended with Success; and that the Crown of these Realms may be most happily enjoyed by your Majesty's most illustrious Family, to the latest Posterity, in the Support of the Protestant Religion, and in Preservation of the best form'd Constitution in the World, are the most sincere Wishes of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Commonalty of the ancient Borough of Thetford, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. the Lord Henry Beauclerk and Charles Fitzroy, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of His Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Commonalty of the ancient Borough of Thetford, in the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, ever anxious for Freedom, and zealous for the uninterrupted Happiness, which, as Subjects of this Realm, we have so long experienced under your Majesty's most equitable and auspicious Government, cannot reflect upon the late unparallel'd Insolence of the Crown of France, but with the utmost Horror and Detestation: Nor are we less astonish'd that any, who boast the glorious Name of Britons, should be so abandoned and ungrateful, as to become the vile Abettors of so abominable, flagitious, and desperate an Undertaking, and that in open Defiance of all publick Faith, as well as the most solemn Treaties; an Undertaking, which, in lieu of our beloved Liberty, Truth and Property, (acquired at the Expence of so much Protestant Blood) had nothing to barter with its misguided

Votaries, but Priestcraft and arbitrary Power, with all their frightful Train of Want, Ignorance and Slavery. Duly affected therefore with the Weight of these Considerations, we do most humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will be always watchful of your Majesty's Interest and Safety, which are so essential to and inseparable from the Well-being of these Nations: That we will not only, by a constant and uniform Obedience to your Majesty's Government, set forth a good Example to others; but that if, at any Time hereafter, this ambitious Disturber, this implacable Enemy to the Peace and Quiet of all Europe, should again have the Hardiness to meditate any farther Attempt on your Majesty's Dominions, in Favour of a popish and abjured Pretender, we will then, at all Times, be ready, with our Lives and Fortunes, to oppose so wicked a Design; and we doubt not, by the Assistance of Divine Providence, together with your Majesty's great Wisdom and undaunted Courage, supported by the Hearts and Hands of your faithful Subjects, but these inestimable Blessings, which we are now so happy as to enjoy, will be delivered down to our latest Posterity, in the regular Succession of your Majesty's Royal Progeny to the Crown of these Kingdoms. In Testimony whereof, we have hereunto put our Common Seal this 26th Day of March 1744.

The following Address of the Constable, Baillies, and Town Council of the Borough of Cullen, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir James Grant, Bart. their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Constable, Baillies, and Town Council of the Borough of Cullen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Constable, Baillies, and Town Council of your ancient Borough of Cullen, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that although the Smallness and Remoteness of our Corporation, prevents our presuming, so frequently as others, to approach your Throne by Addresses; yet we have constantly been most zealously and affectionately attached to the Interests of your Royal Family; and, in the present Conjunction, we cannot forbear to declare to your Majesty, that we are, with the greatest Gratitude, sensible that we, and all the Subjects of Great Britain, do, under your most mild and auspicious Government, enjoy a Happiness really superior to what any Nation in Europe can boast of.

We know, Great Sir, that the Security of our Religion, Laws and Liberties, does, under God, entirely depend on the Stability of your Government; and therefore we are determined, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, to the utmost of our small Power, to support your Majesty's just and lawful Right to the Crown, against all Attempts of the Pretender, and his Descendants and Adherents: And we cannot, without the greatest Detestation, think of the audacious Enterprize, meditated by France, of invading and conquering this Kingdom; which, however, we hope, shall, by the Blessing of Divine Providence, only produce the Effect of uniting the Hearts of all your Majesty's faithful Subjects, in active Zeal for your Service; and of awakening all the Princes and States, interested in the Preservation of the Balance of Power in Europe, into such a Sense of their Danger, as will enable your Majesty, at the Head of so great a Confederacy, effectually to finish the Work you have so gloriously begun, of humbling France; whereby its Neighbours may be delivered from those Terrors, to which they must, by its Ambition and Perfidiousness, be always exposed, while it has so much Power to hurt.

Cullen, Signed in Presence, and
March 27, by Appointment,
 1744. Findlater and Seafield, Constable.

The following Address of the Inhabitants, Burgeses of the Borough of Crichlade, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir Thomas Read, Bart. and William Ellis, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Inhabitants, Burgeses of the Borough of Crichlade, in the County of Wilts.

PERMIT us, most gracious Sovereign, at this Time of publick Danger, to lay ourselves at your Majesty's Feet, and, in Conjunction with the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, declare our Abhorrence and Detestation of the intended Invasion, in Favour of a popish abjured Pretender; and at the same Time, with Hearts full of Duty and Gratitude, to give your Majesty the warmest Assurances of our inviolable Attachment to your Person and Government.

The free Exercise of our Religion, the full Enjoyment of our Laws, the Security of our Persons and Properties, and, above all, our Liberty, are Blessings invaluable; Blessings that we (more than any other Nation) enjoy, in the most sensible Manner, under your mild auspicious Government. The Consideration of which animates us with Resolution, to hazard our All in Defence of your Royal Person and Government, and the Protestant Succession in your illustrious House. And we can never doubt, but that the same worthy Virtue of the English Nation, which shone out in its full Lustre, in that glorious Work of the ever memorable Revolution, (the Foundation of all our present Happiness) in Opposition to Popery and arbitrary Power, does still, and will for ever exist, to support and defend your Majesty's Person, and your indubitable Right and Title to the Crown of these Realms; as on what all our future Happiness, under God, depends.

That the Invaders should have Encouragement from Persons of our own Kingdom, raises our Astonishment, and at the same Times firmly fixes our Resolutions, in our elective Proceedings, at all Times to shew a great and particular Regard to such Gentlemen only, whose known Principles (like those of our present worthy Representatives) are such as demonstrate them Friends to Liberty, and the present happy Establishment.

May that Providence, which lately so eminently preserved your sacred Person when engaged in the Common Cause of Liberty, still continue to render you victorious over the same, and all other your Enemies. May the dire Effects of a War, now injuriously begun by the Common Disturbers of Europe, with no other View but to prosecute their ambitious, insolent and wicked Designs, fall on their own Heads; and on yours, may your Crown flourish, till you shall receive your just Recompence of Reward, a Crown of Glory above; and your earthly Diadems be peaceably transmitted, in a Succession of your Royal Progeny, till Time shall cease, and be no more, are the sincere Wishes, and constant Prayers, of,

May it please your Majesty,
 Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Obedient Subjects and Servants.

The following Address of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Cambridge, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, Lord Lieutenant of the said County, and one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting, accompanied by the Right Hon. the Lord Montford, Samuel Shephard, and Soame Jenyns, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, Edward Nightingale, and Thomas Carter, Esqrs. and other Gentlemen of the said County: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Justices of the Peace, assembled at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace holden for the County of Cambridge, upon the sixth Day of April, in the Year of our Lord 1744.

Most Gracious Sovereign,
WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Justices of the Peace, assembled sembled at the said General Quarter Sessions of the Peace for the County of Cambridge, beg Leave to declare our utmost Abhorrence of the Designs of France, in endeavouring to impose upon us an abjur'd Pretender to your Majesty's Throne, in Violation of your Majesty's undoubted Rights, and of the Laws and Liberties of this Kingdom, which our Ancestors and Selves have, at the Expence of so much Blood and Treasure, happily supported, and thereby prevented our becoming a Province to that perfidious Nation, which has long envied our Freedom and Independency, the greatest Obstacles to their enslaving the Liberties of Europe; a Design, which they have long, by Art and Treachery, been carrying on, and are now, by open Force, attempting.

We are truly sensible of the many Blessings we enjoy, from the Preservation of our Civil and Religious Rights, under your Majesty's most auspicious Influence; and, with Hearts full of Gratitude, assure your Majesty, that we are determined, to the utmost of our Power, to defend the Protestant Succession happily settled in your Majesty's illustrious House, and to support the Laws and Liberties of this Kingdom, and the Independency thereof, against every Power that now does, or hereafter shall, attempt the Subversion of them.

That your Majesty's Reign may be long and prosperous, over a free and grateful People, is the ardent Wish of your Majesty's most humble, dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Address of the Sheriff, Grand Jury, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Anglesey, has been presented to his Majesty by John Owen, Esq; their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Sheriff, Grand Jury, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Anglesey, desire Leave, at this Time of common Danger, to express our sharpest Resentment, and most hearty Abhorrence, of the intended Invasion of this your Kingdom from France, in Favour of a popish Pretender and his Sons; a Pretender, who, for Half a Century, is obliged to the Pope and Papists for the necessary Support and Subsistence of himself and Family, whose Sons were educated under the Eye and immediate Direction of the Pope himself, in all the Bigotry and Superstition of Popery, in all Prejudice and Violence against all Protestants in general; and as he and his Sons and Adherents are, by our Laws, Traitors, they must be most fiercely exasperated against us of the Church of England in particular.

But we your Majesty's most faithful and loyal Subjects, are truly sensible of the Happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's Reign; with the most thankful and grateful Hearts, beg Leave to assure and declare, that we will, to the utmost of our Power, maintain and defend your Majesty and Government, at this and all other Times of common Danger, against all wicked and traitorous Attempts whatsoever, which shall be made against your Crown and Dignity; and with honest Zeal and Fervency we pray and wish, that we and our Posterity may remain a Free Protestant People, governed long by your Majesty, and by a Prince of your illustrious House, to the most distant and latest Times.

The following Address of the Custos Rotulorum, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Cardigan, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Hon. the Lord Lisbon, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Lincoln, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Custos Rotulorum, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Cardigan, assembled at the Great Sessions holden at Cardigan in and for the said County.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Custos Rotulorum, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Cardigan, assembled at the Great Sessions holden for the said County, beg Leave to lay hold of this our first Opportunity of approaching your sacred Majesty, with the Tribute of our grateful Acknowledgments for your unwearied and effectual Care in preserving the Balance of Power in Europe, on which depend the Security of the Religion, Liberties and essential Interests of your People.

The fresh Proofs, which your Majesty has given of your firm and steady Resolution to pursue this great and glorious End, by exposing even your own sacred Person to the Danger and Fatigues of War the last Campaign, the Success whereof must be attributed (under God) to your Majesty's Conduct and Courage, and the native Bravery of your Royal Son, so eminently displayed, must excite your powerful Allies to a glorious Imitation, fill the Hearts of your faithful Subjects with grateful Sentiments, and your Enemies with Terror.

And whilst your Majesty is thus engaged on the one Hand, in supporting the House of Austria and the Liberties of Europe in general, it is with the greatest Pleasure and Satisfaction we see you on the other Hand raise an additional Security to the Protestant Interest, by the Marriage riage of the Princess Louisa with the Prince Royal of Denmark.

Amidst such Instances of your Paternal Care of our Religion and Liberties, can any true Briton, without the utmost Indignation, see the grand Disturber of the Peace of Europe project Measures to invade your Majesty's Dominions, to involve your Subjects in Blood, to obtrude a popish Pretender, and introduce an arbitrary Power upon a People, who, under the mild and prudent Government of your Majesty, are in the full Enjoyment of the invaluable Blessings of their Religion, Liberty and Property.

Permit us, Sir, to assure you, that it is with the utmost Detestation and Abhorrence we see our most implacable Enemy attempt the Execution of such daring Projects; and, as we are well assured, that the true Interest and Prosperity of your Kingdoms is centered in your sacred Person and Government, so we shall always be ready, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, to defend the one and support the other.—We sincerely wish, that your Majesty's Reign may be long, easy and prosperous; and we shall always contribute, with the utmost of our Power, thereto.

Naples, March 24, N. S. On the 10th arrived here the Militia Regiment of the Province of Molise. The same Morning, and on the 12th, the third Battalion of the Swiss Regiments Vritz and Ischindi, began their March for St. Germano, as did on the 14th a Battalion of Royal Macedonia for the Confines of the Kingdom of Naples towards the Ecclesiastical State. The same Day, the 12th, the King passed in Review the Horse Regiment Tarragona, and appointed Prince della Riccia Commander of all the Grenadiers of Terra di Lauro, with an Addition of 40 Crowns per Month to his usual Appointments. His Majesty, on Notice of the Retreat of M. de Gages's Army towards Abruzzo, immediately ordered his Troops, consisting of 25 Battalions and 15 Squadrons, then in March for divers Parts of the Confines, to proceed to Chieti, as the Place of Rendezvous. In Consequence of the Determination taken by the King, and the Orders which he for that Purpose caused to be published to prepare for putting himself at the Head of his Army, he has fixed his Departure from this City for Tomorrow, in order to proceed by Capua, Calvi, and Gaeta, to Chieti, escorted by a Regiment of Horse and the Life-Guards. The Queen and the Princess her Daughter are to go to Gaeta. During the King's Absence he has appointed a Regency, composed of three Secretaries of State as Councillors, and Don Michael Reggio, General of the Gallies, as President or Viceroy. Upon this Occasion the King has granted a Pardon to all the Engineers who were found guilty of Breach of Trust, on Condition that they shall serve in the Troops as common Soldiers, and with Grenadiers Pay. On the 20th Instant, 18 Persons of the common Rank were arrested for Disaffection by the Committee of the Inconfidants. The Accounts from Calabria are so favourable, that we hope to hear very soon the Country is quite free of the Sickness. The Letters which the Court received thence by an Express on the 22d Instant, bring Advice, that no Persons have died at Reggio and other Places that had been infected, for several Days together.

Bern, April 8, N. S. Letters from Chambery of the 3d Instant mention; that a Body of 500 Vaudois, and three Companies of Grenadiers, were advanced as far as Modane in the Morienna, to support the Inhabitants, who, since Don Philip's Departure, refuse to pay the Contributions imposed upon them, whereof M. de Sade, the Spanish Governor in Savoy, having got Intelligence, sent a stronger Detachment against them, and obliged the Vaudois to retire: Above 400 Men are constantly employed upon the Fortifications of Montmelian, where the Spaniards have established considerable Magazines of Ammunition and Provisions. The same Letters confirm, that a Body of French Troops is arrived in the Neighbourhood of Fort Barreaux, where they are to be under the Command of the aforesaid Spanish Governor:

Copenhagen, April 18, N. S. The Regiment of Norway-Men; brought over last Year on account of the Prospect of a War with Sweden; was re-embarked Yesterday in this Port, and is to sail homewards with the first fair Wind.

Berlin, April 18: Count Bestuchef, Minister from the Empress of Russia, arrived here some Days ago, but he has been very much out of Order, and has not yet appeared abroad:

Hague, April 24, N. S. On Wednesday last; the 22d Instant, their High Mightinesses the States General came to a Resolution, Nemine Contradicente, to grant, and send, as soon as possible, to the Assistance of his Britannick Majesty, the Succour of Twenty Men of War, demanded by Mr. Trevor, in his Memorial of the 14th Instant. The following is a Translation of the Resolution taken by their High Mightinesses thereupon.

HAVING been deliberated by Resumption upon the Memorial of Mr. Trevor, Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of his Majesty the King of Great Britain, presented to their High Mightinesses the 14th. of this Month, by which, in Consideration of the War declared by the French King against his said Majesty, he demands, that, pursuant to their Engagements, they would please to furnish his Majesty provisionally with the other Part of the Succour stipulated by the Treaty of 1678, consisting of Twenty Men of War, the Whole of which is more fully set forth in the Acts of the 14th of this Month. It hath been thought fit, and resolved, to give the following Answer to Mr. Trevor upon his said Memorial, That their High Mightinesses, as to what regards the fulfilling of their Engagements, do abide by the Answer which they gave him the 2d of the last Month: That in Consequence thereof, they will send Twenty Men of War to the Assistance of his Majesty: That they gave Orders some Time since to prepare them, and that they will give fresh Orders for their being prepared as soon as possible. And an Extract of the present Resolution of their High Mightinesses shall be delivered by their Agent De Byemont to the said Mr. Trevor.

St. James's, April 16.

This Day the Heer van Boetslaer, Extraordinary Minister from the States General, had his first private Audience of his Majesty, to deliver his Letters of Credence; to which he was introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord Carteret, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and conducted by Sir Clement Cottrell Dormer, Knt. Master of the Ceremonies.

Admiralty Office, Feb. 25, 1743.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are pleased to direct, that such disabled or worn out Seamen who have been minuted to be received into the Royal Hospital at Greenwich, do make their Appearance at this Office on Tuesday the 1st of May next, at Ten o'Clock in the Morning.
