After which His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE Zeal, Unanimity and Dispatch of your Proceedings, having brought the publick Business to a happy Conclusion, and the Season of the Year being so far advanced, it is necessary that I should put an End to this Session of Parliament.

It is a particular Satisfaction to me, to be able to acquaint you, that since the Beginning of it, the Posture of Affairs Abroad has received a very considerable Alteration, to the Advantage of the Common Cause.

The late Successes of the Austrian Arms in Germany, and the Conclusion of an Accommodation between the Queen of Hungary and the Elector of Bavaria, have laid the best Foundations for a further happy Progress.

By these Events, the Influence of France in the Empire is much weakened and diminish'd; and a Way is opened to restore that Strength and Power to our ancient and natural Allies, which will tend greatly to the Re-establishment and Security of the Balance of Europe.

The Resolutions, which have been taken by my good Friends the States-General of the United Provinces, for exerting their Efforts in Concert with me; and the Engagements they have entered into, for settling the Proportions of Forces and Expence, cannot fail to give Spirit and Vigour to the Operations of our Armies.

From these good Beginnings, I hope, by the Blessing of God on the Justice of our Cause, this Campaign will be attended with such Success, as to defeat the ambitious and destructive Projects of the House of Bourbon, formed against the Liberties of Europe, and particularly levelled against my Kingdoms. In this View I am determined, in Conjunction with my Allies, vigorously to prosecute this just and necessary War, in order to the procuring a safe and honourable Peace.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I return you my hearty Thanks for the ample Supplies, which you have so cheerfully granted for the Service of the current Year; and which, you may be assured, shall be strictly applied to those great and national Ends for which they were given.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I entirely rely on your Duty, Fidelity, and good Affections, of which I have had so many convincing Proofs. Let it be your Care to cultivate and promote the same good Dispositions in your several Countries, to support my Government, and to preserve the Peace and good Order of the Kingdom, as it shall ever be mine to advance and secure your lasting Prosperity and Happiness.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's Command, said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Thursday the Twentieth Day of June next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the Twentieth Day of June next.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 1st Day of May 1745.

Stockholm, April 16, O. S. Last Sunday the Marquis de Laumary the French Ambassador, and the Marquis del Puerto the Spanish Minister Plenipotentiary, began jointly to make their Feastings and Rejoicings in the Ambassador's House, on Occasion of the Marriage of the Dauphin, with the Infanta of Spain, which lasted three Days. On the 1st, his Swedish Majesty and the Prince Successor, with a select Company, dined with their Excellencies. Yesterday Evening there was a Ball, Firework, and Supper, at which the Prince and Princess Royal assisted, as also most of the Senators, their Ladies, and some Foreign Ministers; and To-day several of the principal Burghers, in the Interest of France, were entertained by the above-mentioned Ministers at Dinner.

Venice, April 23. Prince Lobcowitz passed the Penaro on the 10th and 11th of this Month, having Vignolo and Spilemberto to his Right, and Buomporto to his Left. The Detachments in those Places had Orders to retreat, should the Enemy, with a superior Force, approach them. And accordingly on the 13th the Enemy passed the River without Opposition. The Detachments from Spilemberto and Buomporto joined the Prince's Army the same Night; but that of Vignolo, consisting of a Captain and 200 Waradiners, remained in an old ruinous Castle of the same Name. The Prince put his Army in Order of Battle at Colegara, and remained so till towards Evening, when the Enemy not appearing, he took Possession of the Camp of Pont Alto, having his Left to the Citadel of Modena, his Right to the Secchia and the great Road which leads to Mazaglia, defended by several Pieces of Cannon. In this Situation he received considerable Reinforcements from Mantua, and seems to think himself a Match for the Enemy. The Duke of Modena summoned the Waradiners who remain'd at Vignolo to yield themselves Prisoners of War, and received for Answer from them, That they were resolved to defend themselves to the last Extremity: Upon which Orders were given to attack them in Form. The Enemy was repulsed with some Loss, and were preparing to renew the Attack with a greater Force and with eight Pieces of Cannon, when an Alarm was spread, that the Prince was coming down with his whole Force upon them, upon which they thought proper to recall the Troops intended against Vignolo, and gave Time to the Detachment to march out of it, Drums beating and Colours flying, and they joined the Army without the Loss of a Man. It is thought that the Enemy cannot long remain in their present Position for Want of Subsistence; and that they must determine to attack the Prince, or return towards Bologna.

Vienna, April 30, N. S. General Trips with his Avant Guard overtook M. Segur at Gunzburg, who abandoned six Pieces of French Cannon, four Mortars, with the rest of the French Baggage. Further Advices mention the Arrival of M. Segur at Constadt. Prince Charles set out Yesterday to put himself at the Head of the Queen's Army in Bohemia, and proposes to be on the 6th of next Month at Koenigsgratz. The King of Prussia has abandoned Troppaw, Wiedenaw, and Ziegenhals, and was on the Point of doing the like at Jagendorff; so that it is thought he will leave Upper Silesia free, and bring his Men together near the Gorges of the Mountains in Lower Silesia, and post them so as to be able to have them all together in two Marches at the Mouth of any one of the Defiles. The young Elector of Bavaria returned to Munich on the 24th, and his Troops into the open Country. All the Hessian Officers, Prisoners at Neustadt, have Liberty to return Home on their Parole.

Munich, April 30, N. S. Upon the Conclusion of the Treaty betwixt the Queen of Hungary and the Elector our Sovereign, General Bathiani received her Majesty's Orders to march with his Army, without Loss of Time, towards the Rhine, in order to co-operate with the Army under the Command of the Duke of Aremberg, and deliver the Electorate of Mayence and the Seat of Election from the Oppression of the French Troops, which for six Weeks past have kept the Towns of Mayence and Francfort in a Manner blockaded.

Dresden, May 4, N. S. By Letters from Silesia there is Advice, that the King of Prussia had lately narrowly escaped being drowned in crossing a Water on Horseback near Neiss, and had been ill for three Days after that Accident: Also that the Prussians, upon their abandoning the County of Glatz, left a Magazine, supposed not to be very considerable.

Dresden, May 5, N. S. M. Vaugtenon, the new French Minister to this Court, is expected here this Day. On his Arrival M. St. Severin will return home. M. Beese is appointed Great Marshal of the Court of Berlin, in the Room of Baron Gotter, who has resigned, and is to be succeeded here by M. Cagnioni.

Berlin, May 4, N. S. The King of Prussia has given Orders, that the Money lately stopt in the County of Hohenstein, belonging to the Elector of Saxony, should be returned without Delay. Lieutenant Colonel Hacke is named by his Majesty to be Governor of this Capital, in the room of M. de Glasenap, who, upon upon Account of his great Age has desired Leave to resign. Baron Spon set out Yesterday Morning for Augsbourgh.

Mayence, May 4, N. S. According to the Intelligence which we received here this Morning, the Prince of Conti will forthwith remove his Head Quarters from Swolbach to Wisbaden, only one League and a half from this Town, where the French Army will immediately encamp; and from their Dispositions we are inclined to think that they will soon repass the Rhine, and retreat towards their own Frontier. General Trips, with the Vanguard of Count Bathiani's Army, consisting of 4500 Hussars, will arrive in two or three Days in the Country of D'Armstadt, after having overtaken and cut to Pieces Part of the Rear Guard of M. de Segur's Body, in their Retreat from Bavaria to the Neckar. They write from Manheim, that the Elector Palatine has accepted a Neutrality, and that of 6000 of his Troops lately employed as Auxiliaries in the Elector of Bavaria's Service, only 1400 are returned to Manheim, the rest having been either killed or made Prisoners by the Austrian Army.

Hambourg, May 7, N. S. Lord Tyrawley arrived at Lubeck the 4th Instant, and from thence his Excellency set out Yesterday for Ratzburgh.

A Journal of the Proceedings of the Army of the Allies in the Low Countries to the 8th of May 1745.

THE Enemy having assembled a very considerable Body of Troops in Hainault, towards the End of April, and seeming to intend to besiege Mons or St. Guillaïn, his Royal Highness, and the Marshal, and Prince Waldeck, General of the Dutch Troops, resolved to bring together the Army of the Allies, and used such Diligence, that great Part of the Forces it was to be composed of, were assembled on the 27th and 28th, and incamp'd at Anderlech, near Brussels. They march'd from thence the 30th, and incamp'd in order of Battle, for the first Time at Halle, where they continued the 1st of May.

The 2d the Army march'd to Soignies; the Weather was so very wet and windy that it was past Three o'Clock in the Morning before some of the Baggage reach'd the Camp. The bad Weather, and the Fatigue of the March in the Morning, did not however hinder his Royal Highness, accompanied by the Marshal, from taking a View of the Camp, and visiting the grand Guard, in the Position of which they made some Alterations, and posted Infantry on the Right and Left in such Posts as were properly situated, for the greater Safety in that strong Woody Country. The Army was reinforced there by five Battalions and six Squadrons of the Left Wing, drawn from the Garrison of Mons, and by a Battalion of the Prince of Orange from Holland, the Austrian Squadrons of Stirum and Lignes, and by the Hussars and free Companies which formed the Chain during the Winter, for the Security of the Frontier.

The different Motions which the Enemy had been a long Time making, made it impossible to judge what their true Designs were, for after having exacted great Quantities of Provisions and Forage from the Villages of Hainault, they at once quitted that Province, leaving only a Body of 4000 Men, chiefly Horse, at Luese, and march'd towards Tournay, where they have posted these eight Days, in such a Manner, that the Town has been blocked up from that Time, and the Trenches were open'd before it in the Night of the 30th of April.

The 5th the Army march'd to Cambron, and the Body of Reserve, consisting of ten Squadrons, eight Companies of Grenadiers, the Battalions of Highlanders, the Hussars, and two free Companies, under the Command of Lieutenant General Molk and Major General Forgatch, advanced towards Leuse, where a Body of about 4000, chiefly Horse, of the Enemy was posted.

The 6th the Army was under a Necessity to halt at the Camp at Cambron, that the Roads might be examin'd and repair'd, which are very bad, where the Causeway can't be kept. The same Day the Enemy abandoned their Post at Leuse with great Precipitation, and retired to their Army before Tournay.

The 7th the Army advanced to the Camp at Moulbay, having been reinforced between that and Soignies, by the Hanoverian, and two Dutch Battalions, and the three Dutch Squadrons from Aeth.

The 8th the Weather was exceeding Rainy, and the Quarter-Masters not having been able to make their Reports till near One o'Clock in the Afternoon, it was thought proper to put off the March of the Army till next Day, and the Order was given for Six o'Clock the Morning following.

Extract of a Letter from the Head Quarters of the Allies at Breffleur, dated May 10, at Eleven at Night.

TO-morrow Morning at two of the Clock we expect to march to the Enemy, having been employed to-day in taking Post at the Village of Vezon, with 12 Battalions and 24 Squadrons, besides the Corps de Reserve commanded by General Molk, who is to sustain them. This assures us of an Entry into a Plain open Country, where we are to draw up in Order of Battle at Break of Day.

Hague, May 11, N. S. We do not hear that the Army under the Duke of Aremberg is making any Motion. By Letters come in this Day from the Allied Army in Flanders of the 9th Instant, our Expectations of News of some great Event from them are still further heightened, the Allies being then posted from Bougnies to Maubray, with the French Army in Sight, where his most Christian Majesty was said to have arrived the Night before. Letters just arrived from Constantinople of the 3d past, bring Accounts of a terrible Fire that had broke out in the Arsenal there, which, after raging five Days, had consumed all the Magazines and Naval Stores of the Porte to an inestimable Value.

Whiteball,

Whitehall, May 4.

Yesterday Morning between Nine and Ten o'Clock the King left St. James's, crossed the Water in his Barge from Whitehall to Lambeth, and from thence proceeded to Gravesend, where his Majesty arrived about One o'Clock, and immediately embarked on board the Carolina Yacht for Holland.

Whitehall, May 4.

This Morning an Express arrived from the Army in Flanders, under the Command of his Royal Highness the Duke, with the following Account.

Camp at Aeth, May 12, N. S.

Yesterday, about Two o'Clock in the Morning, the whole Army marched from the Camp at Bruffoel, to attack that of the Enemy near Tournay, which was posted between the Chaussée of Aeth and the Schelde. The Infantry was formed in two Lines before the Enemy's Camp by between Three and Four: But as the Horse, who were to support them, had some Defilés to pass, they could not be in Readiness so soon; so that the whole Army did not move to the Attack till about Seven; and in this Interval of Time, the Infantry was exposed to a most furious Cannonade. The Right Wing however advanced with great Resolution, and gained Ground of the Enemy; but being continually gall'd by the Fire of Batteries in the Front, and of Redoubts in the Flanks, and also of a very smart and continual Discharge of Small Arms, they could not maintain the Ground they had got, but were obliged to retire. They rallied twice, but without Effect; so that it was judged necessary, about One o'Clock, that the Army should retreat; and it was done with so good Order and Countenance, that the Enemy did not attempt to give us any Disturbance; and the Army with its Baggage is now encamped near Aeth. We do not know that we have lost any Colours or Standards; but we have taken one Standard. There has been a very considerable Loss as well of Officers as common Soldiers, especially of the Right Wing; and the first Regiment of Guards, in particular, has suffer'd very much. Lieutenant General Sir James Campbell has lost his Leg by a Cannon Shot; Major General Ponsonby is kill'd; the Earl of Ancram and Lord Cathcart, Aides de Camp to his Royal Highness, are wounded; but it is hoped not dangerously. The Fire lasted from Five in the Morning till One in the Afternoon, during which Time His Royal Highness was constantly in the Heat of the Action, encouraging the Men, rallying them when broken, leading them to the Charge, and at the same Time watching every Turn, and making every Disposition that might procure him any Advantage. God be praised, His Royal Highness has not received the least Hurt.

Marshal Königsegg was present, and on Horseback, the whole Action, and gave his Orders with the utmost Intrepidity and Calmness. Nothing can be said with Certainty of the Loss of the Enemy; but it must have been very considerable.
