Naples, May 18, N. S.

ON the 15th sailed from this Port to Palermo, the King's Frigate of War, to bring over hither a large Sum of Money belonging to the publick Revenues. The King and Queen continue at Portici.

Rome, May 22. The Detachment of 2000 Men, that escort the Baggage, Train of Field Artillery, and Invalids of the Spanish and Neapolitan Troops, have made an Halt at Viterbo, in Expectation of fresh Directions from M. de Gages. Transport Vessels are hiring by the Spanish Agents and Consuls along the Roman Coast, to carry Provisions and Necessaries to the Spanish and Neapolitan Troops in the State of Genoa; for which Purpose large Quantities thereof have been purchased by the said Agents.

Florence, May 25. On the 22d the Marquess Silva, the Spanish and Neapolitan Consul at Leghorn, arrived here, to settle with the Regency the Passage through Tuscany of the Invalids, and of the Escort of 2000 Men which M. de Gages left in the Ecclesiastical State, as likewise of some Parties of Troops that were dispersed in the Romagna, to which it is thought some have been sent from Naples, all which are to join the Army of M. de Gages; and the Field Artillery and Ammunition for the said Army are to be embarked at Orbitello. The latest Accounts of the Spanish and Neapolitan Troops under M. de Gages's Command say, that they were arrived at St. Pier d'Arena, in the Neighbourhood of the City of Genoa, the Place of Rendezvous, and waited there to join those of Don Phillip, who were in full March for that Purpose; that they suffered extremely in their March, and are in great Want of Provisions. By the last Letters from Lombardy, Prince Lobcowitz was on his Departure for Germany, leaving the Command of the Army, during his Absence, to General Schulemburg. The Austrian Troops were distributed at Firenzola, and at Borgo St. Donnino, at a small Distance from Parma, for the Conveniency of Forrage.

(Price Two-Pence.)

Stockholm, May 21, O. S. The Princess Royal who is at Droningholm, has lately been very much indisposed, and the general Talk is, that her Royal Highness has had a second Miscarriage. Orders were sent by the last Post to M. Carlson, the Swedish Minister at Constantinople, to return home, and it is said that a Commission will be appointed to examine into his Conduct. The Day before Yesterday the Marquis de Laumary, the French Ambassadour at this Court, caused Te Deum to be sung in his Chapel, and gave a grand Entertainment, on Occasion of the unsuccessful Attack made upon the French Intrenchments before Tournay upon the 11th Instant, N. S. by the Allied Army. Yesterday his Swedish Majesty removed from hence to Carlsberg.

Mentz, June 6, N. S. An Express arrived here this Day with Advice, that the French have abandoned Hoechst and Floersheim upon the Mayn, as well as the Castle of Konigstein. The Bridge which they had at Floersheim is brought down the Mayn, and they are now employed in towing it along the Rhine to be set up again at Rhin-Turkheim. M. de la Farre is marched towards Diepurg. The Orders and Counter-Orders given by the French Generals, their Marches and Counter-Marches render it very difficult to judge of their real Design. Marshal Bathiani is still confined by the Gout at Wurtzburg, but as the Attack is not violent, he hopes to be able to put himself at the Head of his Troops in a few Days. This Moment we have Advice, that the Prince of Conti's Baggage has repassed the Rhine at Oppenheim.

Dresden, June 7, N. S. Last Night the Count de Nostitz, the King's Aid de Camp, arrived here from the Army in Silesia, with an Account, that there had been an Action upon the 4th, at Half an Hour after Two in the Morning, between the Prussians and the Allied Army near Strigau, which had turned out to the Disadvantage of the latter. The Ground upon which the Battle was fought, would not permit the whole of the Allied Army to engage. The Right Wing, which was under the Command of Prince Charles, could not come up to the the Assistance of the Left, against which the King of Prussia turn'd his whole Force, so that this last not being able to stand their Ground, the whole Army successively was obliged to retire into the Defilés on the Side of Reichenau, which was performed in good Order. We had a great many Generals and other Officers, especially of Horse, killed and wounded. The Foot behaved well, but was obliged to give way to the superior Force of the Enemy. The Park of Artillery was not come up. Some of the Field Pieces which the Regiments carried along with them, we were obliged to leave, on account of a Ditch which was in the Road. The greatest Part of the wounded were brought off; and, at the Departure of the Count de Noftitz, the whole Army was got together at Landshut, where they were in such a Position, as not to have any thing to fear from the Enemy, and to be easily supplied with every thing that was necessary out of Bohemia.

Dresden, June 9, N. S. M. Cagnoni, the Prussian Resident, departed from hence this Morning without taking Leave of the Court, having had Orders some time since, as he gave out, to behave in that Manner, when he should be certainly informed that the Saxons were marched into the County of Glatz, or the Dutchy of Silesia. M. Walter, the Saxon Resident at Breslau, has, by the King of Prussia's Orders, been obliged to leave his Residence in eight Hours Warning, and was conducted to Poland, not being permitted to come hither.

Dresden, June 9, N. S. By Letters from Marshal Traun's Army of the 3d Instant from Schrotzberg we have Advice, that they continue their March by Marckelsheim to Bocksborg, intending to arrive there upon the 7th; and that the French had made two or three Bridges over the Neckar near Wimpfen, where their Avant Guard of 4000 Men had passed, but were driven back by the Austrian Hussars, who made two Officers and 40 private Soldiers Prisoners. They therefore took up their Bridges again, and march by Sinheim and Visloch to Ladenberg.

Berlin, June 8, N. S. Upon the 6th of this Month M. Wartenberg, Aid de Camp to the King of Prussia, arrived here from Silesia, preceded by seventeen Postillions, sounding their Horns, with an Account of a Battle which had been fought upon the 4th Instant, at Four o'Clock in the Morning, between the Prussian Army and the Allies, between Freyberg and Strigau. The Relation, as it was this Morning publish'd by Authority, is as follows.

Berlin, June 6, N. S. The Combined Army of Austrians and Saxons, to above the Number of 80,000 Men, having, about the End of last Month, entred into Silesia thro' the narrow Passages on the Side of Schemberg, Friedland and Landshut, began, upon the 2d and 3d Instant, to form on the Side of Bolckenhayn, in the Plains towards Strigau and Jauer, when the King, who had been encamped with his Army at Jauernick on the 2d, quitted that Camp on the 3d, and attack'd the Enemy, whose Right Wing consisted of Austrians, and their Left of Saxons, upon the 4th, at Four o'Clock in the Morning, near Friedberg. The Battle lasted till Eleven o'Clock in the Morning, and the Horse as well as Foot having performed Wonders, we gained the most compleat and signal Victory that has been known for this long Time, having taken 5000 of the Enemy Prisoners, amongst whom are six Generals and 30 other Officers, 66 Pairs of Colours, 10 Standards, eight Pair of Kettle Drums, and 40 Pieces of Cannon. The Austrians and Saxons left above 4000 Men killed and wounded upon the Field of Battle, and we pursued them above a League and half from the Field quite to the Mountains. Our Loss amounts to 1200 killed and wounded. Lieutenant General Count Trousches was killed by a Cannon Ball. The Colonels Massau and Schwerin, and the Lieutenant Colonels Bodenbrouk and Calbouz were dangerously wounded, and Lieutenant Colonel Berticou killed. The King, who commanded the Army, was every where, accompanied by the Princes his Brothers, in the hottest of the Fire. We shall not delay giving a more circumstantial Account of this glorious Day in a very little Time.

Postscript, Berlin, June 8, N. S.

The following are the Names of the General Officers taken Prisoners, killed, wounded, and dead of their Wounds.

The Grand Master of the Austrian Artillery, Baron Berlichingen, Prisoner and dangerously wounded.

The Grand Master of the Austrian Artillery, Thungen, dead of his Wounds.

The Lieutenant Feld Marshal of the Austrians, François St. Ignon, Prisoner and wounded.

Major General Forgatsch of the Austrians, Prisoner.

Major General Schlickling of the Saxons, Prisoner.

We reckon amongst the Enemy's Generals killed,

Major General Hohenhausen of the Austrians.

Major General Bestenbostel of the Saxons, without mentioning Colonels and other Staff Officers.

We have just had a great Number of Officers sent in Prisoners. There are already above 80.

The same Day a Huntsman arrived here with a Confirmation of the above Account. Yesterday Morning Lieutenant Colonel Willick, Aid de Camp, arrived here with a Detail of the Action, which he delivered to the Queen Mother, and afterwards pursued his Journey to the French Army in Flanders.

Upon this Occasion Te Deum was sung here this Morning under a triple Discharge of the Artillery upon the Ramparts. Before this Battle, Orders had been sent to the Reigning Prince of Dessau to repair hither forthwith with all the Troops that had been intended for the Encampment at Magdebourg, but upon the 6th a Courier passed thro' this City with Orders to him to countermand his March.

Hambourg, June 9, N. S. Though many suspicious Symptoms of the Mortality among the Cattle, continue to approach this City, and the Parts adjacent to it, the Magistrates are still in Hopes Hopes that their Herds may escape the Pestilence, by using all possible Methods to prevent the Communication.
