Naples, June 1.

ALL the Vessels which were embargoed, are at last sailed in separate Divisions, without taking any Troops aboard here, and only Provisions and Necessaries for Men and Horse. The News from Reggio continues very favourable, and it is believed that the Sickness in those Parts is at last totally extinct.

Leghorn, June 7. The Convoy that sailed from Naples is, the greatest Part of it, put into the Port of Baya, where they were a few Days ago.

Rome, June 12, N. S. The Body of Neapolitan Troops at Viterbo daily encrease by small Parties from the Kingdom of Naples that join them, and a Motion has lately been observed in them as if they designed to march.

Genoa, June 12, N. S. On the 6th the Duke of Modena made his publick Entry into this City, attended by five Adjutant Generals, and sixty Guards de Corps. The next Morning very early Orders were given by M. de Gages to that Part of the Army, which lay to the Eastward of the City, to begin their March over the Mountains Torrasio, into the Valley of Polcevera, where they advanced their Piquets to Voitaggio, and fixed their Head Quarters at Campo Marone, nine Miles from hence: About 1500 are encamp'd in the Valley; the rest of the Army is quartered in the Houses up and down, and in the Suburbs. A Piquet Guard is placed at about 15 Paces from the out Gate of the City, who stop and examine People that go out and come in. The Officers of the Train, and about 400 Men, are quartered in San Pierre d'Arena, waiting the Arrival of the Artillery. It is said, that their Muster Rolls do not exceed 13,000 Men. The Army under Don Philip is all assembled at Albenga, except two Squadrons of the Guards de Corps and the Horse Grenadiers, who escort the Ammunition, Powder, &c. Letters from St. Remo of the 8th mention, that 5000 French Infantry had already passed by, and five Battalions were still there, and more expected, which were afterwards to be followed by the French Cavalry; but as yet it is uncertain what Number the whole Corps will consist of, and whether they are to act separate, or jointly with the Spaniards under Don Philip, who is to enter the Montserrat by the Way of Finale, after reinforcing M. de Gages with two Regiments of Horse and one of Foot. Two Shebecks with Artillery have got safe to Oniglia, and we have just heard from Calvi, that nine large Neapolitan Vessels laden with Ammunition, &c. were got into that Port. By Letters of the 8th from Prince Lobcowitz's Army, it was to march the next Day from Firen-zuola to pass the River Po, and intended to fix the Head Quarters at Pavia. Letters from Milan of the 10th, mention the Arrival at the Austrian Camp of General Schulemburg, who was to have the Command, pro interim; of that Army, the Prince being recalled to Vienna. Lieutenant General Pallavicini was arrived at Mantua with Money for the Payment of these Troops, which, when join'd by two Regiments that are marching from the Mantuan, will be compleat 30,000 strong. Orders have been given out for raising three Regiments more to compleat this Republick's Army to 30,000 Men.

Turin, June 12, N. S. Prince Lobcowitz has moved his Camp from Firenzuola, and passed the Po at Plaisance, in order to advance towards Pavia, from whence he will repass that River, and march directly to Novi, it is hoped, by the 15th or 16th Instant: And the necessary Orders have likewise been sent to the Body of Troops which the King of Sardinia is to furnish, to be in Readiness to join the Austrian Army under the Command of the Count de la Roque. Several Parties of the Enemy's Miquelets have appeared on the Bochetta; and we have Advice, that M. de Gages's Troops were passing with the utmost Diligence from the Riviera di Levante into the Valley of Polcevera; and that their Train of large Artillery was likewise putting in Readiness to march. Upon this Intelligence, and a Resolution taken by the Republick of Genoa to send a Body of her own Troops about the 15th or 16th Instant to encamp in the Neighbourhood of Novi, the King of Sardinia the Day before Yesterday dispatched his Adjutant General to Prince Lobcowitz, to represent to him the Necessity of hastening his March. Don Philip's Army continues to advance towards the Marquisate of Final; so that we expect every Day to hear of some Engagement. On the other Hand, we have a Detachment of 600 regular Troops, and about 1200 Militia in the Mountains in the County of Nice, under the Command of an experienced Officer, who has Orders to harass the French, who are obliged to pass that Way into the Valley of Oniglia. The Vanguard of the French Troops, commanded by M. de Mirepoix, is reduced to great Extremities for Want of Bread. Count Pallavicini was arrived the 9th at Mantua, and Count Schulemburg about the same Time at Milan.

Florence, June 15, N. S. Upon the 11th Instant, his Majesty's Ship the Rochester brought into the Port of Leghorn five Vessels, and after a stay of some Hours only, put to Sea again; and the next Morning returned with Thirteen more, great and small, some of which belong to the Convoy from Naples, and are laden with Provisions, &c. for the Spanish and Neapolitan Troops in the State of Genoa, but as the Spa-
