

Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Governor, Deputy Governors, High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Armagh, now met together in order to train and exercise the Militia of this County, on Account of an unnatural Rebellion begun and carried on in our Neighbouring Country of North Britain, in Favour of a popish Pretender to your Majesty's Crown, humbly beg Leave to throw ourselves at your Majesty's Feet, with our most solemn Assurances, that we detest and abhor the said Rebellion; and that we will, as far as in us lies, with our Lives and Fortunes, defend and support your Majesty against all Pretenders and Rebels, and other your open and secret Enemies.

We well know, Sir, that we and all your Protestant Subjects of this Kingdom, have no Safety but in the Preservation of your Majesty and your Royal Family upon the Throne: Your Majesty may therefore depend upon our Loyalty and Zeal for your Service, and that our Wishes and Prayers are, that your Majesty may long reign over us, and your Posterity after you, till Time shall be no more.

The following Association of the Corporation, Gentlemen, Clergy and Principal Inhabitants of the City and County of the City of Coventry, which is carrying into Execution by a large Subscription, a considerable Part of which has been applied to the raising Men to serve in his Majesty's Regiments, has been presented to his Majesty by Thomas Archer, Esq; being introduced by his Grace the Duke of St. Albans, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Association his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

October 5, 1745.

AT a Meeting of the Corporation, Gentlemen, Clergy and Principal Inhabitants of the City and County of the City of Coventry, then had at the White Bear in the said City, We whose Names are hereto subscribed, taking into our Consideration the Danger these Kingdoms are in by the Invasion of a popish Pretender, supported by the Crowns of France and Spain, the old and inveterate Enemies of our Country, Religion and Liberties, do voluntarily and cheerfully bind and associate ourselves together, jointly and severally, in the Bond of one firm and loyal Society, hereby promising, to the utmost of our Endeavours, to support his Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and to maintain and defend the Peace of this City and County, our Persons and Properties, against all Attempts whatsoever.

Petersbourg, Oct. 22. The Preparations for the March of the Russian auxiliary Troops to the Assistance of the King of Poland, as Elector of Saxony, go on with the utmost Vigour and Diligence; some of them have already passed the Duna, and all the rest are in Motion, and Orders are given for 60,000 Men to be put in a Condition to act.

Vienna, Nov. 6. M. Franquin, who with about 1200 Men was in a Manner surrounded by the Prussians near Libau in Silesia, has been routed, and his Irregulars entirely dispersed; but the Particulars of his Loss are not yet publicly known; what is certain is, that the immense Plunder that he had got together, has been all retaken from him.

Berlin, Nov. 9. N. S. A Report is spread here that the Corps of Irregular Troops under General Nadafti posted at Friedland in Bohemia, has entered Silesia. M. Berlichingen the Austrian General has obtained Leave from his Prussian Majesty to go to the Bath at Wiesbaden on his Parole, and upon Condition to stay some few Days first at Potzdam, for which last Place he set out Yesterday Morning.

Berlin, Nov. 13, N. S. Wednesday the 10th in the Morning, his Prussian Majesty returned hither from Potzdam, and was followed by the reigning Prince of Anhalt. The Day after the Trophies were brought in; and all the Colours and Standards taken during this Campaign, are now hung up in the Garrison Church. In the Evening his Majesty was at the Rehearsal of an Opera, when a Courier arrived, whose Dispatches probably must have been of great Importance, since Orders were issued immediately after for the March of the Regiments in Garrison here, and accordingly that of Dragoons, Roel, and those of Foot Prince Ferdinand, and Prince Leopold, marched out this Morning, and after To-morrow the Regiment of Wurtemberg is to follow them. They take the Route towards Magdebourg, but different Accounts are given as to what may have occasioned this sudden Resolution. Among several Conjectures on that Head, the most probable seems to be, that Ten Thousand Austrians, under General Grune, have entered the Saxon Voigtland between Hoff and Egra, and are thought to be by this Time not far from Leipzig. The Militia of this Country, which was disbanded not long ago, is re-assembled, and the Citizens are to be under Arms as before. A Garrison Regiment is on its March from Prussia, that
