

surrender their Arms to him immediately. The Escape of the Pretender's Son does not seem as yet to be absolutely certain. He was in the North of the Island of Lewis some Time ago; but failing of a Vessel there to carry him off, he went to Barra at the South End of it; and we have a Report since, that he had missed the two French Ships, and was returned to Moydart. Major General Blakeney is arrived, and is to command the Forces which will be left here. Major General Bland is sent forward with three Battalions to Fort Augustus; for which Place his Royal Highness proposes to begin his March To-morrow, and hopes to be there in two Days. Brigadier Fleming's Battalion will march the same Day to Aberdeen, and Major M'Kenzie through the Hills to Strathbogie, with Lord Loudoun's Battalion, his Lordship being himself employ'd at the Head of the Independent Companies, and Colonel Campbell gone to serve under his Father the Major General, who is at the Head of the Argyllshire Men.

Major Grant, Deputy Governor of Fort George, has been tried by a General Court Martial, for abandoning the same to the Rebels, and has been adjudged to be dismissed from his Majesty's Service, and rendered incapable of ever holding any military Office or Employment under his Majesty.

Inverness, May 23. His Royal Highness is just setting out for Fort Augustus.

Whiteball, May 29.

This Day an Express arrived from Major General Campbell with the following Accounts.

Appin, May 21.

Upon the 13th Instant Alexander M'Donald of Glenco surrendered his Arms, and those of all his People who were at Glenco, to Major General Campbell, submitting himself to his Majesty's Mercy: Appin's People who were at Home, have also followed his Example, and both he and Glenco have given Notice thereof to such of their Men as are absent, ordering them to return to their own Country.

We have Advices from Mingary Castle of the 19th Instant, that the two French Men of War which were some Time ago at Arisaig, had, besides Stores, Ammunition, &c. landed the Sum of 40,000 L. That the Captains of those Ships having, upon Account of the bad Situation of the Pretender's Son's Affairs since the Battle of Culloden, refused to deliver up the said Money, the Rebels, by Threats and Violence, had forced it from them: That Murray the Secretary had taken Possession of it, and had ordered it to be sent to Locharkaig: That the Pretender's Son went off in an open Boat eight Days before the French Ships arrived, and landed in the Isle of Lewis, with Colonel O Sullivan, and Angus M'Donald, Brother to Kenloch Moydart, and only two Servants; and that they proposed to take a Vessel from Lewis to France: That the Person called Duke of Perth embarked on board one of the said French Ships, in so bad a State of Health, that his Life was despaired of: That there had been frequent Meetings of the Chiefs of the Rebels, and a considerable Number of their Followers, near the Braes of Lochabar, who were supposed to have assembled in order to the making of a Distribution of the 40,000 l. above-mentioned.

The following is an Extract of a Letter from Captain Duff, of the Terror Bomb, dated off Coll, May 19.

The Day after our Engagement with the two French Men of War off Loch Nouay, the Raven Sloop joined us, and having, in the best Manner we could, repaired the Damage done us in our Masts and Rigging, upon the 6th, at Four in the Morning, we sailed from Arras. About Noon we were in Loch Nouay, but not finding the French Ships there, we proceeded to Cannay, to endeavour to get Intelligence of them: At Cannay we were informed that they passed by that Island upon the 4th in the Afternoon, steering towards Barra; thereupon we proceeded towards that Place, and searched the Harbours on that Coast, but not finding them there, we went out to Stornway. Upon the 13th Instant near Cape Wriath we were joined by the Scarborough and Glasgow Men of War, each of 20 Guns, and the Tryal and Happy Jennet Sloops. Having Intelligence of a French Sloop of eight Guns being upon that Coast, I was ordered to search the Lochs on the Main from Loch Brim to Ardnamurchan, which I have accordingly done, but can get no other Accounts of her, than that such a Vessel was seen off the Mouth of Loch Brim on the 9th. Upon the 17th Instant I joined the Furnace off Glenaly. Yesterday we went into Loch Nouay, and sent a Party of Men on Shore to search for Arms and Ammunition landed from the French Men of War. We found 20 Barrels of Powder, and about 80 Musquets, which we brought off. Captain Fergusson of the Furnace, has seized 800 Stands of Arms at M'Donald of Barraisdale's House in the Isle of Rasay.
