

The following Address of the Governor and Upper House of the Assembly of the Province of Maryland, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Baltimore, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl Cowper, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Governor and the Upper House of Assembly of your Majesty's Province of Maryland.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Governor and the Upper House of Assembly of your Majesty's Province of Maryland, in Assembly convened, being truly sensible of those many Blessings we enjoy, in the Security of all that is dear to us, under the Protection of your Majesty, cannot but be justly alarmed with that unnatural Insurrection in Favour of a Popish Pretender to your Majesty's Crown.

Rebellion and Civil War are so horrible in themselves, that every Well-wisher to his Country must detest the Authors and Supporters; but when they are set on Foot, and carried on in a Protestant Nation, govern'd by a King acting in a strict Conformity with the Laws made for the Preservation of its Liberties, in order to fill the Throne with a Person educated in the Bigotry and Superstition of the Romish Church, and thoroughly instructed in the slavish Maxims and Arts of the Courts of France and Spain, every Man must be amazed at the Madness, and every Protestant Subject fired with the strongest Resentment at the Baseness and Ingratitude of such Attempts, since a just and good King has an undoubted Right to the Returns of a most grateful Loyalty, Duty, and Affection, and that it is impossible our Religion should be maintain'd by the Councils of Jesuits, or our Liberties secured by the Friendship and arbitrary Politicks of France or Spain.

These, Most Gracious Sovereign, are our sincere Principles, and although our Distance may prevent the Effects of our Loyalty and Affection, in the immediate Defence of your Majesty's sacred Person; yet we are resolved (agreeable to our Association for that Purpose) not to be backward in any Instance, where we may be called upon, or expected to demonstrate to, the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, what we owe to ourselves, our Country, and the best of Kings, in the Maintenance and Support of your Majesty's Authority, and consequently of our own Religion and Liberties.

Naples, July 5. The King has consented to the Representations of the Deputation of the Health, for dismissing the Troops which formed the Lines in Calabria, since, for these fifteen Months past, no Signs of epidemical Sickness has been discover'd in these Parts.

Florence, July 12. We hear from Lombardy, that a Body of 5000 Men, commanded by M. Mirepoix, who were to attempt to surprize Pavia, had been repulsed three Times by the Sardinian Troops, with the Loss of about 2500 Men; and were obliged to leave most of their Ladders, and many Boats for the Use of a Bridge, which they had brought in Waggons. The French and Spanish Army have since posted themselves at Codogno, extending with a large Detachment to Lodi, in order to receive from that Part of the Country, such Supply of Necessaries as they are able to get. They have fortified themselves both at Codogno and Lodi, and keep their Bridge of Communication over the Po, to succour the Garrison of Placentia. The Infant and the Duke of Modena are at Lodi. Their Army suffers extremely for Want of Necessaries, and the Desertion amongst their Troops is considerable. The Austrians by their Batteries have greatly damaged the Buildings of Placentia, and killed many of the Inhabitants, who are put to the utmost Distress for Want of Subsistence; and it is reported that there are in that City upwards of 10,000 sick.

Whitehall, July 26.

Yesterday about One o'Clock in the Afternoon, his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland arrived at the Palace of Kensington from the North, and immediately waited on his Majesty.
