Articles of Capitulation were signed on the 7th Instant, N. S. by Marshal Saxe and General d'Aylva, Governour of Maestricht, for the giving up of the Town upon honourable Conditions: In Consequence of which, the Garrison was to march out of the Town on the 10th Instant, N. S. with Military Honours. And the 11th Instant, N. S. was the Day named for the Cessation of Hostilities in the Low Countries.

Admiralty Office, May 1.

Letters received this Day from Rear Admiral Knowles, dated in Port Louis Harbour the 13th of March last, bring the following Advices, viz.

That the Admiral, accompanied by Governour Trelawney, sail'd from Port Royal Harbour in Jamaica, on the 13th of February, with eight Ships of War of the Line, strengthened with a Detachment of 240 Men of Governour Trelawney's Regiment, in order to attack St. Jago de Cuba, but finding the Winds to continue Northerly, so as to prevent the Ships approaching that Coast, it was agreed to make an Attempt upon Port Louis, on the South Side of Hispaniola; the Admiral thereupon made a Disposition of his Ships for that Purpose, and began the Attack the 8th of March, about One o'Clock, within almost Pistol-shot of the Walls, and after a warm Cannonading for about three Hours, the Admiral finding the Enemy were drove from their Guns, and silenced, he sent a Summons on Shore to the Governour to surrender; who soon sent an Officer off with Propositions, which the Admiral rejected, and sent back the Officer with a Copy of Articles, which he would allow, and gave the Governour but an Hour to determine on them, within which Time they were accepted, and are as follow, viz.

That the Governour surrender instantly the Fort up to the Admiral, and no Military Officer or Soldier in it serve against his Britannick Majesty or his Allies for the Space of one Year, and one Day from the Date hereof.

That on those Conditions the Admiral consents that the Garrison march out with their Arms, Colours flying, and Drums beating; (but no Cannon or Mortars, or any Ammunition whatsoever.)

That all the Officers shall be allowed to carry such Baggage as upon Honour is their own; but subject to be inspected if demanded; and that all Negroes and Mulattoes, that are absolutely their Servants or Property, the Admiral will compliment them with; but all other Negroes and Mulattoes, that are in the Fort, shall be delivered up as Right of Capture, together with the Fort, and all the Cannon, Munitions, and Appurtenances thereunto belonging.

Upon

Upon these Conditions the Admiral agrees that this Evening the Garrison may march out as before-mentioned; at the same Time the Keys of the Castle shall be delivered up to the Officers whom he sends to take Possession, and the Troops of his Britannick Majesty shall march in as the others march out.

That for what Lenity the Admiral is disposed to shew the Town and Inhabitants, the Conditions shall be settled between Governour Chateauvoyé and him To-morrow. Dated on board his Britannick Majesty's Ship Canterbury in Port Louis, this 8th Day of March, 1747-8.

In Consequence of which, Major Scott, of General Fuller's Regiment, (who had been desired by the Admiral and Governour Trelawney to command the Detachment of the Governour's Regiment, and the Marines) was sent on Shore to take Possession of the Fort in his Majesty's Name, and the Troops were landed directly.

There were 78 Guns mounted in the Fort, mostly 42, 36, and 28 Pounders, and five Mortars, with great Quantities of all Kinds of Ammunition and Stores, most of the Guns and Carriages new, and many of the Guns weighed from 69 to 84 Hundred Weight, and every Thing in very good Order in the Forts.

The Admiral found three Ships, a Snow, and three Privateer Sloops in the Harbour, which he took Possession of.

M. Chateauvoyé, the General, arrived in Town the Night before the Attack, with a Reinforcement of three Companies of Soldiers, so that he had the Mortification to see the Fort taken.

During the Attack the Enemy set Fire to a Ship, and endeavoured to drop her on board the Admiral, or the Elizabeth, but Boats were sent off which towed her clear, and took Possession of two more designed for the same Purpose, though the Enemy's Musquetry played very smartly on the Boats all the Time; and though the Fire from the Fort was as brisk as it could possibly be, yet our Loss in the whole Action was only 19 Men killed, and 60 wounded; but among the Slain was Captain Rentone of the Stafford, and Captain Cust (who went a Volunteer in the Expedition) both much lamented. The Enemy acknowledge to have had 160 Men killed and wounded, (four of whom are Captains) and they say that 128 were killed outright.

The Admiral was making what Dispatch he could in blowing up the Fort, and then intended to proceed to put in Execution his first Design against St. Jago.
